Calcutta Gazette of the 11th May 1921, are published for general information :—

In paragraph 10 of the resolution defining the constitution of the Board, the inclusion of Rai Lalit Mohan Chatterji Bahadur (No. 1) as a representative of the Dacca University is a misprint

Mrs. Raj Kumari Das, Principal, Eden High School (No. 14), is not a representative of the non-Muhammadan community of Dacca, but is a representative of the High English Schools in Dacca.

The last two lines of paragraph 10 of the Resolution should be read as follows :—

"The Chairman who is a member of the Board and the Secretary will be whole-time salaried officers. All the members are honorary. The Secretary is not a member of the Board."

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India.

The following resolution, issued by the Government of India in the Home Department, published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India, dated the 21st May 1921, is republished for general information.

J. DONALD,
to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

No. 1137.

RESOLUTION.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Simla, the 16th May 1921.

IN connection with the recommendation made by the Public Services Commission in the concluding sentence of paragraph 44 of Annexure X to their Report, the Government of India have had under consideration the question of pensions to be granted to Barristers, Vakils and Advocates of High Courts, and Pleaders of Chief Courts who, under the orders announced in paragraph 11 of the Home Department Resolution No. 2559, dated the 1st December 1920, may be directly appointed to judicial posts ordinarily held by members of the Indian Civil Service. With the approval of the Secretary of State, they are now pleased to direct that the pensions of these officers shall be regulated under articles 465-A, 474, 474-A, and 475-A of the Civil Service Regulations. In the case of superannuation pensions, officers with not less than ten years' actual qualifying service will also be allowed as a special case the concession of adding to their qualifying service the actual period not exceeding ten years by which their age at recruitment exceeds 25 years. This concession will in almost every case enable officers recruited at the age of 35 years to earn a full pension, and those recruited at the age of 40 to earn the 25 years' pension by the time they reach the ordinary age of superannuation, and the maximum pension if they are allowed to serve until they are 60 years of age. The ordinary rules which will apply to other forms of pension coupled with the special concession mentioned above for superannuation pensions will, the Government of India hope, be sufficiently attractive, specially as these officers will invariably be able to obtain, in the case of invalid and superannuation pensions, benefits from the additional pensions admissible under article 475-A of the Civil Service Regulations.

The necessary additions and corrections to the Civil Service Regulations will be issued in due course.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and to the Finance Department for information and the issue of necessary additions and corrections to the Civil Service Regulations.

Ordered also that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information.

Such certificates should, ordinarily, only be issued to individuals who are either personally known to the practitioner or of whose identity he has satisfied himself.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 25th May 1921.

Summary.—Excepting Burdwan Division light to moderate rain fell almost throughout the province. The fall was, however, heavy in parts of Jalpaiguri district and in Cooch Behar. Drought has retarded field operations and has affected the prospects of standing crops in the Western districts; elsewhere the prospects are generally reported to be fair. Weeding of jute and paddy is progressing in East and North Bengal. Scarcity of water is felt in most districts of Western Bengal. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·90 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

ELECTION CASE NO. 1 OF 1921.

Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury ... Petitioner

Surendra Nath Roy ... Respondent.
For the petitioner ... Mr. S. K. Sen, Bar.-at-law.
For the respondent ... Sir Ashutosh Chowdhury and Mr. M. Zorab, Bars.-at-law.

Report under sections 43 and 44 of the Bengal Electoral Rules.

Origin of the case and appointment of a tribunal to try it.—Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury and Babu Surendra Nath Roy were the rival candidates for election to the Bengal Legislative Council from the 24-Parganas Municipal South (non-Muhammadan) constituency. This constituency was divided by the returning officer into a number of polling areas, and one of these areas was the Municipality of Behala. Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury secured 1,267 votes more than his rival candidate in the whole area of the constituency excluding the Municipality of Behala. But in Behala Municipality Babu Surendra Nath Roy secured as many as 1,629 votes against 93 for Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury and thereby obtained 269 votes more than Rai Yatindra Nath for the whole constituency. Babu Surendra Nath Roy was accordingly declared to have been duly elected as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council from the 24-Parganas Municipal South (non-Muhammadan) constituency. This election of Babu Surendra Nath Roy was called in question by Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury, and Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury accordingly presented a petition to His Excellency the Governor under section 30 of the Bengal Electoral Rules, and His Excellency the Governor appointed us under section 54 (2) (a) of the said rules by Government notifications Nos. 375 A.R. and 1265 A., dated the 18th January 1921 and 23rd February 1921, respectively, for enquiring into this petition of Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury.

Case of the petitioner.—The petitioner, Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury, has made a very large number of allegations in his petition. But the grounds on which the election of Babu Surendra Nath Roy has been sought to be set aside, when stripped of the details and particulars, are—

(1) that there were "corrupt practices" committed by the agents of Babu Surendra Nath Roy as also by some other men on his behalf in the shape of "undue influence" and "personation" and

(2) that there was non-compliance with some of the Bengal Electoral Rules and Bengal Electoral Regulations specially of section 12 (4) of the former and articles XXII, XXVIII and XXIX of the latter, and that the result of the election has been materially affected by such non-compliance.

Case of the respondent.—Babu Surendra Nath Roy filed a long written statement, in which he has traversed all the allegations made in the petition filed by the petitioner. In his written statement the respondent denied practically all the allegations made in the petition for the purpose of setting aside the election, and in addition the respondent raised the plea that we have got no powers to entertain the petition.

Issues framed in the case.—On the pleadings made by the petitioner and the respondent the following issues were framed by us:—

(1) Has this tribunal jurisdiction to entertain the petition?

(2) Has the election of Babu Surendra Nath Roy been procured or induced and the result of the election been materially affected by corrupt practices, viz., undue influence and personation as specifically alleged in the petition?

(3) Have Babu Surendra Nath Roy or his agents committed any "undue influence" or "personation" (as specified in Part I, Schedule IV of the Bengal Electoral Rules) as specifically alleged in the petition?

(4) Has there been any non-compliance with the provision of section 12 (4) of the Bengal Electoral Rules and Bengal Electoral Regulations Nos. XXII, XXVIII and XXIX as specifically alleged in the petition?

(5) If there has been any such non-compliance has the result of the election been materially affected thereby? and

(6) Has there been any improper rejection of votes at the Behala Vernacular School polling station?

Decision—Issue No. 1.—This issue has not in our opinion got anything in it beyond a little academic interest, and the conduct of the respondent, at whose instance this issue was raised, in the course of the trial, would show that the respondent also did not really mean to urge it seriously. Not an iota of evidence was adduced before us on this issue and no mention even was made of it in the arguments that were advanced before us. All that we need say on this issue is that we have no power to try it. Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury presented a petition to His Excellency the Governor and it was after such presentation that we were appointed Commissioners to enquire into it. In these circumstances it cannot, in our opinion, be reasonably contended for a moment that we have no powers or jurisdiction to entertain the petition on the ground that the presentation was in any way defective. The first issue is therefore decided in favour of the petitioner and against the respondent.

Issues Nos. 2 and 3.—These two issues, involving as both of them do the question of corrupt practices, may in our opinion be conveniently tried together. According to the petitioner's case there was corrupt practice inasmuch as there was undue influence and also personation—undue influence as there was threat of injury, and personation as a man who was the son of one Nepali Kurmi was detected by the presiding officer when trying to record his vote as Nepali. We propose to deal with the alleged undue influence and personation separately.

As we have stated before, according to the petitioner there was undue influence inasmuch as there was threat of injury given to several voters by a number of men on behalf of Surendra Nath Roy. To establish this part of his case the petitioner has examined about 10 or 11 men altogether. The first one of these witnesses is Priya Nath Chatterji. According to this witness one Dhiren Banerji, a tax collector of the Behala Municipality of which Babu Surendra Nath Roy is the Chairman, threatened him (Priya Nath) that if Priya Nath would not vote for Surendra Nath Roy his privy service would be stopped for ever. But Priya Nath in his cross-examination had to admit that this threat was given to him by Dhiren in the beginning of December last, when Dhiren went to collect municipal tax from him for the quarters October to December 1920 and January to March 1921. If the story of the witness is to be believed Dhiren Banerji went to him to demand some tax at a time when the tax had not become even due—a story which we are unable to place much reliance upon. The second witness whom the petitioner examined on the question of threat of injury was one Mohendra Jana. According to this witness the municipal tax collector had come to him and told him that if he would vote for Surendra Nath Roy his tax would be reduced. But this story as given by Mohendra Jana does not seem to be very consistent with that as given by the next witness on the point, viz, Hari Charan Laskar. According to Hari Charan Laskar, Dhiren Banerji did not ask him whom he would vote for and could not tell him (Hari Charan Laskar) if the voting would have any connection whatsoever with the increase or decrease of taxation. Hari Charan Laskar in his examination said that although he had intended to vote for Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury, he as a matter of fact voted for Surendra Nath Roy as he heard one Kristadhan saying in a loud voice "keep a note who votes for whom." But Hari Charan had to admit that there were a number of persons present at the time when Kristadhan was making this observation. No one of these men who were present at the time according to Hari Charan Laskar was however examined before us in this trial. Hari Charan had to admit also in cross-examination that althoug the observation made by Kristadhan made him change his mind as to whom he should vote for he did not take the trouble of asking any one why that observation was made by Kristadhan. Bhudhar Matilal is the next witness who was examined by the petitioner on the question of threat of injury. The story which Bhudhar gave before us was that one Jiban Hari Banerji, another municipal tax collector, said to him that those of the voters who would vote for Surendra Nath Roy would have their tax reduced, while those who would vote against him would have their tax enhanced. But Bhudhar Matilal in his cross-examination had to admit that he had some time before unsuccessfully tried to be a Municipal Commissioner of the Behala Municipality, and he admitted also after a good deal of prevarication that he had been one of the signatories in a petition against Babu Surendra Nath Roy. The next witness who was examined by the petitioner on the question of threat was one Santosh Kumar Nath. Santosh did not in his examination depose to any direct threat of injury given to him, but he tried to prove that one Sidhi Nath Chatterji, the Vice-Chairman of the Behala Municipality, had asked one Sarat Nath to vote for Surendra Nath Roy, telling him that Sidhi had the powers to enhance or reduce the municipal rates. But as regards the testimony of this witness, Santosh Kumar Nath, we should observe that Sarat who is admitted to be available has not been examined before us and that it was known to the witness that the assessment of municipal taxes in the Behala Municipality is made neither by the Chairman nor the Vice-Chairman but by an Assessor appointed by Government. Moni Lal Mukherji was the next witness examined by the petitioner. According to Moni Lal he found the Municipal Commissioner Babu Kristadhan Mukherji who was present at the Behala Vernacular School, one of the polling stations, ordering a thin young man who was present there at the time to note the faces of the voters who were brought in by the witness, and that Hari Charan Laskar was one of the voters whom the witness was bringing into the polling booth. But Moni Lal admitted in cross-examination that he was one of the workers of the petitioner Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury. The next two witnesses examined by the petitioner were Khetra Mohan Karmokar and Anukul Chandra Hajra, who deposed before us that Jugal Krisna Mandal and Kumud Krisna Mandal, two zamindars of Budge-Budge, who were canvassing for Surendra Nath Roy, asked the witnesses to vote for Surendra Babu, telling them at the same time that if they would not do so they would be put to troubles. Of these two witnesses Khetra Mohan Karmokar admitted in cross-examination that he was an impecunious man and that he was heavily indebted. In his cross-examination he mentioned the names of the persons who according to him were present at the time when Jugal and Kumud gave him the threat. But none of these persons were brought before us to depose on the point and to corroborate the testimony of Khetra Mohan Karmokar. The next witness on the point was one Sambhu Chandra Mandal. According to this witness a zamindar Sailen Sarkar asked him to vote for Surendra Nath Roy, threatening him that in case he would not do so he would be put to difficulties. But Sambhu in his cross-examination admitted that this threat was given to him in the presence of a number of people who have not been examined in the case and that he did not speak to any one about this treat except to one Basanta Pandit some time after the alleged occurrence. The next witness examined on the point is one Hari Pado Mitra. According to Hari Pado one Jugal Krisna Banerji threatened him that if he would not vote for Surendra Nath Roy he (Hari) would be put to difficulties. But the witness admitted that he had no property within the Behala Municipality where the respondent is alleged to be the all-powerful Chairman. Hari Pado moreover could not describe the threat given to him except in a vague and indefinite way. But in the petition filed in the case it was distinctly stated that the threat given to Hari Pado was that his rates would be enhanced. The last witness on the point was one Nanda Kumar Bose. According to Nanda Kumar tax-collector Benode B. Halder threatened one Bepin Banerji with the issue of a distress warrant in case he would not vote for Surendra Babu. But Bepin Behari, the man to whom the threat was alleged to have been given, has not been examined before us.

This is all the evidence which the petitioner has adduced before us to substantiate his story that there was threat of injury to the voters and consequently undue influence as defined in section 2, Schedule IV, Part I of the Bengal Electoral Rules. Having regard to the nature of the evidence as described above we have no hesitation in holding that the evidence is extremely meagre and unsatisfactory and cannot be said to have established the petitioner's story of threat of injury. We have, when discussing the evidence of each of the witnesses individually, given our reasons why their testimony cannot be accepted as reliable. But there are some general reasons also for which we are unable to accept the story which they ask us to believe. According to the petitioner's case Surendra Nath Roy by his agents and other persons interested on his behalf put threats of injury to some voters and thereby secured a number of votes. If Surendra Nath Roy had really an intention of that nature the voters he would naturally approach would be men who were neither on his side nor inimically disposed towards him, but persons who would be more or less neutral. But in the present case all the men of the Behala Municipality who were produced before us to give evidence on the point had, as we have shown before, some sort of dispute or enmity with Surendra Nath Roy. Our finding therefore is that the petitioner has failed to substantiate his story of undue influence.

As stated before there was, according to the petitioner, corrupt practice inasmuch as there was "personation." The petitioner's story about personation is that at the Behala Municipal Office, which was one of the polling stations, a man appeared and wanted to record his vote representing himself to be Nepali Kurmi, although he was not Nepali Kurmi himself but his son. According to the petitioner this man had been passed by the respondent's agent as Nepali Kurmi, and if the man was not allowed to record his vote it was only because the presiding officer detected the mistake and disallowed him. On this point, viz., "personation," the evidence, in our opinion, is almost nil. It is true that a man who was not Nepali Kurmi attempted to record his vote as Nepali. But there is nothing before us which would justify us in holding that the agent of Surendra Nath Roy had anything to do with it more than the agent of the petitioner. If the evidence of the presiding officer Babu Sasi Bhusan Bhattacharji is believed—and we have no reason why it should not be believed—all that took place at the time was that when the man representing himself to be Nepali Kurmi came up the agents of both the candidates remained silent. In these circumstances we do not think it can be held that there was any procuring or abetting or attempting to procure on the part of the respondent or of his agent or of any other person with the connivance of the respondent or his agent. And if there was no such procuring, abetting or attempting to procure the charge of personation as defined in section 3, Part I, Schedule IV of the Bengal Electoral Rules could not possibly stand. That there was personation as defined in section 2, Part II, Schedule IV of the Bengal Electoral Rules can admit of no doubt. The evidence of more than one witness including the presiding officer Babu Sasi Bhusan Bhattacharji himself clearly shows that Nepali Kurmi's son did apply for a voting paper and wanted to vote for his father Nepali.

But this personation, as defined in section 2, Part II, Schedule IV of the Bengal Electoral Rules, will not be of any avail to the petitioner unless it can be shown that the election of the returned candidate has been procured or induced by that personation or the result of the election has been materially affected thereby. In the present case, although there was such personation in that Nepali Kurmi's son wanted to vote for Nepali, it cannot for a moment be contended that this attempt on the part of Nepali Kurmi's son affected the election in any way whatsoever. As we have stated before the presiding officer detected the mistake and Nepali Kurmi's son was not allowed to record any vote—a fact which is admitted also by the petitioner in the concluding portion of paragraph 16 (l) of his petition. Our findings, therefore, are that there was no corrupt practice committed as specified in Part I of Schedule IV of the Bengal Electoral Rules, and although there was personation as defined in Part II of the said schedule the election of the returning candidate was not in any way affected thereby. Issues Nos. 2 and 3 are, therefore, decided in favour of the respondent and against the petitioner.

Issue No. 6.—The point that was raised in this issue was that there was an improper rejection of votes at the Behala Vernacular School, one of the polling stations within the Behala Municipality. No serious attempt, however, was made by the petitioner to establish this point. One Bagala Charan Mukherji, P. W. 17, gave some evidence to show that some 15 or 20 voters were turned out by Surendra Nath Roy and were therefore not allowed to vote, but according to Bagala Charan this incident happened not at the Behala Vernacular School polling station but at the polling station at the Borisa Charitable Dispensary. Babu Hari Mohan Chatterji, the election agent of the petitioner at the Borisa Charitable Dispensary, however, says that he did not notice any irregularity of any kind at this particular polling station. Hon'ble S. K. Sinha, the presiding officer at the Behala Vernacular School polling station, has emphatically denied that there was any objection taken before him by any one that any voter had been prevented from coming into the polling booth or had not been allowed to record his vote. We, therefore, hold that it has not been established before us that there was an improper rejection of votes at the Behala Vernacular School polling station, and issue No. 6 is accordingly decided against the petitioner.

Issue No. 4.—Before we proceed to discuss this issue we think that it will be better if we would describe here a little the arrangements that were made for recording votes in the Behala Municipality. The Behala Municipal area was divided into six polling stations and these six polling stations were—the Behala Vernacular School, the Behala Brahmo Samaj, the Behala Municipal Office, the Borisa High School, the Borisa Charitable Dispensary and Behala Kamarghat. There were three presiding officers appointed for these six polling stations, and Hon'ble S. K. Sinha, Assistant Magistrate of Alipore, was put in charge of the polling stations at the Behala Vernacular School and Borisa High School, while the polling stations at the Brahma Samaj and Behala Kamarghat were put in charge of Deputy Collector Babu Debendra Nath Bose, and the remaining two polling stations, viz., Behala Municipal Office and Borisa Charitable Dispensary were put in charge of another Deputy Collector Babu Sashi Bhushan Bhattacharji. According to the petitioner's case at all these polling stations with the exceptions of those presided over by Babu Sashi Bhusan Bhattacharji there was no secrecy of voting observed, that the illiterate voters were asked in loud voice whom they wanted to vote for, that these illiterate voters replied in equally loud voice, that the marking of the ballot papers was in the majority of cases done in such a way that it could be seen by other people, and that at the polling stations presided over by Hon'ble S. K. Sinha the voters in almost in all cases, literate or illiterate, were asked by the polling officer whom they wanted to vote for, that the polling officer himself put the cross-mark on the ballot papers and after folding up the ballot papers put them himself into the ballot box. The petitioner also stated that at the Behala Brahmo Samaj polling station presided over by Babu Debendra Nath Bose, there was present in the inner enclosure one Sidhi Nath Chatterji, the Vice-Chairman of the Behala Municipality, and one Kristadhan Mukherji, a Commissioner of the same Municipality, was present in the inner enclosure of the Behala Vernacular School polling station which was presided over by the Hon'ble S. K. Sinha. According to the petitioner's case these persons, Sidhi Nath Chatterji and Kristadhan Mukherji, had no business to be present inside the polling booth, and the presiding officers by allowing them to remain there acted in contravention of the provision as laid down in article XXII of the Bengal Electoral Regulations. That there were some irregularities committed at the polling stations presided over by Babu Debendra Nath Bose and the Hon'ble S. K. Sinha can admit of no doubt. Deben Babu has admitted that the marking of the ballot paper was done in such a way that it could be seen by other people if they wanted to see, and the Hon'ble S. K. Sinha was frank enough to admit that in almost all cases without any discrimination as to whether they were literate or illiterate he asked the voters whom they wanted to vote for and when the voters gave out the name of the candidate they wanted to vote for, the polling officer himself marked the ballot papers and did all the rest, viz., folding up the ballot papers and putting them into the ballot box himself. As regards the presence of Babu Sidhi Nath Chatterji at the Behala Brahmo Samaj polling station and of Babu Krishtadhan Mukherji at the polling station at the Behala Vernacular School, we are inclined to think that the petitioner has succeeded in establishing this part of his case. Deben Babu himself has admitted the presence of Sidhi Nath at the Behala Brahmo Samaj, and Kristadhan Mukherji's presence at the other polling station has been satisfactorily established by more than one witness examined before us. These two men Sidhi Nath and Kristadhan were neither candidates nor clerks nor agents appointed in writing by either the petitioner or the respondent. Debendra Babu, the presiding officer at the Behala Brahmo Samaj, has taken upon himself the responsibility for allowing Sidhi Nath to remain at the polling booth by saying that he allowed him to stay there for the purpose of identifying the voters. If Debendra Babu allowed Sidhi Nath to remain inside the polling station for the purpose of identifying voters—a power which the presiding officer could legitimately exercise under the provisions of the article XXII of the Bengal Electoral Regulations—we do not think the presence of Sidhi Nath Chatterji was in contravention of any of the rules or regulations. But no such thing can be said in the case of Kristadhan Mukherji. As we have said above his presence at the Behala Vernacular School has been established beyond doubt, and the presiding officer at that polling station could not say that he had allowed the man to remain there for any legitimate purpose. The findings that we arrive at on issue No. 4 therefore are—

(1) The provisions of section 12 (4) of the Bengal Electoral Rules were not strictly complied with inasmuch as no strict secrecy of voting was observed and there was a certain amount of openness in the recording of votes at the polling stations presided over by the Hon'ble S. K. Sinha and Babu Debendra Nath Bose.

(2) Some of the provisions of article XXII of the Bengal Electoral Regulations were violated at the Behala Vernacular School polling station inasmuch as one Kristadhan Mukherji, a Commissioner of the Behala Municipality was allowed to stay in the inner enclosure of the polling station where he had no authority to remain.

(3) The provisions of articles XXVIII and XXIX of the Bengal Electoral Regulations were contravened at the polling station presided over by the Hon'ble S. K. Sinha inasmuch as the polling officer himself put the cross mark on the ballot paper for almost all the voters irrespective of the fact whether they were literate or illiterate and the polling officer himself folded up the ballot papers and himself put them into the ballot box.

Issue No. 4 is therefore decided substantially in favour of the petitioner.

Issue No. 5.—But the non-compliance with the provisions of sections 12 (4) of the Bengal Electoral Rules and of articles XXII, XXVIII and XXIX of the Bengal Electoral Regulations will not be of much avail to the petitioner unless it can be shown that the result of the election has been materially affected by such non-compliance. The petitioner has tried in two ways to show that the non-compliance with the provisions of the rules and regulations has materially affected the result of the election, and we propose now to discuss these two ways one after another. According to Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury there were some 200 or 300 voters within the Behala Municipality who promised to vote for him on condition that the voting would be secret. And the contention on behalf of the petitioner has been that inasmuch as the voting was not secret but open most of those voters who had promised to vote for him on that condition did not dare to vote for the petitioner and all those votes were consequently lost to him. There is a considerable amount of force in this argument so far as it goes but there are practically no materials before us which would justify us in holding that if the petitioner secured only 93 votes in the Behala polling area that was for no other reason than that there was a certain amount of openness in voting. The petitioner Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury is the principal witness on this part of the petitioner's case and we were much impressed by the way in which the petitioner gave his evidence in Court. But the evidence of Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury when taken at its full value does not carry us very far in determining the question whether the want of strict secrecy in voting had much to do with the poor support which the petitioner got from the voters within the Behala Municipality. Rai Yatindra Nath in the evidence that he gave before us stated that after the votes had been counted by the returning officer he (the petitioner) met some of the men who had promised to vote for him and asked them why they had not voted in his favour. But with the exception of one or two who do not prove much these men were not produced before us to give their evidence on the point. Rai Yatindra Nath told us that he had made some attempts to produce these men in Court. But the only attempt which he appears to have made was to have given directions to his officers and principally to his manager Nitai Chandra Bhaduri to go to the men and ask them to come and depose in his favour. But it is a significant fact that this manager Nitai Chandra Bhaduri was not examined before us. We are therefore unable to hold that the non-production of any of these men, who, according to Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury, had promised to vote for him on condition that the voting would be secret, in the witness box before us, has been sufficiently explained. And in the absence of the evidence of any of these men we are unable to connect the want of secrecy of voting at the polling stations and the poor support which the petitioner obtained from the voters of the Behala Municipal area as cause and effect. There was a certain interval between the time when the petitioner obtained the conditional promise from those voters and the date of actual voting, and as undoubtedly the canvassers and supporters of Surendra Nath Roy were also at work during this interval it was not at all improbable that they succeeded in making those voters change their mind again. The first way, therefore, in which the petitioner wanted to show that the non-compliance with the rules and regulations materially affected the result of the election, in our judgment, fails.

There was another way in which it was sought to be established that the result of the election had been materially affected by the non-compliance with the rules and regulations. It was urged that the votes which were recorded at the polling stations presided over by the Hon'ble S. K. Sinha, should not have been counted at all inasmuch as there had admittedly been violation of some of the rules and regulations at those two polling stations, and that if the votes that were recorded at those two polling stations go, the small majority of 269 votes by which Babu Surendra Nath Ray was found to have been elected would altogether disappear. The number of votes that were recorded at these two polling stations was considerably more than 269. But the question for our consideration is whether we can regard those votes as nullity. Article XXX of the Bengal Electoral Regulations is the only enactment under which votes can be rejected as invalid. But there is nothing in this article which lays down that votes are to be held as invalid where secrecy has not been strictly observed; and none of the irregularities which admittedly took place at these two polling stations are to be found anywhere in this article XXX. It was contended before us on behalf of the petitioner that on the question of rejecting votes as invalid we are not to confine ourselves within the provisions made in this article. But this is a contention which we are unable to accept. When the rules and regulations give full instructions on each conceivable point that may arise in the course of an election, and when they give detailed instructions on every step that is to be followed in the whole procedure, we do not think that it was the intention of the Legislature that we, while sitting as the Commissioners of an Election Court, should go beyond those specific instructions that have been enacted on any particular point. In this view of the matter we are to a considerable extent supported by what their Lordships did in the well-known election case Woodward versus Sarsons (L. R. 10, C. P. 733). Their Lordships in that case, while rejecting as invalid the 294 ballot papers which had been marked by the polling officer in such a way that the voters could have been identified, refused to reject as invalid the 20 ballot papers of polling station No. 125 on the ground that although there had been a breach by the presiding officer of some directions as given in the rules framed under the Ballot Act, there was no breach for which by any enactment the ballot papers could be rejected. We therefore hold that the ballot papers at the polling stations presided over by the Hon'ble S. K. Sinha cannot be lawfully rejected by us, and if they cannot be so rejected it would be difficult to see how the admitted irregularities committed by the polling officer at these two polling stations can be said to have materially affected the result of the election. Both the contentions that were urged before us in order to bring the irregularities and non-compliance with the rules and regulations under section 42 (1) (c) therefore fail, and our finding is that although there was non-compliance with some of the provisions of rule 12 (4) of the Bengal Electoral Rules and articles XXII, XXVIII and XXIX of the Bengal Electoral Regulations the result of the election was not materially affected by that non-compliance. Issue No. 5 is accordingly decided against the petitioner.

Abstract of the findings.—To put them together the findings that we have arrived at in this trial are:—

(1) No corrupt practice has been established either under Part I or Part II of Schedule IV of the Bengal Electoral Rules except that there was personation by the son of one Nepali Kurmi as defined in Part II thereof, which, however, did not affect the result of the election in any way.

(2) Secrecy of voting was not strictly observed at the polling stations presided over by the Hon'ble S. K. Sinha and Babu Debendra Nath Bose and specially at the former.

(3) There was some violation of the provisions in articles XXII, XXVIII and XXIX of the Bengal Electoral Regulations.

(4) But the result of the election was not materially affected by these irregularities and breaches.

Result.—The petitioner, Rai Yatindra Nath Chowdhury, has therefore in our opinion failed to substantiate the grounds on which he sought to set aside the election of the respondent, Babu Surendra Nath Roy, and Babu Surendra Nath Roy was in our judgment duly elected. And we therefore recommend that the petition presented by Rai Yatindra Nath Chaudhury be dismissed.

The only question that remains now for our consideration is the question of costs. In consideration of the fact that there were really some irregularities at some of the polling stations and that there were some breaches of the provisions as laid down in the rules and regulations, we are of opinion that the petitioner had some reasonable grounds for filing the petition and trying to have the election of the respondent set aside. And in this view of the matter we would direct that each party bear his own costs.

Minister in charge : The Hon'ble Sir S. N. Banarji, Kt.

No. 1504Medl.—The 30th May 1921.—In exercise of the powers conferred by clause (k) of section 138 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government) are pleased to make the following rules for the control and administration under the said Act of hospitals and dispensaries following systems of medicines other than Allopathic :—

OPENING AND CLOSING OF DISPENSARIES

1. A dispensary may be opened or aided by a District Board with the sanction of the District Board at a meeting and on provision of the necessary funds in the annual budget. It may be closed by the same authority, and with the same sanction.

2. Whenever a new dispensary is opened by a District Board or when a grant-in-aid is made to a private dispensary from the District Fund, the fact should be reported by the District Board to the Civil Surgeon of the district and the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bengal, with information on the following points :—

(a) The name of the dispensary.

(b) Whether there is arrangement in the dispensary for the treatment of in-door patients, and if so, the number of beds for male and female patients.

(c) The system of treatment followed in the dispensary, i.e., whether Ayurvedic (Kaviraji), Unani (hakimi), homœopathic or any other system.

(d) Date of opening of the dispensary or the date of granting of the aid.

(e) Estimated annual cost of the maintenance of the dispensary.

(f) The name of the person or authority with whom the ultimate responsibility for the maintenance of the dispensary rests; if with a private body or private individual, the amount of aid granted by the District Board should be stated.

MANAGEMENT AND SUPERVISION.

3. The management of a dispensary shall be vested in a Managing Committee appointed by the District Board or the private body or private individual with whom the ultimate responsibility for its maintenance rests, subject to the veto of the Government. The members shall be notified by the Government in the Calcutta Gazette.

N B.—A Civil Surgeon or a Subdivisional Medical Officer shall not be a member of the Managing Committee.

4. The members shall elect from among themselves one Chairman and one Secretary.

5. No employee of the dispensary shall be eligible for appointment as a member of the Managing Committee.

6. Every member of a Managing Committee shall vacate his office at the end of three years from the date of his appointment as such member or earlier when the term of office of the members of the District Board by which the Committee is appointed expires:

Provided that the term of office of the members of the Committee shall be held to include any period which may elapse between its expiration and the date of the first meeting of a new Committee appointed to take its place.

7. A member of a Committee appointed under rule 3 may at any time be removed from office by the District Board or by the private body or private individual by whom the Committee was appointed.

8. If any member is unable to complete his full term of office or avails himself of leave granted by the Committee, the vacancy caused by his resignation or removal or death or absence on leave, shall be filled up by the appointment of another person, and the person so appointed shall hold office for the unexpired remainder of the term for which such member would otherwise have continued in office or during his absence on leave, as the case may be.

9. The Managing Committee shall hold meetings at such intervals as may be necessary not less than once a quarter, to enable them to exercise an efficient scrutiny over the accounts and to enquire into all matters affecting the welfare of the institution.

10. One-third of the total number of members shall form a quorum at any meeting.

11. The Managing Committee shall examine and pass the monthly accounts and shall keep a minute book in which their proceedings shall be recorded. The accounts shall, however, be passed regularly each month by the Chairman of the Managing Committee, or in his absence by the Secretary.

12. In the case of private aided dispensaries the Managing Committee shall be responsible for the management of the funds of the dispensary. It shall be their duty to see that the guaranteed and promised subscriptions are regularly collected. After defraying the current expenses of the institution, the balance at the end of the month, if any, of the donations, subscriptions and interest realised by the Committee shall be deposited by them in the Post Office Savings Bank.

13. When the amount at credit of the dispensary exceeds Rs. 200, the Comptroller-General shall ordinarily be asked to invest the whole or part of it in Government securities, which shall be held in the custody of the Accountant-General, Bengal. The securities must not be sold and the invested funds must not be appropriated or used in any way without the sanction of Government.

Nothing in this rule or in the preceding rule shall prevent the Managing Committee from accepting as a contribution to the funds of the institution shares or a deposit in a Co-operative Central Bank or money offered with the express instruction that it shall be invested in such shares or shall be so deposited. Neither shall it be necessary to convert shares or deposits so received into Government securities. Contributions in the form of partly paid up shares with a liability attaching to them should be carefully scrutinized and should not be accepted without the previous orders of Government.

14. The Managing Committee shall submit to the Medical Department, through the Civil Surgeon of the district, an annual return in the following form :—

No charge will be made for such inspection.

Preparation of Budget and method of keeping Accounts.

16. Preparation of dispensary budget.—The Managing Committee shall annually prepare a budget estimate of the probable income and expenditure of the dispensary for the ensuing financial year arranged according to the headings given in annual Statement H (B. C. M. D. Form No. 22), and submit it to the District Board on a date fixed by the District Board. No expenditure shall be incurred in excess of the amounts sanctioned, unless previous sanction has been obtained to either a reappropriation of grants or an additional grant obtained from the District Board.

17. Method of keeping accounts where funds are under direct control of a District Board.—As regards these dispensaries the interest on the investments will be accounted for by the District Board direct. But all donations and subscriptions will be collected by the Managing Committee, and paid into the Savings Bank at the Post Office. The account shall be in the name of the Chairman or Secretary of the Committee. The whole amount collected shall be sent intact to the Savings Bank. Amounts required for expenditure may be withdrawn according to requirements, but there shall be in support of each payment a duly vouched bill passed by either the Chairman or Secretary, and the total expenditure under any head in the budget shall not be exceeded without the sanction of the District Board.

18. The Managing Committee shall maintain a subscription register in B. C. M. D. Form No. 6, in which the initials or signature of the donor must be taken. The collections of the month shall be totalled from this register or the Savings Bank Pass-Book and the total entered on the receipt side of the cash-book (B. C. M. D. Form No 8). Interest allowed by the Post Office shall be shown against "Miscellaneous."

19. All disbursements in respect of these dispensaries shall be either made from the imprest in the hands of the Medical Officer in charge or from the money withdrawn according to requirements from the Savings Bank or by the District Board concerned on bills duly passed by the Managing Committee by issue of cheques upon the treasury. The Medical Officer shall from time to time present bills in recoupment of his imprest supported by payee's receipts. Payments met by withdrawal from the Savings Bank or by cheque from the District Board shall be entered on the payment side of the cash-book (B. C. M. D. Form No. 8) in the appropriate column.

Payments met out of the imprest shall be recorded in an imprest Register (B. C. M. D. Form No. 60). Charges to be ultimately recouped by the District Board shall be entered in the appropriate column under the heading "Payable by District Board," and charges to be recouped by withdrawal from Savings Bank shall be entered in the appropriate column under the heading "Payable from Savings Bank." Whenever the imprest runs low and always at the end of the month, two recoupment bills will be prepared—one for payment by the District Board and one for withdrawal from the Savings Bank. The sub-vouchers appertaining to the former shall be submitted with the bill to the District Board. The totals under each column of the Imprest Register will be entered in the corresponding column of the cash-book when the recoupment bills are cashed.

20. The Managing Committee shall, by the 4th of each month, submit a copy of the cash-book for the previous month, with all vouchers, to the District Board for verification and incorporation in their accounts.

21. The amount of monthly subscriptions guaranteed by the local people when starting the dispensary shall be paid to the District Board every month. The payment shall be entered in column 16 of the payment side of the cash-book and shall also be entered on the receipt side against the head "Guaranteed subscription paid to District Board," a corresponding deduction being made under the head "Receipts."

22. Record of work and of accounts to be kept by Managing Committee.—The Managing Committee of every hospital or dispensary shall cause to be kept at the institution—

(a) a record of the work done, showing day by day the number of patients treated, the affections for which they were treated, and, in important cases, some account of the symptoms, the treatment, progress, and the result,

(b) a record of the accounts of the institution.

These shall be written up daily by the Medical Officer in charge, and shall be open at all times to the inspection of inspecting officers.

The Medical Officer shall write up all other books and records prescribed under these rules.

23. Visitors' book.—A visitors' book shall be kept in every hospital and dispensary in which will be recorded the remarks of visitors

24. Responsibilities of Medical Officer.—The Medical Officer in charge of a hospital or dispensary is responsible for the proper treatment of the sick, and this duty shall not on any account be delegated to a subordinate; he is also responsible for all matters connected with the comfort and well-being of the patients and for the proper working of the establishment of the institution.

25. Hours of attendance.—The Managing Committee shall prescribe the hours of attendance (which shall not be less than four hours in the morning and two hours in the afternoon) within which the Medical Officer must be present at the hospital or dispensary. He must also give attention to urgent cases at other hours.

The hours of attendance shall be clearly stated in a notice posted in some conspicuous part of the institution.

26. Advice and medicines to be free.—Any person attending at a charitable dispensary is entitled to receive advice and medicines free of charge; but the Medical Officer should impress upon any person who is not poor the duty of subscribing to the dispensary or paying for the medicines supplied to him, and should bring to the notice of the Committee any cases in which the privilege is abused.

27. Issue of medicines.—No medicines shall be issued from the dispensary stock to any one who does not receive treatment at the dispensary either as an in-door or as an out-door patient.

28. Scale of fees for accommodation of paying patients.—Where special accommodation has been provided for paying patients, fees may be levied according to a scale previously sanctioned in that behalf by the Managing Committee.

29. Private practice.—The Medical Officer in charge of a hospital or dispensary has the privilege of engaging in private practice, provided it does not interfere with his attendance at the hospital or dispensary during the hours prescribed in rule 25, or in any other way with his duties.

30. Prohibition of interest in private dispensary or druggist's shop.—No Medical Officer in charge of a hospital or dispensary, or any compounder, dresser, or other servant of such institution, shall have any interest in a private dispensary or druggist's shop. In places where there is no approved druggist's shop or private dispensary, a Medical Officer may, with the consent of the Managing Committee, keep a private supply of medicine for the use of his private patients.

31. Storage of medicines, instruments and poisons.—Medicines and instruments shall be kept under lock and key, except small quantities of the articles in daily use during the attendance of patients.

32. Poisons should be stocked in special bottles and kept under separate lock and key which should remain in the custody of the Medical Officer in charge of the hospital or dispensary: the doses in which these drugs are usually administered internally should be legibly written on a conspicuous label. A list of poisons should be hung up in the almirah specially reserved for such drugs.

33. Appointment and discharge of compounders, dressers and menial servants.—Menial servants will be appointed and discharged by the Medical Officer in charge subject to the approval of the Managing Committee of the institution. Compounders and dressers will be appointed and be liable to removal by the Managing Committee, subject to the approval of the District Board.

34. Prohibition of private employment of servants.—Whole-time servants must not be employed in the private service of the Medical Officer, or of any member of the Managing Committee.

35. Disposal of non-infected clothing and property of deceased patients.—In the case of patients to whom section 54 of Act III of 1913 does not apply it shall be the duty of the hospital authorities to send all articles of clothing which are infected and other moveable property belonging to the deceased in-door patients through the police to the local Munsif or District Judge for disposal under the provisions of Bengal Regulation V of 1799. In the case of European or other patients to whom section 54 of Act III of 1913 applies, there is no obligation on the hospital authorities to report the death to the Judge or to send to him the property of the deceased. It may be taken away by the relations or friends of the deceased, if there are any present. If not, the hospital authorities may keep any moveable property left by the deceased until the friends or relations of the deceased can take them away. If no application is made within six months the articles may be sent to the District Judge with a report of the death of the deceased. In making over such property or allowing such property to be taken away, the hospital authorities will exercise due care and caution, and will advise the parties that they are not legally entitled to possession of these until they have complied with the provisions of law on the subject of the effects of deceased persons, and that they are permitted to remove the property at their own risk.

A receipt for the goods should be taken in a register to be kept for the purpose or on a separate paper which should be filed.

(2) Every insolvency petition shall be entered in the Register of Insolvency Petitions to be maintained in all Courts exercising Insolvency Jurisdiction, and shall be given a serial number in that Register, and all subsequent proceedings in the same matter shall bear the same number.

(3) All insolvency proceedings may be inspected at such times, and subject to such restrictions as the District Judge may prescribe, by the Receiver, the debtor, and any creditor who has proved, or any legal representative on their behalf.

Notices.

(4) Whenever publication of any notice or other matter is required by the Act or by these Rules to be made in an official Gazette, a memorandum referring to and giving the date on which such advertisement appeared shall be filed with the record and noted in the order-sheet.

(5) Notice of an order fixing the date of the hearing of a petition under Section 19 (2) shall be published in the local official Gazette and advertised in such newspapers as the Court may direct. (12) Every appointment of a Receiver shall be by order in writing signed by the Court. Copies of this order sealed with the seal of the Court should be served on the debtor, and forwarded to the person appointed.

(13) (1) A Court when fixing the remuneration of a Receiver should, as a rule, direct it to be in the nature of a commission or percentage of which one part should be payable on the amount realised, after deducting any sums paid to secured creditors out of the proceeds of their securities, and the other part on the amount distributed in dividends.

(2) When a Receiver realizes the security of a secured creditor, the Court may direct additional remuneration to be paid to him with reference to the amount of work which he has done and the benefit resulting to the creditors.

(14) The Receiver shall keep a cash-book and such books and other papers as to give a correct view of his administration of the estate, and shall submit his accounts at such times and in such forms as the Court may direct. (19) Where any notice, declaration, petition, or other document requiring attestation is signed by a firm of creditors or debtors in the firm name, the partner signing for the firm shall also add his own signature, e.g., "Brown & Co. by James Green, a partner in the said firm."

(20) Any notice or petition for which personal service is necessary, shall be deemed to be duly served on all the members of a firm if it is served at the principal place of business of the firm within the jurisdiction of the Court, on any one of the partners, or upon any person having at the time of service the control or management of the partnership business there.

(21) The provision of the last preceding rule shall, so far as the nature of the case will admit, apply in the case of any person carrying on business within the jurisdiction in a name or style other than his own.

(22) Where a firm of debtors file an insolvency petition the same shall contain the names in full of the individual partners, and if such petition is signed in the firm name the petition shall be accompanied by an affidavit made by the partner who signs the petition showing that all the partners concur in the filing of the same.

(25) The joint creditors, and each set of separate creditors, may severally accept compositions or schemes of arrangement. So far as circumstances will allow, a proposal accepted by joint creditors may be approved in the prescribed manner, notwithstanding that the proposals or proposal of some or one of the debtors made to their or his separate creditors may not be accepted.

(26) Where proposals for compositions or schemes are made by a firm, and by the partners therein individually, the proposals made to the joint creditors shall be considered and voted upon by them apart from every set of separate creditors; and the proposal made to each separate set of creditors shall be considered and voted upon by such separate set of creditors apart from all other creditors. Such proposals may vary in character and amount. Where a composition or scheme is approved, the adjudication order shall be annulled only so far as it relates to the estate, the creditors of which have confirmed the composition or scheme.

(27) If any two or more of the members of a partnership constitute a separate and independent firm, the creditors of such last-mentioned firm shall be deemed to be a separate set of creditors, and to be on the same footing as the separate creditors of any individual member of the firm. Sale of Immoveable Property of Insolvent.

(28) If no Receiver is appointed and the Court, in exercise of its powers under section 58 of the Act, sells any immoveable property of the insolvent, the deed of sale of the said property shall be prepared by the purchaser at his own cost, and shall be signed by the Presiding Officer of the Court. The cost of registration (if any) will also be borne by the purchaser.

Dividends.

(29) The amount of the dividend may, at the request and risk of a creditor, be transmitted to him by post.

Summary Administration.

(30) When an estate is ordered to be administered in a summary manner under section 74 of the Act, the provisions of the Act and Rules shall, subject to any special direction of the Court, be modified as follows, namely :—

(i) There shall be no advertisement of any proceedings in the Local Official Gazette or in any newspaper.

(ii) The petition and all subsequent proceedings shall be endorsed "Summary Case."

(iii) The notice of the hearing of the petition to the creditors shall be in Civil Process Form No. 150 in Volume II.

(iv) The Court shall examine the debtor as to his affairs, but shall not be bound to call a meeting of creditors, but the creditors shall be entitled to be heard and to cross-examine the debtor.

(v) The appointment of a Receiver will often not be necessary, and the Court may act under section 58 of the Act in order to reduce the cost of the proceedings.

Costs.

(31) All proceedings under the Act down to and including the making of an order of adjudication shall be at the cost of the party prosecuting the same, but when an order of adjudication has been made, the reasonable costs of the petitioning creditor shall be payable out of the estate.

(32) No costs incurred by a debtor of, or incidental to, an application to approve of a composition or scheme, shall be allowed out of the estate, if the Court refuses to approve the composition or scheme.

Liabilities of managers

16. The managers of a certified school not established by the Local Government may decline to receive any youthful offender or child proposed to be sent to them in pursuance of this Act, but when they have once accepted any such offender or child, they shall be deemed to have undertaken to teach, train, lodge, clothe and feed him during the whole period for which he is liable to be detained in the school, or until the withdrawal or resignation of the certificate of the school takes effect. 19. (1) When a boy apparently under the age of sixteen years having been arrested is not released on bail as provided in section 18, the officer in charge of the police-station shall cause him to be detained in the prescribed manner, until he can be brought before a Court. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s 95.]

(2) No police-officer shall, however, detain in custody any such boy for a longer period than is reasonable under all the circumstances of the case; and such period shall not, in the absence of a special order of a Court, exceed twenty-four hours, exclusive of the time necessary for the journey from the place of arrest to the Court. [Cf. Act V of 1898, s. 61.]

Remand or committal to custody.

20. A Court, on remanding or committing for trial a child or young person who is not released on bail as provided in section 18, may, instead of committing him to prison, order him to be detained in the prescribed manner, for the period for which he is remanded.

Attendance at Court of parent of child or young person charged with an offence, etc

21. (1) When a child or young person is charged with any offence, or when a child is brought before a Court on an application for an order to send him to an industrial school, his parent or guardian may, in any case, and shall, if he can be found and resides within a reasonable distance and the person so charged or brought before the Court is a child, be required to attend at the Court before which the case is heard, during all the stages of the proceedings, unless the Court is satisfied that it would be unreasonable to require his attendance. [Cf. 8 Edw VII, c. 67, s. 98 (1).]

(2) When the child or young person is arrested, the officer in charge of the police-station to which he is brought shall cause the parent or guardian of the child or young person, if he can be found, to be warned to attend at the Court before which the child or young person will appear. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 98 (2).]

(3) The parent or guardian, whose attendance is required under this section, shall be the parent or guardian having the actual possession and control of the child or young person: [Cf. 8 Edw VII, c 67, s. 98 (4)]

Provided that, if that person is not the father, the attendance of the father may also be required.

(4) The attendance of the parent of a child or young person shall not be required under this section in any case where the child or young person was, before the institution of the proceedings, removed from the custody or charge of his parent by an order of a Court. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 98 (5)]

The Bengal Children Bill, 1921.

(Chapter III.—Youthful offenders.—Mode of sending youthful offenders to reformatory or industrial schools.—Clauses 22, 23.)

(5) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to require the attendance of the mother or the female guardian of a child or young person, if such mother or female guardian does not, according to the customs and manners of the country, appear in public.

Restrictions on punishment of children.

22. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Penal Code, no child shall, under any circumstances, be sentenced to death, transportation or imprisonment for any offence. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, ss. 102, 103.] Act XLV of 1860.

MODE OF SENDING YOUTHFUL OFFENDERS TO REFORMATORY OR INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

Commitment of offenders between twelve and sixteen years of age to reformatory or industrial schools.

23. (1) When a youthful offender, who in the opinion of the Court before which he is charged is twelve years of age or upwards, is convicted of an offence punishable in the case of an adult with transportation or imprisonment, the Court may, in addition to or in lieu of sentencing him according to law to any other punishment, order that he be sent to a reformatory school: [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 57; VIII of 1897, s. 8.]

Provided that when the offender is ordered to be sent to a reformatory school he shall not in addition be sentenced to imprisonment. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 84; VIII of 1897, s. 10.]

(2) When a youthful offender of twelve years of age or upwards has been sentenced to transportation or imprisonment, the Local Government may direct that in lieu of undergoing or completing such sentence, he shall be sent to a reformatory school; and thereupon the offender shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act as if he had been originally sentenced to detention in a reformatory school.

(3) When a youthful offender, who in the opinion of the Court before which he is charged is under twelve years of age, is convicted of an offence punishable in the case of an adult with death, transportation or imprisonment, the Court may order that he be sent to an industrial school.

(4) When a young person, of the age of twelve or thirteen years, who has not previously been convicted, is convicted of an offence punishable in the case of an adult with transportation or imprisonment, and the Court is satisfied that the young person should be sent to a certified school, but, having regard to the special circumstances of the case, should not be sent to a reformatory school, and is also satisfied that the character and antecedents of the young person are such that he will not exercise an evil influence over the other inmates of an industrial school, the Court may order the young person to be sent to an industrial school after previously ascertaining that the managers are willing to receive him:

Provided that the Local Government may, on the application of the managers of the industrial school, by order, transfer the young person to a reformatory school.

(5) When a young person has been ordered by a Court to give security under section 106 or section 118 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and has failed to do so, the Court which made the order Act V of 1898.

The Bengal Children Bill, 1921.

(Chapter III.—Mode of sending youthful offenders to reformatory or industrial schools.—Other ways of dealing with youthful offenders—Clauses 24—26.)

may order such young person to be sent to a reformatory school.

Period of detention.

24. Every order, in pursuance of which a youthful offender or child is sent to a reformatory or industrial school, shall specify the time for which the youthful offender or child is to be detained in the school, being— [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 65, VIII of 1897, s. 8.]

(a) in the case of a youthful offender sent to a reformatory school, not less than two and not more than five years, but not in any case extending beyond the time when the youthful offender will, in the opinion of the Court, attain the age of eighteen years; and

(b) in the case of a child sent to an industrial school, such time as to the Court may seem proper for the teaching and training of the child, but not in any case extending beyond the time when the child will, in the opinion of the Court, attain the age of sixteen years.

OTHER WAYS OF DEALING WITH YOUTHFUL OFFENDERS.

Power to discharge youthful offender or to commit him to suitable custody.

25. A Court may, if it shall think fit, instead of directing any youthful offender to be detained in a reformatory or industrial school, order him to be— [Cf. VIII of 1897, s. 31.]

(a) discharged after due admonition, or

(b) committed to the custody of his parent or guardian or any adult relative, on such parent, guardian or relative executing a bond, with or without sureties, as the Court may require, to be responsible for the good behaviour of the youthful offender for any period not exceeding twelve months, and the Court may, in addition to such order, make an order that the youthful offender be placed under the supervision of a person to be named by the court.

Power to order parent to pay fine, etc.

26. (1) When a child or young person is convicted of an offence punishable with fine and the Court is of opinion that the case would be best met by the imposition of a fine, whether with or without any other punishment, the Court may, in any case, and shall, if the offender is a child, order that the fine be paid by the parent or guardian of the child or young person, unless the Court is satisfied that the parent or guardian cannot be found or that he has not conduced to the commission of the offence by neglecting to exercise due care of the child or young person. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 99(1) and (3).]

(2) An order under this section may be made against a parent or guardian who, having been required to attend, has failed to do so, but, save as aforesaid, no such order shall be made without giving the parent or guardian an opportunity of being heard. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 99(4).]

(3) Any order directing that a parent or guardian shall pay a fine under this section may be enforced as though it were an order passed under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 99(5).] Act V of 1898.

The Bengal Children Bill, 1921.

(Chapter III.—Other ways of dealing with youthful offenders.—Chapter IV.—Mode of sending neglected children to industrial schools.—Clauses 27, 28.)

(4) A parent or guardian may appeal against any such order as if it had been an order passed in proceedings against himself. [Cf. 8, Edw. VII, c 67, s. 99(6)]

Detention in the case of certain crimes committed by children

27. (1) When a child is convicted of an offence of so serious a nature that the Court is of opinion that no punishment which under the provisions of this Act it is authorized to inflict is sufficient, the Court shall order the offender to be kept in safe custody in such place or manner as it thinks fit, and shall report the case for the orders of the Local Government. [Cf. 8 Edw VII, c 67, s 104.]

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 22, the Local Government may order any such child to be detained in such place and on such conditions as they think fit, and whilst so detained the child shall be deemed to be in legal custody:

Provided that no period of detention so ordered shall exceed the maximum period of imprisonment to which the child could have been sentenced for the offence committed. [Cf Mad Act IV of 1920, s 27 prov]

CHAPTER IV.

MODE OF SENDING NEGLECTED CHILDREN TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

Children liable to be sent to industrial schools

28. (1) In any area to which the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that this section shall apply, any police-officer or other person authorized by the Local Government in this behalf may bring before a Juvenile Court or court of a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case any boy apparently under the age of twelve years who— [Cf 8 Edw VII, c 67, s. 58(1)]

(a) is found begging or receiving alms (whether or not there is any pretence of singing, playing, performing, offering anything for sale, or otherwise), or being in any street, premises or place for the purpose of so begging or receiving alms; or

(b) is found wandering and not having any home or settled place of abode, or visible means of subsistence, or is found wandering and having no parent or guardian, or a parent or guardian who does not exercise proper guardianship; or

and the Court before which a child is brought as coming within one of those descriptions shall examine the information and record the substance of such examination, and shall, if it thinks that there are sufficient grounds for inquiring further, fix a date for such inquiry.

(2) On such date, or on any subsequent date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the Court shall hear and record all evidence which may be adduced and consider any cause which may be shown why an order sending the child to an industrial school should not be passed and make any further inquiry it thinks fit.

The Bengal Children Bill, 1921.

(Chapter IV.—Mode of sending neglected children to industrial schools.—Chapter V.—Maintenance and treatment of persons in reformatory or industrial schools or under custody.—Clauses 29, 30.)

(3) If, after inquiry, the Court is satisfied that it is expedient to send the child to an industrial school, it shall pass an order to that effect.

Power to commit child or young person to suitable custody.

29. (1) When under this Act a Court is empowered to order a child to be sent to an industrial school the Court, in lieu of ordering him to be so sent, may make an order for the committal of the child to suitable custody in the prescribed manner, until he attains the age of sixteen years, or for any shorter period. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s 58(7).]

(2) Any police-officer, or any other person, authorized by the Local Government in this behalf, may bring before a Juvenile Court or court of a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case any young person apparently of the age of twelve or thirteen years so circumstanced, that if he were a child, he would come within one or other of the descriptions mentioned in section 28, and the Court, if satisfied, after inquiry in the manner prescribed by section 28, sub-sections (1) and (2), that it is expedient so to deal with him, may make an order for his committal to suitable custody in the prescribed manner, until he attains the age of sixteen years, or for any shorter period. [Cf. 8 Edw VII, c. 67, s. 59.]

(3) The Court which makes an order committing a child or young person to suitable custody under this section may, in addition, order that the child or young person be placed under the supervision of a person to be named by the Court.

CHAPTER V.

(2) The Court, before making an order under sub-section (1), shall inquire into the circumstances of the parent or other person liable to maintain the youthful offender, young person or child, and shall record the evidence, if any, in the presence of the parent or such other person, as the case may be, or, when his personal attendance is dispensed with, in the presence of his pleader.

[Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c 67, s. 58.]

Placing out on license

32. (1) When a youthful offender or child is detained in a reformatory or industrial school, the managers of the school may, at any time, with the consent of the chief inspector, or after the expiration of eighteen months of the period of detention, without any such consent, by license, permit the youthful offender or child on such conditions as may be prescribed, to live with any trustworthy and respectable person named in the license willing to receive and take charge of him. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c 67, s. 67(1); VIII of 1897, s 18.]

(3) The managers of the school, may, at any time by order in writing, cancel any such license, and order the youthful offender or child to return to the school, and, shall do so at the desire of the person to whom the youthful offender or child is licensed. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c 67, s. 67(3); VIII of 1897, s. 19.]

(4) If the youthful offender or child refuses or fails to return to the school, the managers of the school may, if necessary, arrest him or cause him to be arrested and may take him, or cause him to be taken back, to the school.

(5) The time during which a youthful offender or child is absent from a reformatory or industrial school in pursuance of a license under this section shall be deemed to be part of the time of his detention in the school: [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c 67, s. 67(5).]

Provided that, when a youthful offender or child has failed to return to the school on the license being cancelled, the time which elapses after his failure so to return shall be excluded in computing the time during which he is to be detained in the school.

The Bengal Children Bill, 1921.

33. (1) When a license has been cancelled and the youthful offender or child refuses or fails to return to the school, a Court, if satisfied by information on oath that there is reasonable ground for believing that his parent or guardian could produce the youthful offender or child, may issue a summons requiring the parent or guardian to attend at the court on such a day as may be specified in the summons, and to produce the child, and, if he fails to do so without reasonable excuse, he shall, in addition to any other liability to which he may be subject under the provisions of this Act, be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five rupees. [Cf. 8 Edw. VII, c. 67, s. 67(6).]

THE BENGAL CHILDREN BILL, 1921.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE existing law governing the punishment and protection of children has for some time past been felt to be defective and not in accordance with modern ideas on the subject: in particular, it affords no means of protecting and rescuing children who are potential criminals but have not yet actually committed a crime. The present Bill has therefore been prepared in order to provide both for the custody, trial and punishment of youthful offenders and also for the protection of children and young persons. It follows the lines of the English Children Act of 1908, but its operation is confined to boys. It proposes that no boy under the age of twelve years shall, under any circumstances be sentenced to death, transportation or imprisonment for any offence, and it seeks to substitute educational treatment for penal measures in the case of older boys convicted of an offence.

Chapter I of the Bill provides for the abolition of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, so far as the Presidency of Bengal is concerned, with the exception of section 15, which it is necessary to retain as there is at present no reformatory school in Bengal. A distinction is made between a child and a young person, the former being defined as a boy under twelve years of age and the latter as a boy between twelve and sixteen, while a youthful offender is a boy under sixteen convicted of an offence.

Chapter II provides for the establishment of reformatory and industrial schools by Government, and for the recognition of similar schools under private management. The broad distinction between the two classes of schools, in addition to the difference in the age of the inmates, is that reformatory schools are intended for actual, and industrial schools for potential, offenders. Offenders under the age of twelve and in certain cases of the age of twelve or thirteen may, however, be sent to industrial schools.

Part III deals with the different methods of dealing with youthful offenders brought before the courts and also enforces the responsibility of parents and guardians for their good conduct, which is an important principle of the English legislature on the subject.

Chapter IV deals with the mode of sending neglected children to industrial schools.

Chapter V deals with the treatment of inmates of schools and gives power to the courts to order parents and guardians of boys sent to the schools or committed to suitable custody to contribute towards the expenses of maintenance.

Chapter VI provides for the establishment of juvenile courts and contains various miscellaneous sections, including one the object of which is to secure that children dealt with under the proposed Act may be brought up in accordance with their own religion.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 1 provides that the proposed Act shall extend in the first instance to Calcutta, power being given to extend it to any other town or place in Bengal.

Clause 2.—The repeal of Act VIII of 1897 is already referred to in the Statement of Objects and Reasons.

Clause 3.—The definitions of "child," "guardian," "industrial school," "reformatory school" and "young person" are based on provisions of the Children Act, 1908. The Bill is, however, intended to apply to boys only. The age in the case of a child is fixed as under twelve years, and the minimum age in the case of a young person is twelve years, being a reduction of two years in each case as compared with the English Act. The definition of "youthful offender" is based on clause (a) of section 4 of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, the maximum age being fixed at under sixteen years instead of fourteen.

The Bengal Children Bill, 1921.

Clause 4 follows the provisions of section 8(2) of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897.

Clause 5.—This clause is based on section 9 of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, and enables a Magistrate who is not given power under clause 4 to pass orders under the proposed Act to forward a child or young person brought before him in certain circumstances to the nearest court having jurisdiction in the case.

Clause 6.—This clause provides for the establishment and certification of reformatory and industrial schools for youthful offenders and children.

Clause 7, sub-clause (1) empowers the Local Government to appoint a Superintendent and a Committee of Visitors to control and manage reformatory and industrial schools established under the proposed Act.

Sub-clause (2) provides for the management of schools certified under clause 6(2).

Clause 8.—This clause makes provision for the appointment of a Chief Inspector and Assistant Inspectors for the inspection of certified schools.

Clause 9 gives power to the Chief Inspector and Assistant Inspectors to enter certified schools for the purpose of inspection.

Clause 10 provides for the medical inspection of certified schools.

Clause 11 gives power to the Local Government to withdraw a certificate from a school or to prohibit the admission of youthful offenders and children to such school for a certain period, in any case in which they are not satisfied with the management, etc., of such school.

Clause 12 enables the managers to resign the certificate of a school certified under the proposed Act, on giving notice of their intention in this behalf.

Clause 13 is based on section 49 of the Children Act, 1908, and provides that when notice is given of the withdrawal of the certificate of a certified school, or notice of resignation has been given by the managers, the managers of the school shall continue to look after the child until such withdrawal or resignation takes effect.

Clause 14 provides for the transfer of the inmates of a school which has ceased to be a certified school to some other certified school.

Clause 15.—By this clause power is given to the Local Government to establish or certify auxiliary homes for the reception of inmates of certified schools.

Clause 16, which deals with the liabilities of managers of certified schools, is based on section 52 of the Children Act, 1908.

Clause 17 gives power to the Local Government to appoint persons to visit and inspect institutions for poor children, and imposes a penalty on anyone who obstructs any such person.

Clause 18, which provides for the release of youthful offenders on bail after arrest, except in the case of homicide or other serious offences, is based on section 94 of the Children Act, 1908.

Clauses 19 and 20.—Clause 19 enables an officer in charge of a police-station to detain a boy who has been arrested, and is not released under clause 18, for a certain period, and clause 20 empowers the Court, instead of sending the boy to prison, to order his detention in accordance with rules to be made in this behalf.

Clause 21.—This clause is based on section 98 of the Children Act, 1908. Under this clause a parent or guardian of a child or a young person can be compelled to attend Court when such child or young person is brought before the Court.

Clause 22 prevents a child from being sentenced to death, transportation or imprisonment and is based on sections 102 and 103 of the Children Act, 1908.

The Bengal Children Bill, 1921.

Clause 23 deals with the commitment of youthful offenders between twelve and sixteen years of age to a reformatory or industrial school.

Sub-clause (1) provides that a youthful offender must be at least twelve years old before he can be sent to a reformatory school, and that if he is sent to such a school, he cannot, in addition, be sentenced to imprisonment.

Sub-clause (2) deals with cases in which youthful offenders have been sentenced to transportation or imprisonment before the proposed Act becomes law.

Sub-clause (3) enables the Court to send a youthful offender under twelve years of age, who has been convicted of an offence punishable in the case of an adult with death, transportation, or imprisonment, to an industrial school.

Sub-clause (4) is intended to meet cases of young persons who have not previously been convicted, and takes power to send such persons to an industrial school instead of to a reformatory school, power also being given to the Local Government to transfer such persons to a reformatory school if the manager of the industrial school desires this.

Sub-clause (5) provides that if a young person who has been ordered to give security fails to do so, the Court may send him to a reformatory school.

Clause 24.—This clause is based on section 65 of the Children Act, 1908, and section 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, and regulates the period for which youthful offenders and children are to be detained in a reformatory school or an industrial school.

Clause 25 gives power to the Court, instead of sending a youthful offender to a reformatory school or to an industrial school, to discharge him or place him under the control of his parent or guardian or an adult relative under the supervision of a person to be named by the Court.

Clause 26 empowers the Court to recover from the parent or guardian of a child or young person any fine which may be imposed for any offence committed by such child or young person, unless such parent or guardian can satisfy the Court that he has taken due care of the child and is not to blame in the matter.

Clause 27 gives power to a Court to order the detention of a child in custody in certain cases and is based on section 104 of the Children Act, 1908.

Clause 28 contains provisions under which a boy, under twelve years of age, may, in certain circumstances, be brought before a Court by a police-officer or other person so authorized for an order by the Court to send such boy to an industrial school.

Clause 29 empowers a Court to order a child or young person to be kept in suitable custody in lieu of sending him to an industrial school, and, in addition, gives power to the Court to direct that such child or young person be placed under the supervision of a person to be named by the Court.

Clause 30 deals with the cost of maintenance of a youthful offender or child when once he has been sent to a reformatory or industrial school or has been committed to suitable custody, and provides that such cost shall be recoverable from the parent or guardian.

Clause 31 gives power to the managers of an industrial school to board out children under the age of eight years and until they have attained the age of ten years (and with the permission of the Chief Inspector till they are older), with any suitable person, subject to supervision by the managers of the school.

Clause 32 provides that in certain circumstances the managers of a reformatory or industrial school may, with the consent of the Chief Inspector, license a boy out to any respectable person willing to receive and take charge of him.

Such license may be cancelled at any time on a breach of the conditions under which it was granted, and power is taken, in such a case, to compel the return of the boy to the school.

The Bengal Children Bill, 1921.

Clause 33 provides that, in the case of a youthful offender or child whose license has been cancelled, the parent or guardian may be required to produce him in Court, failing which the Court may, if a reasonable excuse cannot be given by the parent or guardian for not producing the child, impose a fine of Rs. 25.

Clause 34 is based on sections 22 (1) and 72 (6) of the Children Act, 1908, and deals with the abetment of the escape of a youthful offender or child.

Clause 36 deals with the discharge or transfer of a youthful offender or child from one industrial school to another or from one reformatory school to another, or from a reformatory school to an industrial school or vice versâ.

Clause 37 is based on section 111 (5) of the Children Act, 1908, and provides for the establishment of Juvenile Courts.

Clause 38 gives power to the Court to presume and determine the age of a child or young person brought before it, and provides that the age decided by the Court shall be held to be the true age of such child or young person for the purposes of the Act.

Clause 39 requires the Court in sending a youthful offender or a child to a school to select, whenever possible, a school in which facilities are afforded for the instruction of the youthful offender or child in the religion which he professes.

Clause 40.—This clause makes applicable the provisions of Chapter XLII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, to bonds taken under the proposed Act.

Clause 41 removes the disqualification, attaching to an offence under any other law, from a child or young person convicted of such offence.

Clause 42 empowers the local Government to make rules for the purposes of the proposed Act.

Clause 43 provides for repeals and revisions in respect of orders passed by Courts under clause 26, 28 or 30. It also provides that any order passed under the proposed Act and not otherwise provided for shall be subject to revision by the High Court.

Clause 44 is based on section 22 (1) of the Children Act, 1908, and gives the entire authority over a child or young person to the person into whose custody such child or young person has been put, as if such person were his lawful parent.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1595L., dated Calcutta, the 1st June, 1921.—His Excellency the Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 18 of the Bengal Legislative Council Rules, 1920, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information.

It is proposed to introduce the Bill at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council to be held on Monday, the 4th July, 1921, and at the same meeting to move that it be referred to a Select Committee.

A. M. HUTCHISON,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal and further to amend the Land Registration Act, 1876.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Land Registration Act, 1876, in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act VII of 1876.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Bengal Land Registration (Amendment) Act, 1921.

Amendment of section 70 of Bengal Act VII of 1870. 2. At the end of section 70 of the Land Registration Act, 1876, as amended by the Eastern Bengal and Assam Land Registration (Amendment) Act, 1907, the following shall be added, namely:— E. B. & A. Act I of 1907

"and no separate account shall be opened on such application until an additional fee at the rate mentioned below is paid by the applicant, namely:—

for a separate account for which the land-revenue payable does not exceed ten rupees ...	... four rupees.
for a separate account for which the land-revenue payable exceeds ten rupees but does not exceed fifty rupees ...	ten rupees, for a separate account for which the land-revenue payable exceeds fifty rupees but does not exceed one hundred rupees ...	fifteen rupees.
for a separate account for which the land-revenue payable exceeds one hundred rupees ...	twenty rupees."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

By the Bengal Land Registration (Amendment) Act, 1906 (Bengal Act II of 1906), provision was made in section 70 of the Land Registration Act, 1876 (Bengal Act VII of 1876), for the levy of a uniform fee of Rs. 2 in Western Bengal on all applications for opening separate accounts whether under that Act or under sections 10 and 11 of the Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act, 1859 (Act XI of 1859). Similar provision was also made for Eastern Bengal by the Eastern Bengal and Assam Land Registration (Amendment) Act, 1907 (E. B. and A. Act I of 1907). Bengal Act II of 1906 has been repealed by the Bengal Laws Act, 1914 (Bengal Act I of 1914), and E. B. and A. Act I of 1907 has been extended to Western Bengal by the same Act.

This fee of Rs. 2 although sufficient to cover the cost of opening a separate account does not cover the cost of its subsequent administration which is thus borne by the general public.

It is not considered equitable that the administration of separate accounts, the opening of which benefits only the applicants, should be a burden on the general tax-payer. It is, therefore, proposed to levy an additional fee which will make the separate account staff self-supporting.

Steam Vessels of any draft entering Bombay Harbour, either by day or night, should experience no difficulties, the Bombay Floating light vessel moored in the fairway (Lat. 18° 50' N., long. 72°, 44' E.) should always be made, then a course steered to pass Prongs Reef Buoy at a distance of not less than one mile, then the course should be altered direct for the Steam Pilot Vessel which will be found in a line with Malabar Point in transit with Colaba Point. During the S.W. Monsoon, when the weather may be such as to make it difficult for the Mariner to distinguish the more conspicuous marks, also during the cold weather months, when thick smoke haze often lies over the city and surrounding country, the best time to make the Port is an hour before sunrise, the lights then being visible will enable the Mariner to obtain an accurate position. The Bombay Floating Light Vessel is fitted with a submarine bell, also both Prongs Reef and Thull Shoal are marked by Gas buoys.

CHAIRMAN—

A synopsis of the Annual Accounts for the year ending 31st March 1920 is as follows :—

CAPITAL ACCOUNT.

RECEIPTS.—The total receipts aggregate Rs. 56,03,942-6-2 against a Budget estimate of Rs. 40,93,000.

The interesting items are shown in the following tabulation :—

		Budget.	Actual.	Variations.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.		Rs. A. P.
Sale of Land ...	36,75,000 0 0	50,22,409 3 7	...	+13,47,409 3 7
„ „ Buildings...	2,00,000 0 0	3,34,443 14 0	...	+ 1,34,443 14 0

Premia on Lease ...	7,000 0 0	7,353 5 3	...	+ 353 5 3

The excess from sale of land was derived principally from Scheme Nos. IV, V and VIIB (Russa Road Widening), (Bhowanipore) and (Central Avenue—Colootola to Bowbazar).

EXPENDITURE.—The total expenditure for the year is Rs. 89,44,520-13-11 which includes Land Acquisition Rs. 76,67,287-5-11, Engineering Works Rs. 9,76,553-7-9, Set-backs in published alignments Rs. 2,85,155-7-6, and Supply of Stores Rs. 1,64,794-10-3. The total expenditure on account of stores, including last year's balance, amounts to Rs. 2,89,039-1-2 from which Rs. 2,18,943-12-1 was debited to Engineering Works during the year. The total estimated expenditure was Rs. 99,39,000, of which Rs. ·73 lakhs was set aside for Land Acquisition. Rs. 14,59,000 for Engineering Works and Rs. 1 lakh for Set-backs in published alignments.

The transfer of funds from Revenue Account to meet Capital deficits was Rs. 33,40,578-7-9.

REVENUE ACCOUNT.

RECEIPTS.—The total receipts for the year are Rs. 39,95,650-7-9 against an estimate of Rs. 30,04,688. The increase of Rs. 9,90,962-7-9 is principally due to the following :—

	Rs. A. P.
Duty on transfer of property ...	7,56,258 9 0	in excess of estimates.
Terminal Tax	46,766 10 0	ditto.
Duty on Jute	72,433 6 10	ditto.
Rents from temporary lettings ...	83,362 12 10	ditto.

EXPENDITURE.—The total expenditure for the year is Rs. 5,92,308-12-2 against a Budget provision of Rs. 6,38,208.

The difference between the actuals and the estimates has arisen principally through savings on Establishment and Law Expenses. The only items of expenditure to be noted are Stamp Duty on Conveyances and the War Bonus to Employees, which amounted to Rs. 48,316-14 and Rs. 10,847-2-8 against Budget estimates of Rs. 30,000 and Rs. 5,000 respectively.

The closing balance is Rs. 1,91,54,968-0-1, of which a sum of Rs. 1,13,27,950-12-6 has been spent on Capital Account to meet payments in excess of Capital receipts. The net balance of Rs. 78,27,017-3-7 was held as follows:—

Resolution referred to in Revenue Department Notification No. 3686Jur., dated 3rd May 1921.

No. 40, dated Simla, the 5th April 1921.

RESOLUTION—By Government of India, Department of Education (Census).

The Census of India was taken on the night of March 18th. The provisional totals for provinces, districts, States and cities are exhibited in Tables A, B and C appended to this Resolution. The total population of India as thus ascertained is 319,075,132, viz., British Territory 247,138,396 and Indian States 71,936,736, giving an increase of 3,205,218 in British Territory and 713,518 in Indian States. These figures are provisional, but the experience of previous censuses shows that the difference between the population according to the provisional totals and that as finally ascertained does not amount to more than about 1 in 2,500 persons and the figures are therefore sufficiently accurate for practical purposes and can be adopted by local Governments for administrative purposes and for calculation of proportions and percentages based on population.

2. The proportional variations at each of the last two censuses are given in the margin. These ratios differ slightly from those in the statements appended, as allowance has been made in the former for the inclusion of new areas. The areas now dealt with for the first time have an estimated population of 86 145 persons.

3. The agricultural conditions of the early and middle years of the decade were not unfavourable to the growth of the population. There was some local scarcity but no widespread famine, while the birth-rate and survival rate both stood high in 1913, but declined slightly in the subsequent four years. The war, which gave a notable stimulus to the agriculture, industry and trade of the country, had little direct effect on the population figures. The influenza epidemic of 1918 dominates all other direct influences on the movement of the population during the decade. The epidemic left no part of India unvisited. The death rate was nearly double that of the previous year and the direct loss of life due to the ravages of the disease during a few months in 1918 alone is put at about 7 millions in British India, while the indirect effects are shown in the heavy fall in the birth-rate in 1919, the births being less than the deaths in both 1918 and 1919. Apart from the influenza epidemic, the later years of the decade were generally unhealthy. Plague which had been virulent in 1915 in the Northern and Western portions of the country again took heavy toll in 1917 and 1918. The general failure of the rains of 1918 caused widespread distress over a large part of the country and the mortality from cholera in 1918-19 was exceptionally high. In the last year of the decade a large part of the country had again to face a serious failure of the monsoon. Further analysis of the conditions affecting the movement of the population must be postponed till the Census figures are available in their final form; but the figures given in the statements show the extent to which the normal growth of the population has, in the greater part of the country, been set back by the terrible visitation of 1918 and the subsequent unhealthy season.

4. The success of the Census depends on the close co-operation of the large staff of about two million officials and non-officials who take part in the enumeration. The difficulties of the operations have on this occasion been enhanced in certain parts of India by the disinclination of a section of the public to render the assistance that has been demanded of them and the extent to which this attitude may have affected the accuracy of the enumeration will be dealt with in analysing the figures. The Governor-General in Council fully recognizes the burden which the Census throws on those who are required to take part in it and desires to acknowledge the services of all those, both official and non-official, who have by their co-operation and assistance brought the operation to a successful issue.

ORDER.—Order that a copy of this resolution, with appendices, be forwarded to all local Governments and Administrations* for information and guidance, and that a copy be forwarded to all the Departments of the Government of India and the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India; the Educational Commissioner with the Government of India and the Census Commissioner for India.

Population of Provinces and States and Variation since 1891.

The population returned at previous Censuses has been corrected, as far as possible, in order to allow for subsequent inter-provincial transfers.

2. The population of Benares State (total 357,838, males 177,869, females 179,969), which was included under the head "British territory" in 1911, has now been included under the head "Indian States." Delhi and Gwalior, which in 1911 were classed under the Punjab and Central India Agency, respectively, are now shown separately. The figures for the Madras States include those of Cochin and Travancore, the figures of these States being also shown separately.

3. The political control of Aden, which is still technically a part of the Bombay Presidency, is with the British Government, but as its general administration is still directly under the Government of Bombay, Aden has been shown for the purpose of the Census as part of the Bombay Presidency.

4. The population of the French Settlements in India which is not included in this table is according to the Provisional totals 269,579 (males 133,251, females 136,328).

NEW HOWRAH BRIDGE.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION—No. 20T.-Marine.

DARJEELING, THE 2ND JUNE 1921.

In Marine Department letter No. 2488-98, dated the 4th October 1920, Government invited the views of the Chamber of Commerce and other public bodies concerned on the following points in connection with the proposals for the new Howrah Bridge :—

(1) Should the single span arch type of bridge be ruled out and tenders invited for the construction of a floating bridge according to one of the two available designs? Which of the designs should be accepted would be a matter for Government to decide after taking professional and technical advice.

(2) Should the single span arch type of bridge be ruled out and competitive designs be obtained for a floating bridge in accordance with the modified specification drawn up by the Committee of Engineers in 1913?

(3) Should Mr. B. Mott's key drawings for a span arch bridge be obtained and the decision regarding the type of bridge, whether floating or single span, be postponed until they are received?

In the replies to this reference a new point of great importance has been raised, namely, that it is unnecessary for the new bridge to have an opening span permitting the passage of sea-going vessels. It is asserted that there is no necessity for ocean-going vessels to proceed above the bridge for traffic purposes and that the policy of the Port Commissioners is to concentrate their work at Kidderpore and Garden Reach. It is stated that a bridge with a fixed limited headway permitting the passage of inland craft only would suffice for the modern requirements of the port, that an arch type of bridge can provide sufficient headway for river steamers, and that their requirements can be met without an opening span.

3 The Governor in Council has carefully considered these points and is of opinion that the difficulties of the problem would be greatly reduced if an opening span could be dispensed with. He has accordingly decided that a Committee should be appointed to enquire and report on the following points :—

(a) Whether an opening span on the new bridge, permitting the passage of ocean-going vessels, is necessary for the work of the port, or whether it would suffice to have a bridge with a fixed headway permitting the passage of inland craft.

(b) Whether the adoption of the latter type of bridge would adversely affect any interests and, if so, what interests and in what manner.

4. The Committee will be constituted as follows :—

1. Mr. C. H. Bompas, C.S.I., I.C.S., Chairman, Calcutta Improvement Trust (presiding).
2. Mr. G. G. Dey, officiating Chief Engineer and Secretary, Public Works Department.
3. Mr. James E. Roy, M.L.C., Joint Steamer Companies.
4. Babu Jadu Nath Roy, Bengal National Chamber of Commerce.
5. Mr. S. C. Stuart-Williams, officiating Chairman, Port Commissioners, Calcutta.
6. Mr. R. M. Watson Smyth, President, Bengal Chamber of Commerce.
7. Mr. G. H. W. Davies, I.C.S., who will also act as Secretary.

The Chairman will arrange the time and place of meetings.

5. His Excellency in Council hopes that the Committee will be able to present their report to Government at an early date.

ORDERED that the Resolution be communicated to every member of the Committee and to the Chairman, Calcutta Corporation; Port Officer, Calcutta; Port Commissioners, Calcutta; Bengal Chamber of Commerce; Bengal National Chamber of Commerce; East Indian and Bengal-Nagpur Railways.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Steam Vessels of any draft entering Bombay Harbour, either by day or night, should experience no difficulties, the Bombay Floating light vessel moored in the fairway (Lat. 18° 50′ N., long. 72° 44′ E.) should always be made, then a course steered to pass Prongs Reef Buoy at a distance of not less than one mile, then the course should be altered direct for the Steam Pilot Vessel, which will be found on a line with Malabar Point in transit with Colaba Point. During the S.-W. Monsoon, when the weather may be such as to make it difficult for the Mariner to distinguish the more conspicuous marks, also during the cold weather months, when thick smoke haze often lies over the city and surrounding country, the best time to make the Port is an hour before sunrise, the lights then being visible will enable the Mariner to obtain an accurate position. The Bombay Floating Light Vessel is fitted with a submarine bell, also both Prongs Reef and Thull Shoal are marked by Gas buoys.

2. Pilotage is compulsory, no vessel is allowed to proceed north of Sunk Rock ; H. M. and R. I. M. Ships and other Government Vessels being exempted. All vessels making the Port during the daylight must hoist their National Ensign, and also their name by Commercial Code and at night by lamp by Morse Code to Prongs Light House, where a watch is kept day and night.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1919-20.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT.

Local Self-Government.

CALCUTTA, THE 10TH JUNE 1921.

RESOLUTION No. 2780L.S.-G.

READ—

The Reports of Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1919-20.

THE belated publication of this resolution is regretted. It is due partly to the last strike in the Government Press causing arrears in printing, which delayed the printing of the statistical appendices to the resolution, and partly to pressure of work, both in the Press and the Local Self-Government Department, in connection with the new system of government.

2. District Boards.—It is recognized that, in the present stage of local self-government in Bengal, political education is a paramount consideration to which administrative efficiency must give place. In pursuance of this policy steps have been taken to remove the District Boards from official tutelage. Orders were issued during the year under review extending to 15 more districts the system under which the chairmanship of the District Board is held by a non-official elected member. It has subsequently been decided that the same system shall be followed in the remaining districts of the Presidency, so that in future a non-official executive will be responsible for the administration of the Local Self-Government Act under a responsible Minister.

The Minister desires to take this opportunity to remind the non-official Chairmen of the great part which they may play in the task of nation-building and to appeal to them to rise to the height of their responsibility and justify the trust reposed in them.

3. Local Boards.—There is little of interest to record in the work of Local Boards, which in most cases have limited funds placed at their disposal by the District Boards and discharge routine duties. It is expected however that their sphere of usefulness will expand with the creation of Union Boards under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, for the supervision of which they are responsible.

The amendment of the election rules so as to enable more polling stations to be established appears to have had satisfactory results. It has helped to secure a much larger poll and has neutralized the advantage hitherto enjoyed by voters living close to the thana headquarters, which used generally to be the only polling station.

4. Village Self-Government.—During the year under review there were 383 Union Committees at work administering, for a population of about 4 millions, the limited functions admissible under the Bengal Local Self-Government Act. These bodies have mostly been replaced by Union Boards constituted under the Village Self-Government Act. That Act came into force on 28th May 1919, and before the end of the year sanction had been given to the establishment of 502 Union Boards : the number has now been more than trebled, being over 1,700. Full acknowledgment should be made of the work done by the former Union Committees, which paved the way for the fuller measure of village self-government now in force. The field of activity open to Union Boards is much wider. To them is entrusted the conduct of communal affairs in the villages from which the public life of the country starts. It is on the foundation of their organization, their successful work and their realization of the fact that they themselves are responsible to their fellow villagers that the imposing structure of responsible self-government in Bengal must rest.

5. Financial results.—The receipts from all sources rose to Rs. 129 lakhs, or Rs. 12½ lakhs more than in the preceding year : the increase was mainly due to larger receipts from advances and deposits. The disbursements aggregated Rs. 130·7 lakhs, an increase of Rs. 19 lakhs. The excess of current income over current expenditure, amounting in the previous year to 4½ lakhs, was reduced to Rs 38,000. The closing balances at the end of the year amounted to 34·9 lakhs.

6. Taxation.—The incidence of taxation averaged 2 annas 10 pies a head for the whole Presidency and varied in different districts from one anna 8 pies to 6 annas 8 pies.

7. Education.—The greater portion of the expenditure on education was, as usual, met by Government grants. The District Boards spent Rs. 26¾ lakhs, of which Rs. 16,20,000 was given by Government ; fees and miscellaneous receipts brought in Rs. 72,000 and contributions from other sources amounted to the small sum of Rs. 9,000. The sum contributed by the District Boards for the elementary education of the rural population aggregated Rs. 9¾ lakhs ; but this represented 9 per cent. of their income. The Minister for Local Self-Government doubts whether some of the District Boards have sufficiently realised their responsibility for the dissemination of primary education in rural areas. The expansion of primary education is necessary for the intellectual uplift, the economic progress and the political advancement of the people of Bengal; and it rests with the District Boards to facilitate expansion by whole-hearted co-operation with Government.

8. Medical relief and public health.—The District Boards established 19 new dispensaries, and maintained altogether 282 dispensaries at a cost of Rs. 4¾ lakhs; there were also 221 in receipt of grants-in-aid aggregating 2½ lakhs. No dispensaries were maintained by any of the District Boards of the Chittagong Division, which moreover failed to formulate programmes for the extension of medical relief in rural areas. The Burdwan District Board maintained 12 temporary dispensaries for the treatment of malarial fever, in addition to 17 permanent dispensaries. A floating dispensary of the Bakarganj District Board, and five hât dispensaries of the Mymensingh District Board, which proved unsuccessful, were abolished. A novel experiment was the establishment of an Ayurvedic dispensary by the Jessore District Board. The fact of its establishment is laconically reported, but nothing is said as to its success. It is hoped that future reports will not be so reticent.

The District Boards of Hooghly, 24-Parganas, Nadia and Pabna adopted a scheme for subsidizing medical practitioners in rural areas which had been initiated by the Jessore District Board. In the district last named there are subsidized doctors in 10 centres and the scheme is said to have worked satisfactorily. The services of some of the subsidized doctors were utilized for attending outbreaks of disease in the neighbouring villages, and the work done by them is said to have been much better than that of the ordinary epidemic doctors employed by the Board. Elsewhere itinerant doctors were generally employed to give medical relief during outbreaks of epidemic disease. In Mymensingh the Board had 39 doctors at work during the year.

The usual petty sanitary works, such as removing jungle, clearing roadside and village drains, filling up insanitary ditches etc., were carried on through the agency of Local Boards and Union Committees. Village sanitation committees have been formed in several places in the Nadia district for clearing jungle and bringing land under cultivation in order to prevent their relapsing into jungle: some unfortunately failed to do any useful work owing to the apathy of the zamindars. Propaganda work, such as lectures, magic lantern demonstrations, and the distribution of pamphlets on preventible diseases and the means of prevention, was carried on by Health Officers and Sanitary Inspectors, and also in Jessore by the Chairman of the District Board.

Free vaccination was introduced in the districts of the Rajshahi Division, in Burdwan, Howrah and Tippera, in the Madaripur and Goalundo subdivisions of Faridpur, in the Patuakhali subdivision of the Bakarganj district (where 18 per cent. of the population are said to have been vaccinated) and in some parts of the Kishorganj subdivision of Mymensingh.

9. Veterinary.—The expenditure of the District Boards on veterinary relief amounted to Rs. 1,12,000; and it may be mentioned as an instance of the organization in some districts that the Rangpur Board maintained 4 veterinary dispensaries and employed 6 veterinary assistants, who visited 794 villages, treated 5,529 cases and inoculated 9,538 animals, while the Pabna Board employed 3 assistants, who visited 632 villages, treated 1,716 cases (besides 1,787 at headquarters) and inoculated 3,300 animals. In Nadia some committees were formed by the people themselves to co-operate with and give help to the veterinary assistants. In Tippera a gang of systematic cattle poisoners was detected by a veterinary assistant, and five of them were convicted.

A novel experiment was the issue of a monthly magazine called Krishi Katha under the auspices of the Faridpur District Board. It is reported that the magazine contains interesting and instructive articles in popular language on agriculture, veterinary matters, etc., and is highly appreciated by the public.

10. Civil Works (General).—The returns show an increased expenditure of about Rs. 3½ lakhs, which is mainly due to the fact that in some districts the outlay on educational and medical buildings, which in some districts was previously shown under the heads "Education" and "Medical" has been included under "Civil Works." Work was generally impeded by the difficulty of obtaining road metal and coal for brick burning, which was consequent on the shortage of railway wagons. In spite of this the percentage of lapses to total allotments in the Presidency as a whole fell from 12½ to 11 per cent.

11. Communications.—In the dry districts work on roads suffered from the difficulty of obtaining materials as well as from the shortage and high price of labour. In the wet districts, where transport is by water, e.g., by rivers, streams, the channels known as khals and the lagoons called bils, complaints are common and vigorous about the obstruction caused by the water-hyacinth and the difficulty of clearing it from the waterways. In Mymensingh it was estimated that the cost of clearing the khals and bils would amount to Re 1 lakh—a sum beyond the Board's financial capacity. A scheme of eradication without adequate legal powers and without the co-operation of the zamindars and tenants was felt to be impracticable. Partial eradication of the weed was realized to be futile. In Bakarganj the conclusion was that piece-meal work is useless, for, as soon as one waterway is cleared, the weed drifts in from another, and that, unless the adjoining districts, from which the weed is spreading, work jointly on a concerted and systematic plan, it is impossible to effect any real or lasting improvement. The question has been taken up by Government in the Ministry for Agriculture and Industries and a representative committee has been appointed to devise preventive measures.

12. Water-supply.—The total expenditure on the improvement of the sources of water-supply in rural areas amounted to about 7 lakhs, of which 6¼ lakhs were spent on original works. The percentage of the Public Works cess receipts spent averaged 20 per cent. for the Presidency as a whole and rose as high as 61 per cent. in Nadia. There was a marked improvement in the Burdwan district, where the outlay was more than doubled. In Rangpur and Chittagong, on the other hand, only 6 per cent. of the receipts from the cess were spent on water-supply, and there were noticeable decreases in Midnapore, Dinajpur and the 24-Parganas. No explanation has been given of the reduced expenditure in the last two districts. In Midnapore the local officers point out that the decrease is due to a number of impracticable schemes being included in the programme, and they rightly suggest the need of carefully revising the programme, as well as of more method and foresight in executing it.

The whole of the Rs. 7 lakhs spent on water-supply was met from current revenue; and Government again take the opportunity to ask District Boards to consider the expediency of financing works of this kind from loans.

There appears to be a conviction growing in force that owing to limitations of finance the Boards cannot increase their expenditure on water-supply to any great extent, and that an appreciable improvement can only be effected by Union Boards; and it is pointed out that the villagers, who will directly benefit, will be able to get the work done cheaply under their own eyes.

13. Drainage.—The expenditure on drainage rose from Rs. 77,000 to Rs. 1,21,000, of which Rs. 53,000 was on account of the Arool Bil drainage project in the Jessore district. Progress was also made with the Nawi Sunthi drainage scheme in the 24-Parganas district. The Dinajpur District Board took up the construction of new culverts and extension of bridges so as to allow of more efficient drainage and prevent damage by flood, while in Bakarganj the excavation and re-excavation of khals are said to have improved the drainage of the district.

14. Relief Works.—In Bankura famine conditions prevailed during the first half of the year, but relief measures were closed early in October when a bumper crop of paddy brought in plenty to the district. A number of irrigation bandhs (reservoirs) and tanks were excavated and improved out of the grants received from Government. They relieved distress among the labouring classes and are expected to be a safeguard against future failure of crops by providing sources of irrigation in seasons of drought. Irrigation societies on co-operative lines have also been formed for the furtherance of this object. In Bogra the District Board spent Rs. 21,000 on the relief of distress in areas affected by floods.

In the 24 Parganas the District Board arranged, in collaboration with the Sadar Subdivisional Officer, for the supply of Burma rice in rural areas. Rice to the value of Rs. 1,50,000 was purchased and sold at a net profit of nearly Rs. 5,000. In Bakarganj the District Board, in order to mitigate the distress caused by the high price and scarcity of local rice, undertook the sale of Burma rice at cost price with money advanced from the District Fund. Altogether 75,000 maunds of rice were imported at a cost of about 4½ lakhs and sold to the public. The scheme is described as having been of the greatest possible value, while it paid for itself, the account closing with a surplus of Rs. 12,519. The example of Bakarganj in this respect might be followed by other District Boards where the local conditions favour the trial of such an experiment.

15. Closing Balances.—The total of the actual balances remained practically the same as in the previous year. They are still large in some districts, notably Burdwan, whose balance was reduced by Rs. 69,000, but still amounted to Rs. 4,38,000, of which the Asansol Local Board was responsible for nearly 2 lakhs. This result is attributed to the failure to complete works owing to shortage of materials and difficulties of labour, and also to delay over a supplementary budget of the Local Board. In spite of this, the expenditure on civil works in this district aggregated 6½ lakhs or 1½ lakhs more than in any other district in Bengal. The large balance of Rs. 3,62,000 at the credit of the 24-Parganas District Board is accounted for by the accumulation of Government grants for anti-malarial schemes of drainage. An increase of Rs. 78,000 in the balance retained by the Howrah District Board has not been explained. The Bakarganj District Board cleared off the accumulation of the previous year, retaining only an actual balance of Rs. 30,000 against a current expenditure of over 7 lakhs.

16. General remarks.—The main problem of the District Boards is one of finance. They are faced with constantly increasing demands for a standard of administration based on modern ideas. To mention a few instances, the reforms urged upon them include the expansion of primary education, the adoption of a comprehensive public health policy for the prevention of disease, the creation of a network of charitable dispensaries, more and better roads to enable the villagers to bring their goods to local markets or to the railways, the improvement of the water-supply, etc. The existing revenues of the Boards are not sufficient to supply the needs of the districts in spite of the fact that their income has been nearly doubled by Government giving them the receipts from the public works cess. Their position has become one of increasing difficulty, and there is a general complaint about the inequality between revenues and requirements. "Wherever I go," writes the Chairman of the Jessore District Board, "people ask for tanks, dispensaries and roads, but where is the money to come from? The Local Boards, Union and Dispensary Committees complain about the inadequacy of funds and ask for increased contributions from the Board. The problems of water-supply, sanitation and medical relief cannot be solved without more funds."

The Chairman of the Faridpur District Board observes:—"In some parts no proper medical aid is yet available except at an extravagant cost; in some, the question of the supply of pure water is as acute as ever and in some roads are urgently needed to open out inaccessible areas. It is doubtful, however, whether in view of the demands which have of late been made on the purse, the Board will in future be in a position to satisfy these needs to the extent that the condition of the district requires. They have been asked to keep up a well-paid Health Officer and his staff; they are expected to pay all the costs of free vaccination; and they are being constantly urged to extend the operations of the Veterinary Department. These are laudable objects, but they are costly and the income of the Board is limited. If the Board have to provide all the money, they must do so by the curtailment of their expenditure in some important respects. I was responsible for the framing of the budget of the present year. All that I could find money for under the head of "Communications" was to make arrangements for the upkeep of the existing roads and to meet the cost of the construction of those roads which have already been taken up. No new roads could be included in the programme." The District Magistrate of Bakarganj again reports: "The income of the Board is fixed and the expenditure expands automatically every year. The limit has now been reached and it will soon be impossible to take up new work." His remarks are endorsed by the Commissioner, who remarks: "The District Boards have come to the limit of their resources, and still the amount of money spent on public health and education is only a portion of what it ought to be."

The necessity for increasing the income of the District Boards in order to cope with expanding demands made upon them is apparent; and the question of devising means to augment their resources will be taken into consideration in connection with the amendment of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act on which the Minister has already asked for the views of the District Boards.

17. The good work done by the following office bearers and members of District and Local Boards has been brought to notice in the reports received from the Commissioners of Divisions, and the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government) desire to express their appreciation of their public spirit and to thank them for their services.

EASEMENTS AND ALLOWANCES OF CIRCLE OFFICERS.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

APPOINTMENT DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION—No. 4397A.

IN connection with the proposals for the introduction of the complete circle system in Bengal, the question of easements and allowances of circle officers has been under the consideration of Government for some time past. Sub-Deputy Collectors at present employed on circle work draw a local allowance of Rs. 25 a month, and daily allowance, while on tour, at 50 per cent. in excess of the rates ordinarily admissible. In paragraph 148 of their report, the District Administration Committee recommended that circle officers should be given free quarters and, in addition, should receive certain local allowances, but no travelling allowances for journeys within their own circles. The Governor in Council agrees that as circle officers will be primarily touring officers, it is desirable to simplify arrangements by doing away with travelling allowance bills. It is impracticable to provide residences for these officers at once, and the Governor in Council has therefore decided that, until residences are provided for them, Sub-Deputy Collectors employed on circle work should draw a house allowance of Rs. 25 a month, to which should be added a local allowance of Rs. 50 in dry districts and Rs. 75, including boat allowance, in river districts. For purposes of these allowances districts have been classified as shown in appendix I to this Resolution. The allowances will be admissible to all officers employed on circle work from the 1st June 1921.

ORDER.—Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions and to the Local Self-Government, Political (Police) and Revenue Departments of this Government for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Accountant-General, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,

to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

Report of the Committee appointed by a Conference held at Government House, Calcutta, to advise on the establishment of a Technical School in Calcutta.

UNDER the Resolution No. 348Edn., dated the 27th February 1919, the Government of Bengal appointed a Committee with Sir Rajendra Nath Mukerjee, K.C.I.E., as Chairman to consider and advise the Government as to the arrangements that should be made to afford selected mechanical apprentices in the Eastern Bengal Railway workshops at Kanchrapara an opportunity of taking advantage of the classes at Sibpur College in order to obtain a higher specialized training in subjects bearing on their work. The Committee were instructed to frame a scheme which would be directly applicable also to other workshops, the authorities of which might desire to participate in it, and which would have regard to the requirements of Indian as well as European apprentices. In their report the Committee laid down the principle that mechanical engineering training can only be given by effectively combining sound practical training under commercial conditions with simultaneous theoretical training. Recognition of this principle, they held, involved the establishment of a suitable technical school at Kanchrapara where theoretical courses co-ordinated with the practical work could be given, and the abandonment of the lower classes in the Mechanical Engineering Department at the Sibpur College as soon as their place could be taken by the Technical School at Kanchrapara or by similar schools elsewhere; while Sibpur should be utilized for the final training of the mechanical engineer, after he had completed, at Kanchrapara or elsewhere, such portion of the workshop apprenticeship as might be prescribed. The Committee proceeded to elaborate a scheme for the establishment of a school at Kanchrapara, which would serve as a model for similar schools at other centres in Bengal. The Committee further pointed out the necessity of establishing a common standard for entrance to apprenticeship, for the courses to be taught at the schools, and for the final examinations by which the results of the training would be determined, and with a view to securing these common standards, they recommended the creation of a central authority to be designated the Board of Control for Apprenticeship Training. The report of the Committee was accepted by Government and arrangements for the establishment of a technical school at Kanchrapara are now in progress.

2. At a conference held at Government House, Calcutta, on the 18th November 1919, it was resolved that steps should be taken to establish in Calcutta a technical school with the object of training foremen mechanics, in conjunction with the local engineering workshops, and in conjunction with the Bengal Engineering College at Sibpur, a limited number of engineers. The conference appointed a representative committee to work out a scheme on these lines, and its report was submitted to a further meeting of the conference held on the 1st July 1920. The Committee recommended the establishment of a technical school on a site in Corporation Street and submitted plans for a building designed to provide immediate accommodation for 500 students and capable of being expanded to accommodate 1,000. They considered that the main provisions of the scheme for apprenticeship training at the Kanchrapara workshops of the Eastern Bengal Railway should be applied, as far as possible, to the Calcutta Technical School. They further recommended that the school should be the property of trustees and be managed by a governing body as a non-Government institution. These proposals were adopted by the conference, and Government are taking steps to give effect to them. The site in Corporation Street is now being acquired, and it is expected that building operations will shortly commence.

3. These schemes have now reached a stage at which it is necessary to appoint the Board of Control for Apprenticeship Training and the governing body of the Calcutta Technical School. The Government of Bengal in the Ministry of Agriculture and Public Works are accordingly pleased to constitute a Board of Control for Apprenticeship Training and to appoint to it the following members who will hold office for a period of three years :—

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Education.

CALCUTTA, THE 13TH JUNE 1921.

RESOLUTION—No. 1152Edn.

NEXT month will see the opening of the first session of Dacca University, and it is understood that the Dacca University Act (Act XVIII of 1920) will come into force on the 1st July 1921.

2. The starting of Dacca University involves the closing of the Jagannath College, Dacca, as a first grade college affiliated to the University of Calcutta. This was foreseen. Dacca University will from the outset include the Jagannath Hall and in the winter session of 1920 the Indian Legislative Council passed an Act (Act No. XVI of 1920) to transfer the Jagannath College from its trustees to the Government of Bengal. This Act received the assent of the Governor-General on the 20th March 1920, and according to sub-section (2) of section 1 of the Act it was to come into force on such date as the Governor-General in Council might, by notification in the Gazette of India, direct.

3. In notification. No. 769, dated the 31st May 1921, the Governor-General in Council was pleased to direct that the Jagannath College Act should come into force on the 4th June 1921. The Jagannath College, Dacca, is therefore now the property of the Government of Bengal.

4. One of the features of the Dacca University scheme is that the University's curriculum excludes what is now the first and second year course, whether in arts or science, of the Calcutta University syllabus, and begins at the stage on which a Calcutta University student enters, after passing the Intermediate Examination of that University. Moreover, while section 47 of the Dacca University Act withdraws, on the commencement of the Act, any privileges which may previously have been granted by any University incorporated by law in British India, other than the University of Dacca, to any educational institution situated within the limits of Dacca University as defined in the Act of Incorporation, and prohibits any such educational institution from being associated with, or admitted to any privileges of, any such University other than the University of Dacca, sub-section (5) of section 6 of the said Act ordains that it shall not be lawful for the University of Dacca to conduct courses or maintain classes for the purpose of preparing students for admission to the University.

5. The Government of Bengal (Ministry of Education) have already, in their Resolution No. 1011Edn., dated the 7th May 1921, constituted a temporary and provisional board for the direction and control of secondary and intermediate education within the Dacca University area, and among the duties assigned temporarily to this Board will be the conduct of examinations at the Matriculation and Intermediate stages. During 1920 the Governor in Council had worked out a scheme for intermediate colleges in Dacca, and in July 1920 the Dacca Intermediate College (a Government institution) was opened on a temporary and provisional basis.

6. This scheme is now under the consideration of the Government of Bengal in the Ministry of Education, but pending a decision on the general question, it is essential that provision should be made in Dacca for intermediate classes. The Government of Bengal (Ministry of Education) have decided that the Dacca Intermediate College should be continued, possibly with some modifications, on the temporary and provisional basis on which it was instituted. They have also decided, after consulting the local authorities, to inaugurate as a provisional measure an intermediate college in the Jagannath College buildings on an aided basis.

7. The Government of Bengal (Ministry of Education) therefore appoint the following to constitute the governing body of the Jagannath Intermediate College :—

(1) The Commissioner of the Dacca Division ...	Member and President (ex officio).
(2) Khan Bahadur Khwaja Muhammad Azam, M.L.C., a member of the District Moslem Association, Dacca.	Members.
(3) Khwaja Nazimuddin, Bar-at-law, member of the Provincial Muhammadan Association, Dacca.
(4) Choudhury Kazemuddin Ahmed Siddiqui, a member of the Dacca Municipality and Vice-President of the Provincial Muhammadan Association.
(5) Babu Rebati Mohan Das, a member of the East Bengal Landholders' Association.
(6) Babu Sarat Chandra Chakrabarty, a member of the Dacca Municipality and Chairman of the Dacca District Board..
(7) Mr. P. K. Bose, Bar-at-Law ...
(8) Babu Dhirendra Chandra Roy, Vice-Chairman, Dacca Municipality, and a representative of the Trustees of the Jagannath College.
(9) The Rev. J. L. Fawcett, Oxford Mission, Dacca.
(10) The Rev. Harold Bridges, Baptist Mission, Dacca.
(11) Nawab Khwaja Muhammad Yusuf, Khan Bahadur a representative of Dacca Intermediate and Secondary Education Board.
(12) A member of the Jagannath Intermediate College teaching staff, to be elected by that staff.
(13) The Principal of the Jagannath Intermediate College staff.	Member and Secretary (ex officio).

8. The Government of Bengal (Ministry of Education) will place at the disposal of the governing body, free of all charges, the buildings and equipment of the Jagannath College, and it will be the duty of the governing body, with the assistance of a grant from Government and subject to the general stipulations prescribed in the grant-in-aid rules, to maintain and conduct the institution working as an intermediate college in accordance with the general conditions imposed on such institutions by the Dacca Intermediate and Secondary Education Board.

9. The first duty of the governing body will be to settle, in consultation with the Intermediate and Secondary Education Board, the courses of study which in their opinion the college should provide, and thereafter to draw up definite and detailed proposals for staffing the college and for meeting its other needs. A budget showing the anticipated receipts and proposed expenditure of the college from the date of its opening up to the 28th February 1922 should then be drawn up on the basis of these proposals and presented to the Education Department, and on the basis of this budget the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Education) will assess the monthly grant-in-aid which they will be prepared to sanction for the remainder of the current financial year.

10. The Government of Bengal (Ministry of Education) reserve to themselves the right of converting, at any future date, the Jagannath Intermediate College into a Government institution. Therefore the arrangement outlined above, being of necessity provisional, the governing body should not enter into any agreement with any of its proposed employees extending beyond the coming session (1921-22). It will also be necessary for the governing body in working out the arrangements for the conduct of the college to observe all possible economy. The Government of Bengal (Ministry of Education) trust that in designing the courses for the college the governing body will not overlook the present demand for practical courses of study leading up to definite vocations in life.

11. The governing body appointed in this Resolution will hold office until the close of the coming academical session, 1921-22.

By order of the Government of Bengal
(Ministry of Education),

L. S. S. O'MALLEY,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

JUDICIAL.

Simla, the 8th June 1921.

No. 1073.—The Hon'ble Justice Sir J. G. Woodroffe, Kt., Barrister-at-Law, a Judge of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, is granted privilege leave for one month, with effect from the 28th July 1921.

No. 1075.—The Hon'ble Mr. Justice P. L. Buckland, Barrister-at-Law, a Judge of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, is granted privilege leave for one month, with effect from the 28th July 1921.

No. 1082.—The following statement of the Reasons for the Revision of the Rules of the Appellate Side of the High Court of Calcutta, is published for general information at the request of the Honourable the Chief Justice and Judges of the High Court :—

Statement of Reasons for the Revision of the Rules of the High Court, Appellate Side, relating to the preparation of paper-books, and of action taken by the High Court in connection therewith.

It is desirable to explain for the benefit of those who are unacquainted with the subject, what "Paper-books" are and the necessity for them.

As most people are aware, the cases in which no appeal is allowed by the law of India are comparatively few. In cases of small value, appeals are allowed to the District Courts or to the Courts of Subordinate Judges, as the case may be, and a further appeal known as a Second Appeal is permitted to the High Court on points of law. In suits of greater value, the appeal lies to the High Court direct, such appeals being known as First Appeals, and where the value of the suit is greater still, there is a further appeal to His Majesty in Council, generally known as an appeal to the Privy Council. Though this memorandum deals only with the rules of the Appellate Side of the High Court, that is to say, with rules relating to appeals in cases tried by the Mofussil Courts, it may be stated that as regards suits tried on the Original Side of the High Court an appeal lies to two or more Judges of the Court and from them, in cases of appropriate value, to the Privy Council.

In the Court of first instance the record consists of the pleadings, affidavits, etc., prepared by the parties or their pleaders, the depositions of witnesses recorded by the trial Judge in his own hand, the documents, which may be of every kind and description, filed in the course of the trial, the orders made from time to time by the Judge and recorded by him on the order sheet, and finally the judgment (also a manuscript or possibly a typed document), signed by the Judge. For the purpose of First Appeals (in Second Appeals only the pleadings, the judgments and the memoranda of appeal are ordinarily printed) this mass of papers, generally voluminous, always inconvenient to handle, has to be placed in some suitable form before the Judges of the appellate tribunal, omitting such papers as are not essential to the hearing of the appeal. In the High Court, both Judges require to be provided with copies of all necessary papers, while in the Privy Council, the number of Judges is usually three at the least. In addition to the Judges hearing the appeal, the Counsel or Pleaders of the parties require to be furnished with copies of the record for the purpose of arguing the case and further copies are required for purposes of record. It is, therefore, clear that the initial record is wholly insufficient for the proper conduct of the proceedings. It has, accordingly, been the practice, now for very many years past, to collect and print, in book-form, copies of so much of the record as may be required. Where documents are in the vernacular, they are translated, and copies of the translations are included in the record. These books have come to be known by the name of "paper-books," and it is with preparation of these "paper-books" that the revised rules to which this statement relates are concerned.

In the case of appeals to the Calcutta High Court, the paper-books in appeals other than First Appeals have always been prepared under the direct supervision of the office of the Court, but as regards First Appeals, until the recent revision of the Appellate Side Rules, the paper-books were usually prepared by the Vakils for the appellants. The latter were responsible for the elimination of unnecessary matter from the paper-book, the translation of all vernacular documents to be included therein, the editing and arrangement of papers, the selection of a suitable press, the passing of the material through the press, the correction of the proofs, and the final production of the paper-book in proper form.

Complaints made by the Privy Council

For twenty years or more the Privy Council at intervals have complained, sometimes in scathing terms, of the paper-books supplied to them. These complaints having passed unheeded and no general improvement having occurred, their Lordships in 1916 addressed a formal communication on the subject to the Secretary of State, of which a copy was duly forwarded to the High Court with a covering letter from the Government of India.

Excessive delays

Their Lordships drew attention in the first instance to the delay in the conduct of Indian appeals and particularly to the time which often elapsed between the date of the decree appealed from and the arrival of the printed record in England. They stated that in appeals received in England in 1915 the average delay in the latter respect was two years eight months. They viewed "such a state of things as a public scandal" and were of opinion that "its existence often converted the right of appeal to the Sovereign into an instrument of oppression."

Coming from such a source, these were strong words but they were hardly stronger than the comments to be found in some of their Lordships' published judgments, accessible to all the world in the current Law Reports.

Attention was drawn in one case to a delay of seven years and in another to a delay of ten years, subsequent to the date of the decree of the High Court. In a third case, their Lordships said :—

"Delay in litigation means to every one concerned, in whatever country he may be, needless expense, anxiety and disappointment, and to the poor and honest suitor it is an oppression hard to be borne."

(Haradas vs The Secretary of State for India in Council, 26, C. L. J 590, at page 601.)

In a fourth case this passage occurs :—

"It is now seventy years since Lord Macaulay pointed out that the delay in Indian litigation constituted a reproach to our administration and their Lordships feel with regret that this reproach has not been taken away. A period of fifteen years is needlessly long for the determination of any suit and more than that period has elapsed since the plaints in these proceedings were issued."

Such observations arrest attention. The subject had to be examined, and no thinking person, at all cognisant of the evils of excessive delays in litigation, would say that, if a remedy could be devised, things should be left as they were.

These cases above referred to led to a proposal that the law should be altered so as to empower a High Court to refuse leave to appeal to the Privy Council in cases where no substantial point of law was involved even though the High Court reversed the decision of the Lower Court. But the High Court repelled the proposal on the ground that it would give greater weight to the High Court's decision on facts than to that of the Court which saw the witnesses and heard the evidence.

No more was heard of this proposal and it is noticed only for the purpose of showing how far the search for a remedy was carried.

Something was done by amending the Civil Procedure Code and the Limitation Act to abbreviate some of the stages through which suits and appeals are wont to pass. But such legislation did not touch the principal source of delay in appeals to His Majesty, namely, the time occupied in the preparation of the paper-books.

Printing unnecessary matter and bad arrangement.

Delay, however, was not the only ground on which the Privy Council founded their complaints regarding paper-books. Their Lordships, it was stated, are also of opinion that "sufficient control is not exercised by the Courts (i.e., the High Courts) (1) in eliminating from the record unnecessary documents and (2) in providing that the documents which are included are printed in proper order." Reference was made to the fact that paper-books frequently contained hundreds of pages of unnecessary matter and as to arrangement it was said :—

"Often documents and depositions do not follow one another in any logical or even in any chronological order; they are often merely chaotic; and exhibits are introduced either at random or simply as they were put in at the trial."

It was, therefore, apparent that in the view of the Privy Council the state of things which existed constituted an intolerable public scandal and called for an effective remedy. As the Government of India said in their covering letter (dated October, 1916), "drastic and radical measures" were necessary to terminate "a long existing evil."

Though under the system in force at the time in the Calcutta High Court, the paper-books in First appeals to the Court had already been prepared, if in any case an appeal was subsequently taken to the Privy Council it was necessary to prepare a new paper-book.

The system was obviously in fault and the Government of India were not slow to put a finger on the weak spot. "In the majority of cases," they said, "all the material parts of a record in a Privy Council appeal are printed twice over, once for the High Court and again for the Privy Council." It was, accordingly, suggested that if all High Court appeals were printed in the form required by the Privy Council rules and a sufficient number of copies were struck off at the time, there would be no necessity for reprinting at all. It would then only be necessary to print the High Court's judgment, and all the materials for a Privy Council record would be ready and could be despatched within, at all events, three months from the date of the grant of the certificate by the Court.

The Judges replied to the Government of India in February 1917. The suggestion made by the Government was discussed but rather with reference to details of cost than with a view to a change of system. The admission which the Judges were compelled to make in the course of their letter was for that reason perhaps the more striking :—

> "A reason for present delay," they wrote, "is the haphazard manner in which paper-books from which appeals to the Privy Council arose, are prepared by the Vakils, with the result that the Sworn Examiners have, in a large number of cases, practically to prepare a new paper-book and to refer to the original documents."

Even at that date, it may be added, one of the Judges was disposed to go further than the rest of the Court and to lay it down as a principle that in every case the Privy Council should have before them the paper-book used in the High Court with such additions as might be necessary. The correctness of that principle cannot be disputed.

Amendments dated 17th May 1917.

It may be worth while noting that in May 1917, the High Court made certain amendments in the rules of the Appellate Side in order to expedite matters so far as they could be expedited without legislation or a complete change of system. No exception was taken to these amendments.

The Government of India had, of course, consulted all the High Courts in India. Having done so, they reported to the Secretary of State, and in April 1920, copies were received of correspondence which had passed.

In brief, the Privy Council accepted the recommendation ultimately made by the Government of India "that the record in all appeals to the Appellate Court in India of Rs. 10,000 (appealable amount) in value, where the record is ordinarily printed for the Appellate Court, should, unless the Court otherwise directs, be printed in Privy Council form. Their Lordships desired that the High Courts should be asked to frame a rule giving effect to this proposal.

In order to avoid reprinting in case of appeal to the Privy Council a sufficient number of copies were to be struck off to meet the requirements of both the Appellate Court and the Privy Council.

Their Lordships also directed that paper-books should be prepared under the direct supervision of officers of the High Court, in accordance with the practice in the Calcutta High Court in the case of Second Appeals

Stress was laid on the necessity for accuracy in these terms :—

" If the paper-book prepared for the use of the Appellate Court is to form part of the record in an appeal to the Privy Council, it is a matter of the utmost importance that it should be accurately prepared, more especially as the original documents, which are before the High Court for reference if required, are not transmitted to England."

Lastly, their Lordships intimated that they had received with disapproval the information that records were generally retranslated. They considered that the practice was wasteful both of time and money, and that it should be discontinued wherever it existed.

An order in Council was issued on the 9th February 1920, rescinding the regulations in force for Appeals to His Majesty and making new regulations, two of which (Nos. 3 and 4) contemplate that the Registrar should exercise control over the documents to be included in a paper-book.

The Secretary of State in a despatch dated 29th January 1920, intimated to the Government of India that most of their proposals would be covered by the Order in Council (a draft of which had previously been sent out) and that he approved of the remainder of the proposals. He trusted that the Government would "be able to have effect given to all at a very early date."

The Government of India's forwarding letter concluded with a request that the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and Judges might be moved to take early steps to introduce certain rules of procedure including :—

> " (ii) that the system of preparation and transmission of the record to England detailed in Part IV of the letter from the Registrar of the Privy Council dated the 27th November 1919, enclosed with the Secretary of State's despatch of the 29th January 1920, should be adopted, the system of retranslating records for the Privy Council being discontinued wherever it exists."

It is unnecessary to emphasize again the importance of the subject-matter of these communications and the extent of the evil for which a remedy was required. It was also, unfortunately, common knowledge that most of the complaints which the Privy Council had made in individual cases related to appeals from the Calcutta High Court, this being the only Court in India where the paper-books were not originally prepared in the Court. The Judges of the Calcutta Court, therefore, felt that a special and imperative duty was imposed on them to put their house in order.

The Judges were confronted not only with the necessity for radical reform but also with the position that in future paper-books in appeals of over Rs. 10,000 in value were to be prepared in Privy Council form in the office of the High Court. The objections to the old system under which the paper-books were prepared by Vakils applied (as the Judges were too well aware) quite as much in the case of appeals under Rs. 10,000 in value as in the case of appeals over that value. Statistics showed that of the Regular Appeals to the High Court filed during 1917, 1918 and 1919, 43 per cent. were valued at Rs. 10,000 and more. Allowing for consolidation of appeals to the Privy Council in cases valued at less than Rs. 10,000, the Court expected that in compliance with the instructions of the Privy Council, they would have to undertake the preparation of about 50 or 55 per cent. of the paper-books in Regular Appeals. It is quite true that the Privy Council did not concern themselves with appeals valued at less than Rs. 10,000, but the line of demarcation is difficult to lay down. In appeals valued under Rs. 10,000 an appeal might lie to the Privy Council if the decree or final order involved, directly or indirectly, some claim or question to or respecting property of the value of Rs. 10,000 or upwards. It was also necessary to bear in mind that, speaking generally, all Regular or First Appeals must at any rate exceed Rs. 5,000 in value inasmuch as suits of which the value is Rs. 5,000 or less only come to the High Court in Second Appeal. Paper-books in Second Appeals have always been prepared in the office of the Court. The conclusion was obvious that there could not be two systems for the preparation of paper-books, one in First Appeals of Rs. 10,000 or more in value and in Second Appeals, and another for First Appeals exceeding Rs. 5,000 but less than Rs. 10,000 in value. Two systems and two sets of rules, when the work is identical, would be an anomaly giving rise to needless complication.

It is of interest, in this connection, to state that according to the statistics of the last three years the average number of First Appeals to the High Court formed only 8·8 per cent. of the total number of appeals. The figures are as follows:—

	First Appeals.	Second Appeals.	Miscellaneous Appeals.
1919	316	2,810	379
1920	280	2,941	431
Total ...	938	8,587	1,135
Average	313	2,862	378
Percentage	8·8	80·6	10·6

It should also be mentioned that one of the difficulties of the old system lay in the handling of records and the divided responsibility for the safety of valuable documents, many of them old and easily injured. The ultimate responsibility of the Court for the custody of its records cannot be overlooked.

The cardinal principle was accepted generally, though subject to the preparation of detailed rules by a Committee of the Judges. The Committee, not forgetting the Vakils and their interests, recommended that if the change of system were adopted, "an endeavour should be made, so far as may be practicable, to employ the best of the Vakils now engaged in this work to assist the Court in the translation of documents and the preparation of paper-books." With that rider, they reported to the Full Court by whom the report was duly accepted.

In logical sequence, the existing rules were amended and the Government of India were addressed firstly, in a letter, dated 27th August 1920, for the purpose of obtaining the approval of the Governor-General in Council to such of the new rules as were considered by law to require his approval, and secondly, in a letter, dated the 30th August 1920, for the purpose of obtaining the sanction of the Government of India to the engagement and employment of the necessary additional staff.

In that letter, the Registrar wrote that, in order to deal with the anticipated increase in the volume of work in this section (the paper-book section), it was proposed—

(1) to employ a number of Vakils as temporary Translators who would be paid by piecework from the translation fees deposited by the parties;

(2) to employ a staff of Editors, with special qualifications, who would be permanent assistants of the Court;

(3) to enlarge the staff of proof-readers who would also be permanent assistants of the Court.

Detailed proposals were then made, and it was stated that the Acting Chief Justice (establishments being in the sole charge of the Chief Justice) was "convinced that the adoption of the proposals outlined will result in a considerable improvement in this branch of the work of the Court."

The Government of India replied by telegram on the 11th November 1920, sanctioning the scheme provisionally subject to certain conditions.

The revised rules, therefore, came into force on the re-opening of the Court after the vacation of 1920.

At this point, the Vakils' Association (which it must, in fairness, be stated had had no previous opportunity of stating its views) addressed a letter dated 26th November 1920, to the Registrar taking certain exceptions to the revised rules. Inter alia, exception was taken to Chapter V, Rule 43 "which," it was stated, "deprives Vakils altogether of the right of preparing their clients' paper-books in their offices, which not only provided suitable occupation to a large number of Vakils, but was generally to the advantage of the litigants." "The Association," it was added, "is prepared to concede that there was room for improving the conditions under which paper-books were prepared in Vakils' offices, but to take away the right altogether is quite another matter."

It is said that the Vakils have enjoyed the privilege for 40 years or more. But it seems clear that the system is inherently defective; moreover, it is not in vogue in any other High Court in India. The mere admission by the Vakils that the system was capable of improvement cannot be accepted as an adequate statement of the conditions which existed. The Judges have had experience of paper-books so abounding in misprints and other errors, and so 'chaotically' arranged that there might well be a danger of justice miscarrying.

Moreover, even if the preparation of the paper-books had been left in the hands of the Vakils it would have been necessary, in order to give effect to the wishes of the Privy Council, to devise some complicated system of supervision by the officers of the Court. It can hardly be doubted that Vakils would have found such supervision extremely irritating.

Sympathy is due to the younger Vakils if, as is stated, the introduction of the new system deprives them of a source of profit. At the same time, this can hardly be regarded as the point of view from which the question should be approached, more specially as the work of preparing and editing paper-books can scarcely be regarded as the final objective of a course of legal training. The paper-books probably suffered in the past from so much of the work being delegated to young and inexperienced men It is confidently anticipated that in the long run the new system will benefit litigants and generally further the administration of justice. That is a sufficient justification for the change; other considerations are secondary and must give way to the paramount purpose of all rules of this kind. It has also to be borne in mind that a considerable number of Vakils will receive employment in the Court's office in connection with the preparation of paper-books.

Reforms in procedure can seldom be carried out without temporary injury to some of those who are following the practice of the law at the time of their introduction, however beneficial they may be to their successors. No one has a vested interest in procedure and it is common knowledge how strongly excessive delays in litigation were denounced in England and how extensive were the reforms in procedure which were there carried out during the nineteenth century.

In reply to their letter of 26th November, the Vakils were informed that a further representation from the Association would be considered by the Court. They, accordingly, submitted the observations contained in their letter of 27th December last. That letter which is of great length conveyed a number of sound, able and valuable criticisms which deserved and received the most careful attention at the hands of the Judges. The rules were thoroughly overhauled and revised, and changes of great importance were made (see amendments notified on 2nd March 1921). The principal amendments are enumerated in the Registrar's letter to the Vakils' Association, dated the 28th February 1921, a copy of which is appended (Annexure I).

In regard to the criticisms directed against the revised rules on the ground that they increase the costs of litigation in First Appeals, no doubt page for page paper-books under the new system will cost more than paper-books under the old system. But against this must be set the saving which, it may justifiably be assumed, will be secured by the exclusion of useless matter and more generally by the introduction of system and method into the work. Properly prepared paper-books may also be expected to diminish the time occupied in hearing appeals. Any abbreviation of the total period occupied by a suit or appeal, from start to finish, will itself be an economy. The paper-book is seldom, if ever, the main source of expense in a contested case, and as the Privy Council point out, in the long run delay presses more hardly on the poor suitor than on the rich suitor.

In regard to the inclusion of unnecessary matter in paper-books, reference may be made to a recent letter received from the Registrar of the Privy Council a copy of which is appended (Annexure II).

It being at least conceded that the old system was capable of improvement, it must be evident that no improvement could have been effected in that system itself without some increase of expenditure. Better printing and better proof-reading mean greater cost. It is notorious that the price of paper and the wages of the compositors, etc., have risen everywhere by leaps and bounds. Even before any change of system had been mooted, a representation had been received signed by sixty-six Vakils, asking for an increase of the printing costs allowed by the Court.

It is understood that as regards First Appeals to the Court, objection is taken (1) to the increase in the cost of printing and (2) to the increase in the cost of editing; and that as regards Second Appeals, the rules have been criticised, inasmuch as it is alleged that, although the paper-books are not now printed but typed, nevertheless, on the basis of estimates already received, there has been a substantial increase in the cost of the preparation of the paper-books. It is understood that as regards the increase in the charges for translation, no objection is raised by the Vakils.

The question of expense is, of course, one on which the Court will keep a close watch and the steps which the Court have taken and propose to take in this matter are indicated briefly in the following paragraphs.

As regards the cost of printing, in order, if possible, to introduce a lower scale of charges, the Court on the 31st January, 1921, invited eight of the leading private Presses in Calcutta to submit tenders for printing paper-books. The rates quoted by three of these firms were considerably in excess of those quoted by the Government of India Press; while the remaining firms which were addressed refused to undertake the work at all. The Court have since been in communication with some of the smaller private printing firms in Calcutta and have received quotations which are approximately 33⅓ per cent. lower than the rates quoted by the Government Press. By way of experiment, the Court have arranged to entrust the printing of a limited number of paper-books to some of these Presses. When these paper-books have been printed, the Court will be in a position to judge whether any further work might, without objection, be entrusted to these Presses in preference to the Government of India Press. If it is found that a group of these smaller private printing firms can do the work expeditiously and satisfactorily as regards cost and production—a matter with regard to which further experience is necessary—it is believed that the objections with regard to the cost of printing can be met.

As regards the cost of editing, it must be remembered that more competent editing of the paper-books may secure that, in spite of the additional cost of paper and printing, the total cost of the preparation of paper-books will on the average be reduced. The editing charge now leviable under the Appellate Side Rules amounts to Re. 1 a page in the case of printed paper-books and annas 8 a page in the case of typed paper-books. From the editing charges must be met the salaries of the staff, other than the Translators and the Copyists, directly concerned with the preparation of paper-books. These charges should also be sufficient to cover the cost of the stationery used in the Paper-book Department. The Judges will endeavour to reduce the cost of working this Department to the minimum consistent with the maintenance of efficiency, and they anticipate that they will shortly be in a position, on the basis of the work actually passing through the Department, to form a fairly accurate estimate of the permanent recurring expenditure necessary for its maintenance. Should it appear that the total estimated receipts on account of editing charges are likely to be in excess of the recurring expenditure on account of the Paper-book Department, the Court will reduce their scale of charges accordingly.

With regard to Second Appeals, a good deal of misapprehension has arisen owing to the fact that since the beginning of August last, full charges have been levied from the appellants on account of the preparation of paper-books in cases of Second Appeal, including the cost of printing or typing the the judgments and the memoranda of appeal.

It is difficult to trace the origin of the practice in accordance with which a considerable share of the expenditure involved in preparing paper-books in Second Appeals was met from public funds, the fact being that copies of the judgments, remand orders and grounds of appeal were printed by the Government Press at public expense. The practice has obtained for more than forty years: its existence had been lost sight of until the revision of the rules was undertaken and, on investigation, the Court could not find any direct authority for the charge of this sum to Government. The Judges, therefore, felt themselves bound to report to the Government of India accordingly, but the modification of the former practice in this respect is in no way consequential on the recent revision of the Appellate Side Rules. Three tabular statements (Annexure III) are attached showing the costs under the old rules and the revised rules respectively of the preparation of paper-books relating to three typical Second Appeals with regard to which the allegation has been made that in spite of paper-books now being typed, there has nevertheless been a substantial increase in the cost of the preparation of the paper-books. Inasmuch as there was no authority under the old rules for excluding from the total cost of the paper-book the costs of printing the judgments and the memoranda of appeal, the correct basis of comparison is between the 5th and the 7th columns. If these two columns be compared, it will be seen that with reference to all these appeals, there has been a very considerable decrease in expenditure on account of the preparation of the paper-books. Even if the charges in columns 1 and 3 be compared, it will be seen that the increase of cost in two of the cases is inconsiderable and in one of the cases, viz., No. 1122 of 1920, there has actually been a decrease of cost. In order to decrease the expenditure involved in the preparation of paper-books in Second Appeals, the Judges, in February last, decided to accept typed paper-books in Second Appeals. It is, of course, very desirable that the cost of litigation should be reduced to a minimum, more especially in the case of Second Appeals in which the poorer litigants are largely concerned. But the question whether aid can be given from the public revenues can only be decided by those who are responsible for the expenditure of those revenues.

ANNEXURE I

No. G.-972, dated the 28th February 1921.

From—N. G. A. EDGLEY, ESQ., Registrar, Appellate Side, High Court, Calcutta,

To—The Honorary Secretary, Vakils' Association, High Court, Calcutta.

I am directed to refer to the Court's letter No. 9870-G., dated the 14th December 1920, and to say that your Association's representation, dated the 26th November 1920, and the 27th December 1920, on the subject of the revised Appellate Side Rules, have been carefully considered by the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and the Judges. In this connection, I am to enclose for the information of your Association a list of amendments to the rules published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 15th September 1920. These amendments have been finally approved by the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and the Judges and they will come into operation immediately. Special attention is invited to the terms of the notification (copy enclosed) under which the amendments will appear in the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd March 1921.

2. It will be seen from the list of amendments that the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and the Judges, while maintaining the principle that all paper-books in Civil Appeals should be prepared in the office of the Court, have in many matters made certain important modifications of the rules for the benefit of parties to appeals to this Court. The amendments are numerous, but I am to refer in particular to the following points in which the revised rules have been amended :—

(1) In Chapter V, Rule 12, it has been provided that the time taken by the Stamp Reporter in preparing his report may be excluded from the prescribed period of limitation; and further, in the case of a memorandum of appeal or application which is in order in all respects, that the date of delivery to the Stamp Reporter shall be deemed to be the date of presentation to the Deputy Registrar.

(2) The period within which the initial deposit should be paid as required by Rule 28, Chapter V, has been extended.

(3) The time Table prescribed in Chapter V, Rule 41, has been revised.

(4) With reference to Rule 57 of Chapter V, it has been provided that notices should be issued to the Vakils concerned as soon as decrees or orders are ready for perusal.

(5) The period allowed under Chapter VI, Rule 20, has been extended.

(6) It has been provided that marginal notes need only be printed in paper-books in the event of an appeal to the Privy Council.

(7) Typed paper-books will be prepared in First Appeals below Rs. 5,000 in value in which it appears that, if Parts I and III of the paper-book were printed, the total number of pages contained in the paper-book would be 20 or less.

(8) A considerable reduction has been made in the cost of printing paper-books in Appeals, other than Second Appeals, but the printing rates quoted have been sanctioned for a period of six months only and are liable to revision if the cost of printing in the Government of India Press increases during that period.

(9) Provision has been made for the preparation of typed paper-books in all cases of Second Appeals, other than those which are now pending with the Press.

(10) Further facilities have been allowed for depositing the costs for the preparation of printed paper-books.

(11) The hours have been extended during which applications for copies, information and inspection may be made.

(12) The rules regarding Vakils' Clerks have been modified in certain respects, e.g., it has been provided that a Vakil may, in certain circumstances, authorise the recognised clerk of another Vakil to transact business on his behalf.

(13) The prohibition against taking pen or ink into the Inspection Room has been withdrawn.

3. I am to add that the orders contained in paragraph 2 of the Court's letter No. 9870-G., dated the 14th December 1920, are withdrawn and that cases will now be put on the list as usual for final disposal in case of default in compliance with the provisions of the Appellate Side Rules as now modified.

4. The new Rules amended up to date, will be available in book form shortly.

5. In conclusion, I am to say that all the points raised in the representations submitted by your Association have received the most careful consideration of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and the Judges, and the amendments have been framed with a view to the removal of all inconveniences to the Vakils and the parties. If, however, the working of the rules as now modified, discloses the necessity of any further amendments, the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and the Judges will be willing to receive a further representation on the subject after the expiry of six months.

ANNEXURE II.

Extract from letter, dated 16th February 1921, from the Registrar, Privy Council.

"During the hearing of two consolidated Indian Appeals from your Court a few days ago (Bengal Appeals Nos. 34 and 37 of 1919), the Board drew attention to the amount of unnecessary matter that had been included in the record, and they suggested that I should communicate with you upon the subject. The pages to which their Lordships took exception were 379-510, 547-588 and 838-888.

"I think you will agree that the inclusion of 40 pages of what are apparently workmen's paysheets cannot be justified on any ground, and you will probably agree that as regards the chalans and dakhilas (pages 379-510) it would have been sufficient if one or two specimens had been printed, and if necessary the others might have been sent over in manuscript. If the cases had been old ones in which the record had been printed before the recent correspondence between this Department, the Indian Government and yourself respecting records generally, I should not perhaps have thought it worth while troubling you, but the order admitting these appeals was only made on the 25th August 1919, and the records were received here on the 8th April 1920, so I think the attention of the responsible official in your Department might be drawn to the fact that there is still too much license allowed to practitioners in expanding the records to unnecessary length.

"Referring to my letter of the 25th February 1920, enclosing a memorandum prepared in this Department for guidance in arranging records perhaps at your convenience you will let me know your views as to the scheme suggested, specially with regard to arranging exhibits. Up to the present it is noticed that Calcutta records are not arranged on the lines suggested, but it may be that sufficient time has not yet elapsed for any records printed since the date of my letter to reach us."

VII. In particular it is Our will and pleasure that the powers of superintendence, direction and control over the said local Governments vested in Our said Governor-General and in Our Governor-General in Council shall, unless grave reason to the contrary appears, be exercised with a view to furthering the policy of the local Governments of all Our Governors provinces, when such policy finds favour with a majority of the Members of the Legislative Council of the province.

VIII. Similarly, it is Our will and pleasure that Our said Governor-General shall use all endeavour consistent with the fulfilment of his responsibilities to Us and to Our Parliament for the welfare of Our Indian subjects, that the administration of the matters committed to the direct charge of Our Governor-General in Council may be conducted in harmony with the wishes of Our said subjects as expressed by their representatives in the Indian Legislature, so far as the same shall appear to him to be just and reasonable.

IX. For above all things it is Our will and pleasure that the plans laid by Our Parliament for the progressive realisation of responsible Government in British India as an integral part of Our Empire may come to fruition, to the end that British India may attain its due place among Our Dominions. Therefore We do charge Our said Governor-General by the means aforesaid and by all other means which may to him seem fit to guide the course of Our subjects in India whose governance We have committed to his charge so that, subject on the one hand always to the determination of Our Parliament, and, on the other hand, to the co-operation of those on whom new opportunities of service have been conferred, progress toward, such realisation may ever advance to the benefit of all Our subjects in India.

Al Bida Approach—Shoal water reported; Beacon being erected.

No. 147 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the Director of the Royal Indian Marine, Bombay, in Notice to Mariners (No. 66M. of 1921), are republished :—

(1) (a) Position (approximate).—At a distance of about 8¼ miles 061° from Al Bida Fort Lat. 25° 21¼′ N., long. 51° 40′ E.

Depth.—1¼ Fathoms (S.M.Crl.).

Details.—A depth of 2¼ fathoms at M.L.O. has been found in the above position and it would appear that the 1¼ fathoms shoal charted may be extending northward.

Remarks.—The soundings obtained on entering and leaving the harbour revealed that the depths in the approach have altered and shoaled in places to the extent of ¼ to ½ fathoms.

The greatest depth that can be carried at L.W., is 2¼ fathoms instead of 2¾ fathoms, as might be expected from the plan on the chart No. 2837*b*, and that the 2½ fathoms charted on the same chart should be altered to 2¼ fathoms.

(2) Beacon being erected.

(a) Position approximate.—At a distance of about 4¼ miles 071° from Al Bida Fort. Lat. 25° 18½′ N., long. 51° 36′ E.

Details.—A circular masonry beacon is in the process of construction on the north end of the south reef in the above position.

At present the beacon only uncovers about one foot at H.W.

Remarks.—"Cyclamen" passed through the narrows about 1½ cables north of this beacon, obtaining 4 to 4½ fathoms as charted.

The south reef is clearly to be distinguished, but the north reef is difficult to define.

"Cyclamen" thence steered 065° with Sheikh's House astern. This house which has a flagstaff near it is the most conspicuous in the town. The least depth on this course is 2½ fathoms at M.L.W.S.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON INDUSTRIAL UNREST.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 18TH JUNE 1921.

RESOLUTION—No. 2165 Com.

The report of the Committee, which was recently appointed on the recommendation of the Bengal Legislative Council to consider the problem of industrial unrest in Bengal, is published for general information. The report is full and clear, and as it will doubtless be studied with care by all who are interested in the subject, it will suffice to give here a brief outline of the Committee's recommendations and of the action which Government propose to take on them.

2. The Committee have given an interesting analysis of the causes of the strikes which have taken place in Bengal during the period between July 1920 and March 1921, and the Governor in Council accepts their conclusion that, while economic causes have probably been predominant, the recent outbreak was in fact due as much to a general spirit of unrest as to the specific causes alleged in individual cases. In considering remedial measures, the Committee have proceeded on the principle, which, as they rightly say, has inspired all the most successful work which has been done in England during the last ten years for the settlement of labour disputes, that the most satisfactory way of settling such disputes is for employers and workmen to come to an agreement among themselves, and that outside intervention should only be invoked when a rupture of relations is imminent or has actually taken place. As a means of promoting a spirit of co-operation between employers and employed and of bringing them together in friendly discussion before differences have had time to develop into serious disputes, the Committee suggest the establishment of Joint Works Committees to advise the management of industrial concerns on measures affecting the workmen. Such bodies have worked successfully in England and America during recent years, and have done much to help employers and employed to understand one another's point of view. There is nothing in Indian conditions to preclude the possibility of similar success in this country, and as the Committee of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce have already commended the scheme, the Governor in Council trusts that early action will be taken to give it a trial on a scale sufficient to enable a definite opinion to be formed as to its feasibility in this country.

3. In discussing the settlement of disputes, in which agreement cannot be reached between employers and employed, the Committee have given a useful summary of the history of compulsory arbitration and similar measures in other countries, but they reject as inapplicable to present Indian conditions all schemes involving any element of compulsion by legal process. They distinguish between strikes in public utility services which directly affect the public safety and convenience and strikes in private industrial concerns. To deal with the former class of strikes, they recommend the establishment of a panel from which small Conciliation Courts could be formed on the application of one or both of the parties or by Government of its own motion. Such a Court would have no legal power to enforce its findings, but it is expected that in the case of strikes affecting public utility services, public opinion would be sufficiently strong to induce the parties to come to terms on the basis of the findings of a thoroughly impartial and competent Court. In the case of private industrial disputes, the element of public opinion would ordinarily be absent or operative only to a small extent, and it might be a waste of time for a Conciliation Court to investigate a dispute when its findings might be disregarded by one or both parties. The Committee, however, recommend that where both parties express a desire for impartial outside intervention, Government should endeavour to meet their wishes.

4. The Committee have given strong reasons in support of their proposals and the Governor in Council is prepared to accept them. Immediate steps will be taken for the constitution of a panel from which Conciliation Courts can be set up to deal with disputes affecting public utility services. His Excellency in Council realises the necessity of so constituting the panel that its members may enjoy the fullest measure of public confidence, and the danger that suitable members may be unwilling to serve if additional work is thrown on them in the settlement of private disputes. The Conciliation panel will therefore be reserved for disputes affecting public utility services and nothing more will be expected of its members. If, in a private dispute, both parties ask that their differences should be investigated by an impartial authority, the Governor in Council will be prepared to constitute a special Conciliation Court to deal with the matter or to take such other action as may be suitable in the circumstances of the case.

5. His Excellency in Council is glad to find that the Committee have made a recommendation designed to ensure the supply of full and prompt information regarding industrial disputes to the officers whose business it is to keep Government informed of such matters. There is ordinarily no difficulty in securing the fullest statement of their case from the workmen involved, but in some cases, employers, probably through distrust of Government intervention, have shown themselves reluctant to supply authoritative information regarding the causes and progress of disputes. Now that the limits of Government intervention have been clearly laid down by the Committee, whose views on this point are fully shared by the Governor in Council, it may be hoped that no further reluctance will be felt in supplying duly authorised officers of Government with the information on matters of fact, which is essential, if Government is to discharge its responsibilities for dealing with labour unrest.

6. In conclusion, the Governor in Council desires to express his cordial appreciation of the services of the members of the Committee and his thanks for their suggestive report. It is a happy augury for the future that a Committee containing representatives of such diverse interests should have been able to make unanimous recommendations in regard to this difficult problem. Perhaps the most valuable feature of the report is its insistence on the importance of the human element in labour disputes; and the practical proposals of the Committee, if they meet with the public support which they deserve, and if they are put into force in the right spirit, should go far to avoid unnecessary bitterness and friction in dealing with the inevitable changes which modern developments are producing in the industrial conditions of the country.

By order of the Governor in Council,

A. MARR,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON INDUSTRIAL UNREST.

At a meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on the 4th March 1921, the following resolution moved by Mr. Krishna Chandra Ray Chaudhuri was passed unanimously:—

> " This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a Committee be formed to inquire into the causes of recent strikes of workmen in Bengal and to advise what remedial measures should be adopted."

The Governor in Council accordingly appointed a Committee composed of the following gentlemen to inquire into the matters specified in the resolution:—

Chairman.

The Hon'ble Mr. J. H. Kerr, C.S.I., C.I.E.

Members.

The Hon'ble Sir Alexander Robertson Murray, C.B.E.
Mr. Krishna Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, M.L.C.
Mr. R. M. Watson-Smyth, M.L.C.
Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur, M.L.C.
Dr. Hasan Suhrawardy, M.D., M.L.C.
Babu Hem Chandra Bhattacharya, M.L.C.
Dr. D. B. Meek, Director of Industries, Bengal.

Mr. D. Gladding, I.C.S.

Causes of recent strikes in Bengal.

2. In considering the first portion of the terms of reference, we have not thought it necessary to go back further than the 1st July 1920. Before that time a certain amount of industrial unrest had been evident in Bengal as in other parts of India, but in Bengal strikes had not been resorted to on any large scale, as a means of enforcing the demands of the workers. During the last six months of 1920, however, no less than 89 strikes occurred in the Calcutta industrial area, while the last six weeks were marked by an outbreak of 12 strikes in the Burdwan district affecting both the coalfields and some of the industrial undertakings at Raniganj. In addition to these, there were two strikes at Barisal and one at Kharagpur. In the first quarter of 1921 there have been 33 strikes in all, some of which were recrudescences of disputes which had broken out in the previous year, but though the tendency to resort to strikes appears to be diminishing for the time being, the industrial situation is still sufficiently unsettled to demand the most anxious consideration, at the hands alike of the Government and of all engaged in industry, of any measures which are likely to afford a more satisfactory means of settling outstanding difficulties than those which have hitherto been adopted.

3. In examining the causes of recent strikes in Bengal, we have been much assisted by a record prepared by the Department of Industries of the strikes which have occurred between the 1st July 1920 and the 31st March 1921. In order to test the accuracy of this record and to make it as complete as possible, we caused extracts from it to be supplied to the employers concerned, and we have, where necessary, supplemented or corrected the original record in accordance with the comments received from them. We have also examined the 19 witnesses mentioned in the list annexed to this report and have received from them much useful and interesting information regarding the causes of the strikes with which they were specially concerned and the measures taken to settle them. Full details as to the first part of our reference are embodied in the record of strikes which is appended to this report.

4. The record shows that out of the 137 strikes which occurred in the nine months covered by the figures, 74 were due solely to demands for higher wages, while in 36 other cases demands for higher wages were coupled with other demands. It is noteworthy that of these 110 strikes, no less than 82 occurred in the last quarter of 1920, which also accounted for 89 strikes out of the total number of 137. Of the 27 strikes not concerned with wages, 13 were due to claims regarding overtime, khoraki, strike pay, hours of work, shifts and other conditions of work, 10 arose out of the dismissal or discharge of workmen and similar disciplinary action, two were due to demands for the dismissal of individuals, one was due to a demand for better facilities for prayers on the part of Muhammadan employees, and one strike must be classed as sympathetic, in that the men went out in support of a strike that was being fought elsewhere for objects that would not benefit themselves. It is interesting to note that. among the miscellaneous reasons for a strike, mostly put forward in conjunction with other demands, assaults on the men by members of the managing staff were alleged in only two cases. In one case, there was a grievance connected with the non-recognition of an employees' association, while in another demands were made for the provision of a Muhammadan burial ground.

Of the 110 strikes, in which there was a demand for higher wages, 4 were successful in that the increases demanded were conceded in full, 48 were partially successful in that some increases were conceded, though not the full increases demanded, 17 ended in the resumption of work with increases promised or deferred for consideration but not finally settled, while 36 failed in that work was resumed with the demands for higher wages definitely rejected. No definite information is forthcoming as to the terms on which the remaining five wages strikes were settled. In 17 out of the 27 miscellaneous strikes the demands of the workers were met either in whole or in part.

As regards the economic loss caused by these 137 strikes, it is calculated that 244,180 employees were involved and that the aggregate duration in working days was 2,631,488.

Five strikes or more occurred in the following industries:—

	No. of strikes.
Engineering, foundry and metal works ...	33
Jute mills	27
Transport and storage of merchandise in the port and city of Calcutta	19
Public utility services	12
Collieries	7
Cotton mills	6
Railways	5
Printing presses	5

5. No useful purpose would be served in our opinion by attempting a more detailed statistical analysis of the causes of strikes. The main facts as brought out above are that 11 per cent. of the strikes occurred in July, August, September, 65 per cent. in October, November, December and the remaining 24 per cent. in January, February, March. The strike fever thus reached its height during the middle quarter of the period under review as the result chiefly of demands for increased wages, but just as the strikes in the first quarter were due largely to other than economic causes, so also the demands of the workers in the last quarter, after the fever had spent itself, took the form in many instances of trivial complaints which in normal times would never have resulted in strikes. So far as remedial measures are concerned, any further analysis is liable to prove misleading rather than helpful, as concentrating attention unduly on details which are beyond the scope of our inquiries. The recent outbreak of strikes in Bengal was in fact due as much to a general spirit of unrest as to the specific causes alleged in individual cases, and even if every individual grievance which has been put forward in connection with strikes were remedied, the unrest would continue to give rise to further disputes until its root causes had been removed. Industrial unrest is only one phase of the general unrest which has prevailed since the close of the war in every country in the world. The causes of the unrest are multifarious, political, social and economic. The economic causes are the most obvious and perhaps the most important. The increase in the cost of foodstuffs, cloth and other necessaries of life has been followed by a rise in the wages of all classes of labour, but the rise in wages has not at all times and in all industries kept pace with the increase in prices. During the intervals genuine hardship must have been caused to the labouring classes, giving rise to apprehensions as to the future and a general feeling of unrest. The process of readjustment is not yet at an end, and in the meantime the labour situation has not been uninfluenced by the great political developments of the last few years. Public men of all shades of opinion have devoted themselves to the cause of labour, often with the highest motives, though sometimes with more zeal than knowledge. At all events, labour is developing a new consciousness of its own solidarity and value. We have been told on the highest authority that the development of Indian nationhood cannot be achieved without disturbing the placid pathetic contentment of the masses of the people, and so far as the industrial world in Bengal is concerned, this requisite to political progress has already been achieved. We are far from saying that the results are wholly bad, and we have no doubt that the situation, if wisely handled by all concerned—by the Government, by employers and by those who are assuming the leadership of labour—will eventually right itself. But it is too much to expect universal wisdom and moderation, and in the course of the evolution of new conditions some friction is bound to occur. For our purposes, the strongest evidence of this condition of instability and general touchiness in the labour world appears in the record of the numerous strikes due to comparatively petty causes, which even a year ago would have created nothing more than passing local excitement. Important differences of opinion and matters of principle cannot always be settled without lengthy negotiations often resulting in a temporary rupture of relations between employers and employed, but we are convinced that many of the strikes which have occurred during the last nine months could have been prevented or could have been settled more speedily if a more cordial spirit of co-operation had prevailed, and if some machinery had existed for bringing the parties together immediately the difference occurred and before it had time to develop into a serious dispute.

Remedial measures.

6. Since the situation now to be dealt with is, in our opinion, one of general unrest due to a multiplicity of causes, rather than to any specific grievance or set of grievances capable of specific remedies, it follows that the machinery which we propose to set up must be designed for the purpose of alleviating unrest, present and future, rather than for a detailed investigation of current labour conditions. With this object in view, we have carefully considered the remedies which have been adopted in other countries for dealing with industrial disputes. We find that in the United Kingdom, in the first half of last century, statutory machinery existed, whereby, on the application of either party, certain disputes between employers and workmen could be settled by Industrial Tribunals, whose awards were enforceable by distress or imprisonment. Later on Councils of Conciliation and Arbitration were established, and the Industrial Tribunals were given additional powers to determine rates of wages, hours of work and other conditions of employment. Ultimately, as a result of the report of the Royal Commission on Labour of 1894, the Conciliation Act, 1896, was passed. Under that Act the Board of

Trade could take action to promote an amicable settlement of a difference, or, at the request of either party interested, could appoint a conciliator to assist in securing a settlement, but could appoint an arbitrator to determine a difference only with the consent of both parties. This Act, amended in some respects, still continues in force in the United Kingdom. During the war, with the increase in labour troubles, new and improved machinery for the speedy settlement of disputes was found necessary, and special Acts were introduced containing provisions for compulsory arbitration, the legal prohibition of strikes and lock-outs in certain circumstances, and the statutory enforcement of awards; but immediately after the signing of the Armistice in November 1918, these special provisions were repealed. An effort was made to re-enact them when the Industrial Courts Bill was introduced, but during the passage of the Bill through the House of Commons these particular provisions were dropped, and the English Industrial Courts Act, 1919, therefore, contains no provision for compulsory arbitration or the legal enforcement of awards. In other parts of the Empire, however, legislation has been enacted whereby in certain circumstances strikes and lock-outs are illegal, and in some cases the parties can be compelled to accept the awards of Arbitration Tribunals under penalty of fine or imprisonment. As far back as 1892—1894 Conciliation and Arbitration Acts were passed in Australia and New Zealand. In spite of subsequent amending and consolidating Acts passed with a view to bringing industrial legislation into line with modern conditions, the systems of arbitration in force both in Australia and New Zealand have not been entirely successful. Although strikes and lock-outs are forbidden, and awards are made binding on the parties, under penalties which include heavy fines and terms of imprisonment with or without hard labour, illegal strikes and breaches of awards are by no means uncommon. Indeed, in actual practice, the great majority of industrial disputes in those countries are settled by direct negotiations between employers and workmen. In Canada the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, 1907, provides that in the event of a dispute in the mining industry, or in the public utility services, either employers or employees may ask for the appointment of a Board of Conciliation and Investigation; and until such time as this Board has concluded its inquiry and published its recommendations, a strike or lock-out is illegal. But here also the statutory machinery has not always proved effective, and strikes often occur before investigation. The Industrial Disputes Prevention Act of the Transvaal passed in 1909 was modelled on the Canadian Act. Besides the mining industry and public utility services, it covered other trades, such as building and engineering, and extended the period during which a strike or lock-out was illegal for a month after issue of the Board's report. We understand that the Government of India are now making inquiries with a view to ascertaining the latest information concerning industrial disputes legislation in the various portions of the British Empire and elsewhere, and it will be interesting to receive up-to-date reports regarding the effect of such legislation. But on the information now before us, we cannot recommend that legislation on the lines referred to should be introduced in India. The drastic compulsory arbitration laws of Australasia, the provisions of the Canadian and Transvaal Acts making strikes illegal before investigation, and even the statutory machinery set up in the United Kingdom for the voluntary settlement of disputes, are none of them suited to present Indian conditions. Such legislation presupposes the existence of a high state of organisation among both employers and employed, which is almost entirely wanting in India. Any organizations found among employers are of the loosest description, while, except in a few special cases, such as those of the telegraph and railway workers, who are outside the ranks of ordinary industry, organized bodies of labour hardly exist. It might be possible by legal process to enforce an arbitration award or a finding of a Conciliation Court, so far as employers are concerned, but it would be out of the question to attempt compulsion in respect of hundreds or thousands of labourers, the majority of whom would probably be incapable of understanding the points at issue or the basis of the award. Even if penal action were confined to the leaders or chief representatives of the men, it would be bound to provoke serious disturbances, leading possibly to riot and bloodshed.

7. The absence of labour organizations is indeed one of the difficulties of the present situation in Bengal. It is true that a certain number of Labour Unions have sprung into existence during the last few months, but they have for the most part been created in order to deal with specific disputes or strikes. They have signally failed, possibly through no fault of their own, to prevent strikes or to get strikes postponed for the purpose of negotiation, and they have, as a rule, relapsed into inactivity on the settlement of the dispute which called them into being. It is indeed open to doubt whether labour organization in India will ever develop on Western lines, since the fear of unemployment, which has always been the mainspring of Trades Unionism in England, is fortunately absent in India. No wise employer will do anything to prevent or discourage attempts at organization among his workers, but for present purposes, such movements are too inchoate to be of much use, while it is impossible to foresee on what lines they will develop.

8. In these circumstances, we consider that the most hopeful line of advance at present is the creation in industrial concerns of Joint Works Committees containing representatives of both employers and employed. Such Committees have, it is well known, achieved a large measure of success in America as well as in England, where their creation was stimulated by the reports of the Whitley Committee during the war, and they have been able to fulfil many useful functions in promoting friendly relations between employers and employed, in spite of the fact that they have had to avoid trenching on the functions of the older established Trades Unions. This particular difficulty will not occur in India, but other difficulties are certain to arise in introducing novel arrangements in the Indian industrial system. Nevertheless, we are convinced that the difficulties are not insuperable. The idea of the panchayat as an agency for settling social and communal affairs is familiar in India, and a Joint Works Committee organized on proper lines would be simply a panchayat for regulating industrial affairs so far as they concern the workers.

9. The main purpose of Joint Works Committees, as defined in the Whitley reports, is to establish and maintain harmonious relations between employers and employed, and nothing is more urgently required in Bengal at the present time. It is a regrettable fact that, in spite of all that has been done during the last quarter of a century to improve the material condition of the work-people in the jute mills and other large industrial concerns on the banks of the Hooghly, the personal relations between employers and employed are much less intimate and cordial than they were twenty years ago. Unless something can be done to bridge this gulf, the continuance of disputes is inevitable, leading to interruptions of work, engendering ever-increasing bitterness and causing serious material loss to the workers, the employers and the community at large. Labour, in its ignorance, is certain to make unreasonable demands which could not be granted without destroying industry; but firmness in refusing such demands needs to be mingled with much patience and consideration and with frank and full explanation of the actual difficulties. We feel, therefore, that the time has come when employers and employed must put aside preconceived notions and unite in a genuine endeavour to find a solution of their differences.

10 A list of functions of Works Committees suggested by the Ministry of Labour in England includes the following: —

(1) The issue and revision of works rules.
(2) The distribution of working hours, breaks, time recording, etc.
(3) The payment of wages (time, form of pay ticket, etc.), explanation of methods of payment, the adjustment of piece prices, records of piece prices, deductions, etc.
(4) The settlement of grievances.
(5) Holiday arrangements.
(6) Questions of physical welfare (provision of meals, drinking water, lavatories and washing accommodation, ventilation, and sanitation; accidents, safety appliances, first aid, ambulance, etc.).

(7) Questions of discipline and conduct as between management and work-people (malingering, bullying, time keeping, publicity in regard to rules, supervision of notice boards, etc.).
(8) Terms of engagement of work-people.
(9) The training of apprentices and young persons.
(10) Technical library; lectures on the technical and social aspects of the industry.
(11) Suggestions of improvements in method and organization of work; the testing of suggestions.
(12) Investigation of circumstances tending to reduce efficiency or in any way to interfere with the satisfactory working of the factory.
(13) Collections (for clubs, charities, etc.).
(14) Entertainments and sports.
(15) The provision of facilities for the workers' side of the Joint Committee (or of a departmental committee, if any) to conduct its own work.

Most of the foregoing are subjects worthy of consideration by Joint Committees representative of employers and workers in India, as well as in England, and there should be no difficulty in providing Works Committees in this country with functions appropriate to the different industries concerned. Our object in reproducing the Labour Ministry's list is not to suggest any rigid code for general adoption, but to secure the adoption of measures which will induce a friendly spirit of co-operation between employers and employed in all matters affecting the latter.

11. It is not possible for us to suggest in detail the precise composition of Works Committees, or the procedure to be followed in setting them to work in individual concerns. The differing circumstances of different industries make it impossible to devise any scheme suitable to every industry. Much must depend on the nature and arrangement of the work in each mill or factory which decides to give a trial to this experiment. In some cases, it may be desirable to form a single Works Committee for the whole concern; in others, separate Works Committees may be found useful for different departments, e.g., for the foundry and for the machine shop in engineering works. In some cases, the manager may himself desire to preside over the meetings of the Committee; in others, he may prefer to let his assistants take part in the actual deliberations of the Committee and to meet the Committee only after they have formulated their views on the points referred to them for consideration. The position of sardars and similar functionaries in relation to the Committee will also require consideration. But these and other details should not be difficult of settlement if the authorities responsible for bringing the scheme into operation bear in mind the policy of Works Committees, as authoritatively laid down at the National Whitley Conference held in London last December---the policy of bringing employers and employed together so that each may learn the other's point of view, may pool ideas and experiences and may discover solid identity of interest even in matters in which antagonism at first sight appears inevitable.

12. It is important to notice that in the more highly organized industries in England, Works Committees are only one part of a triple organization of national, district and workshop bodies, the two former containing representatives of employers and employed for the district concerned or for the industry as a whole, and dealing with questions similar to those brought before the Works Committees, but on a wider scale. In Bengal, the time for creating district or National Councils has not yet come, and we must start with Works Committees for individual concerns, leaving them to develop Councils covering districts or wider areas, if experience should show the need for such co-ordination in their work.

13. As to the precise action which should be taken at the present stage to bring Works Committees into existence, it is clearly neither possible nor desirable that they should be created simultaneously in all industrial concerns in Bengal. It will be best to start them experimentally in selected concerns where conditions are favourable and where success can reasonably be hoped for. The results of this experience will facilitate the general expansion of the movement. The Committee of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce have already commended the establishment of Works Committees to the members of the Chamber and of the various mercantile and industrial associations recognized by the Chamber, and it is believed that some concerns have tentative measures for the purpose under consideration. It would be of great assistance if the Chamber would now ascertain which concerns are willing to take definite steps in the matter. Such firms could be placed in communication with the Department of Industries, which would be able to supply them with literature on the subject, and to advise them, if desired, on the framing of a constitution and working rules.

14. While it may be hoped that the creation and development of Works Committees will enable a large number of disputes to be settled before an open rupture occurs between employers and employed, it will be some time before the arrangements which we have suggested can be brought into general use, and there will always be a certain number of cases of acute disagreement in which the employers will resort to a lock-out or the employees to a strike rather than give way. To deal with such cases more promptly and effectively than is at present possible, we consider some further machinery necessary, at any rate in the case of public utility services, where a cessation of work directly affects the public and leads immediately to insistent demands for the intervention of Government or some outside authority. Calcutta has within the last few months been afflicted with two tramway strikes, a taxi strike, and a strike of the employees of the Gas Company, and it would be rash to assume that all danger of similar strikes is over. Failing a settlement by consent between the parties under pressure of public opinion—often a lengthy process—the usual course adopted in such cases has been the appointment of an ad hoc Committee to investigate the causes of difference. But the weak point about such Committees is that their functions end with the submission of their report, and lengthy negotiations are often necessary before a settlement can be arrived at on the basis of their recommendations. Hitherto, in the absence of any other agency, it has been left to Government to undertake such negotiations, but there are grave objections to this course. Where a question of statutory rules is involved, as in the case of the taxi strike, the final decision must of course rest with Government, but ordinarily Government, at any rate in this country, is placed in an entirely false position when it is forced into settling the details of industrial arrangements. It is not properly equipped for such a purpose, and it runs a grave risk of being discredited, and so rendered less efficient for the discharge of its proper functions, if its advice is disregarded. We, therefore, consider it necessary to devise some other means for settling disputes of this nature.

15. In several countries strikes and lock-outs in public utility services are either absolutely prohibited, or the stoppage of work is declared illegal unless previous notice is given accompanied by a statement of the causes of dispute. We have been unable to ascertain how these penal provisions are worked in practice, or how far they are effectual, but, for the reasons already stated, we are opposed to the introduction of legislation of this character in India. There is the less necessity for its application to public utility services, because in such cases public opinion is always strongly in favour of an early settlement and can be brought to bear on the parties. What is required is some machinery which can be brought into operation without the necessity of invoking the direct intervention of Government. We suggest the formation of a Conciliation Board or panel, consisting of about twenty members to be appointed by Government and to include a due proportion of all classes of the community, both European and Indian, and representatives of both capital and labour. Care should be taken to appoint only men of the highest character and reputation, who would be regarded by public opinion as fully competent to investigate impartially any question which was referred to them. In the case of any dispute arising in a public utility service which was likely to cause or had actually caused a strike or lock-out, a Conciliation Court consisting of a small number of members, entirely unconnected with the dispute, would be chosen from the panel and asked to go into the merits of the dispute in consultation with the parties and to give their finding. Once such a Conciliation Board had been established, one or other of the parties to an industrial dispute could safely be trusted to apply for the creation of a Conciliation Court to deal with it, but, in the event of either or both parties proving unwilling to submit themselves to the arbitrament of the Conciliation Court, public opinion would in the great majority of cases compel them without undue delay to lay their case before the Court. We would, therefore, leave it to Government to establish a Conciliation Court for the decision of a dispute affecting a public utility service, either on the application of one or both parties or of its own motion. There should ordinarily be no difficulty in getting the parties to agree to the members of the panel who should be selected to form the Court, and it would ordinarily be preferable that the Court should be constituted in accordance with the joint wishes of the parties; but if there was any difficulty on this point, Government could select the members to serve on the Court. Government might also appoint an official chairman for the Court in the event of the parties preferring a Government officer to act in this capacity rather than a member of the panel, who would all be non-officials, but such appointment should only be made after consultation with the other members of the Court Further than this, however, Government should not go. Its functions should be confined to setting up the Court, and in performing this function, it should as far as possible secure the consent of both parties. But having constituted the Court, Government should stand aside and leave the Court to investigate the dispute and promulgate its findings, which would, of course, not be finally decided upon until both parties had had a full opportunity of representing their views and objections. The Court would have no legal power to enforce its findings, but here again we would leave it to public opinion to induce the parties to come to terms. Great weight would undoubtedly attach to the findings of a thoroughly competent and impartial Court in matters of this kind, and neither party to the dispute would be able lightly to disregard its recommendations.

16. Voluntary Conciliation Courts working on these lines have met with considerable success in England in recent years, though all authorities seem to agree that they have been greatly assisted by the fact that they were dealing with conditions in which wages were rising. It remains to be seen how far they will succeed in dealing with disputes arising out of the necessity of reducing wages. This particular difficulty is not, however, likely to arise in India at present, and we see no reason why voluntary Conciliation Courts, wisely constituted, should not achieve a large measure of success in India in that large class of cases where the parties have come to a deadlock and a solution of the dispute can only be found by the intervention of disinterested outsiders.

17. It has been suggested that it might in some cases be desirable to attach experts to the Court as assessors. We think that provision might be made for this purpose, but in our opinion the weight to be attached to the findings of the Conciliation Courts will depend more on the general competence and impartiality of the Court than on its strength as a technical body. It would be seldom that Courts constituted in the manner we propose would be unable to appreciate the bearing of any technicalities that might arise in the course of their inquiries. We also recommend that, for the present at any rate, Courts should be appointed only to deal with industrial disputes arising in Calcutta and its neighbourhood. It is in this area that persons suitable for this difficult and delicate work will most readily be found, and it would not be fair to expect them to leave their own business for considerable periods to investigate disputes in distant localities. We would again emphasize our opinion that the success of this experiment depends on the competence and impartiality of the members composing the Courts, and that too great care cannot be taken in the selection of persons for appointment to the panel. It would undoubtedly help to secure the support of public opinion for their findings, if only such men as have attained eminence in their particular lines of business should be nominated. So far as employers' representatives are concerned, present and past Presidents and Chairmen of leading Chambers of Commerce and Industrial or Trades Associations offer a likely field of choice. In the case of the workmen's representatives, there may be difficulties to begin with in finding men whose recommendations will carry weight outside limited bodies of workmen, but these difficulties will no doubt disappear with the spread of proper workmen's organizations and the introduction of duly constituted Works Committees. In order that the panels may be kept up to date we recommend that all appointments should be for periods of one year only.

18. So far we have recommended the constitution of Conciliation Courts solely for industrial disputes affecting the working of public utility companies, and consequently the public comfort and convenience. We fear that if ordinary industrial disputes were referred in considerable numbers to Conciliation Courts formed in the manner we have suggested, too much work might be thrown on the members constituting the panel, with the result that it would be found impossible to secure suitable men to serve on the panel. But if, in a private dispute, both parties expressed a desire for impartial outside intervention, Government should consider how such a desire should be met, possibly by the constitution of a Court similar to that which we have recommended in the case of disputes affecting public utility services.

19. There is only one other recommendation that we desire to make Government is being held increasingly responsible for dealing with labour unrest, and from the point of view of law and order alone, it has a direct interest in the matter. We have already expressed our opinion that Government intervention in industrial disputes should be confined within strict limits, but if Government is to be in a position to discharge its responsibilities for the general administration of the Presidency, it must have prompt and full information regarding the ever-changing industrial situation. We have been impressed by the difficulties experienced in compiling the record of strikes which is attached to our proceedings. In the absence of any regular sources of information, it was based originally partly on reports from local officials who necessarily regard the question mainly from the point of view of law and order, partly on information supplied by employers, and partly on information picked up at strike meetings and other gatherings. We feel that Government should have full information regarding these occurrences, if they are to maintain a proper watch over the industrial situation, and we would recommend all commercial and industrial associations to urge upon their members the importance of supplying full and early information regarding industrial unrest to the Industrial Intelligence Officer, whose business it is to keep Government informed of such matters. It is not improbable that a regular Labour Bureau will have to be formed at no distant date to enable Government to fulfil its responsibilities for this subject, and in that case it might be advisable to attach to it an Advisory Committee representative of capital and labour. Meanwhile we see no objection and great advantage in keeping the Intelligence Officer fully informed on matters of fact.

Conclusion.

20. There is much that is applicable to the present situation in Bengal in the remarks made by Mr. (now Lord) Buxton, President of the British Board of Trade in 1911, and endorsed in his recent work on Industrial Problems and Disputes by Lord Askwith, who has probably done more solid work for the settlement of labour disputes than any other living man.

Mr. Buxton said:—" The more I have seen of them the more I am convinced, first that the best and most satisfactory method of settling disputes between employers and workmen is for the parties directly concerned to come to an agreement among themselves. Secondly, that when the parties are unable themselves to come to terms, and a stoppage of work is imminent, or after a stoppage of work has taken place, assistance from outside is very often effective in preventing, shortening, or ending a dispute. Thirdly, that this method of action, if and where it takes place, must be done at the right moment, in the right way, and by the right person.

These principles have inspired all the most successful work that has been done in England during the last ten years for the settlement of labour troubles of a far more intricate nature than any that have arisen in Bengal. We claim that our proposals conform entirely to these principles, and as they involve no compulsion or legislation, they can readily be modified or supplemented as experience may show to be necessary. We believe that they are worthy of a trial, and if they afford a basis for a solution of the problem of industrial unrest in Bengal, our labour will not have been in vain.

The grievances of Government Press employees, particularly that regarding piece-work, had been discussed at meetings of the Press Employees' Association, a recently formed union. The deputation of 14th July 1920 were selected at a meeting of the Association. During the strike very frequent public meetings were held. At these Association officials appeared, but politicians exerted most sway, the men turning from one party to another, and each holding out hopes of Government's surrender. The Association's funds, such as they were, do not appear to have been called upon to any appreciable degree; but a special strike fund of over Rs. 1,000 is claimed to have been collected from publicists and spent on strike relief.

Three concerns conceded a rise of 10 per cent. (with effect from 13th September 1920) on the day this strike began. Others in Metiabruz conceded same rise immediately afterwards. (See also item 13, and compare subsequent movement at items 47 et seq.)
14th September 1920.—A European assistant, while paying the men, flicks a boy with a cane. The men go out at instance of solder and machine men. 15th September 1920.—The officer in charge compromises the case and the men resume work.	Compromise.

17th November 1920.—The men go out. 29th November 1920.—Men resume work on terms offered.	Partial success. Terms— (1) some enhancement to daily men; (2) riveters' (contract) rates to be enhanced proportionately, if they could show that higher rates were being drawn by rivetters in other similar concerns.	The question of raising wages had been under consideration for some months. A rise conceded to daily men was, the firm states, ineffective only because the contract riveters exerted under pressure upon the daily men, threatening violence. The firm report outside interference by vakils and pleaders, and meetings on Howrah maidan and at Garden Reach addressed by outsiders; all of which, the firm states, prolonged the strikes and worked against the maintenance of goodwill between them and their men.
The men strike work and the firm forthwith sanctions payment.	Success.
Several meetings and a union formed. Letters addressed to owners. 24th November 1920.—Men of five presses resume, increments being given. Midday, go out again to compel similar concessions in other houses. 25th November 1920.—Concessions granted and men return	(1) Rupees 2 increase (20 per cent.) These three concerns are the only jute mills in the Howrah City industrial group. The Hooghly Jute Mill across the river is comparatively isolated at the Kidderpore side, and belongs by intercourse to the Howrah group, quite a proportion of the labour of the Howrah mills living in its neighbourhood. The four rises of wages (10 per cent. 10 per cent. 20 per cent. and 10 per cent.) conceded to the jute industry between 1917 and these strikes were each preceded by strikes in this group of four concerns.

22nd November 1920.—Men go out. 25th November 1920.—All but 30 resume work unconditionally.	Failure.	The firm believe the demand was the result of outside interference, stating that several of the workers said they had been instructed to strike, as all works in Bengal would be shut down unless every Engineering firm gave a rise of 37½ per cent. The firm state that willing workers were intimidated, and that after the resumption of work substantial increases were given to deserving cases.

(4) Contract work to be abolished and all workers to revert to the basic wage of 1919 plus 50 per cent. unless already in receipt of that amount.	The Additional Superintendent of Police was on the spot throughout with a contingent of armed men. The case for assault was filed owing to insufficient evidence. Two clerks got past and certain coolies were allowed to pass, who were women, including some sweepers. The total number was 125. On the 5th it was decided to post notices in the lines that men unwilling to work after the 16th would have to vacate their quarters to make room for men willing to work. The news of this began to get out on the evening of the 5th.

RESOLUTION ON THE DISTURBANCE OF THE 18TH FEBRUARY 1921 AT KALIGHAT TRAMWAY DEPOT.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

DARJEELING, THE 14TH JUNE 1921.

RESOLUTION—No. 8Pl.-D.

IN publishing the report of the Additional District Magistrate, 24-Parganas, on the incident that took place at the tramway terminus near Kalighat on the 18th February last, the Governor in Council desires to place on record a concise statement of the facts and the conclusions which he has arrived at with reference both to them and to the responsibilities and conduct of the officers who took part in the suppression of the disturbance.

2. On the date mentioned, the manager of the Tramway Company, with a view to the resumption of the service between Tollyganj, Kalighat and the High Court, which had been suspended for some time owing to the strike of the tramway employees, despatched to the terminus at Kalighat a car containing some Anglo-Indians who had undertaken the duties of drivers and conductors. This car was preceded by a watering car driven by one of the permanent staff, while a sergeant of the Calcutta police accompanied the Anglo-Indians. On arrival at the terminus these two cars were confronted by a large number of strikers, who assaulted the men on the watering car and proceeded to stone the Anglo-Indians in the other car. The latter descended and proceeded to retaliate, with the result that a free fight ensued, both sides attacking each other with stones and brickbats, and in some cases coming into hand to hand conflict. The Anglo-Indians seem to have succeeded in driving their assailants off in the direction of the Shahebbazar basti on the east of the field adjoining the depôt. The strikers were then reinforced by the Muhammadan residents of this basti, and the Anglo-Indians were driven back on the depôt At this time some sergeants of the Calcutta police arrived, and throwing themselves between the two parties, succeeded in driving off the attackers and putting a stop to the affray. The crowd did not however disperse, but remained standing facing the depôt on the new road west of the tram line. During the lull, Mr. Hannah, Deputy Commissioner of Police, who had been summoned by the sub-inspector of Tollyganj, appeared on the scene, and gave the Tramway authorities permission to start the cars for Tollyganj. Immediately the cars started there was a renewal of the stone throwing—the crowd began to throw stones at the cars and rushed forward to attack both the Anglo-Indians and the police The cars were vacated by the Anglo-Indians who congregated in or around the depôt. The police endeavoured to stem the rush, but unsuccessfully, and finally, when Mr. Hannah found that the police force and the Anglo-Indians were about to be overwhelmed and the lives of the men and the property of the Tramway were in danger, he gave the sergeants the order to fire in the air. This firing had the effect of driving the crowd back to the west side of the road, whence they continued to pelt the police with brickbats The Deputy Commissioner, after sending off the prison van, which had originally brought the sergeants, to Alipore for reinforcements, advanced to confer with the crowd, but they retreated as he advanced, all the while continuing to pelt him with stones and mud. Eventually he found it useless attempting to get into touch with the mob, and retired. The situation was then easing, when Mr. N. C. Sen, President of the Tramway employees' union, appeared on the scene, and with his assistance the crowd was pacified, the unruly element disappeared, and the trouble was at an end. Meanwhile the prison van had been a target for the crowd and brickbats were thrown at it as it left the depôt for Alipore. Immediately after it passed the junction of the Haldarpara and Russa Roads a man was found lying by this junction suffering from a bullet wound which eventually proved fatal. This shot was evidently fired by one of the sergeants in the prison van. This was the only fatal casualty; from the previous firing on the orders of Mr. Hannah three persons were injured.

These, briefly, are the facts. It remains to consider the issues arising from the incidents and the findings of the Additional District Magistrate thereon.

3. The Additional District Magistrate has dealt with the case in its several aspects, and his conclusions, with comments thereon, are reproduced below :—

(1) The incidents prior to the occurrence gave good grounds for apprehension, and the Tramway Company should have taken precautions beforehand, and

(2) The Tramway Company is indirectly responsible for the disturbance, as it did not inform the police headquarters beforehand that the service would be opened in the Kalighat section.

These conclusions are based primarily on the fact that the strikers had been holding meetings and had constantly to be reminded that they must not resort to violence. The Additional District Magistrate is in error in thinking that the Calcutta police authorities were unaware that the cars would be run on this section on that date, and, in fact, a sergeant of the Calcutta police actually accompanied the Anglo-Indian drivers in one of the cars. It is true that beyond a few constables on duty no special precautions were taken at the Kalighat terminus in connexion with this resumption of the service, but the Tramway Company had the right to run their cars, and their experience of the running of cars driven by Anglo-Indians on the Wellesley section gave them some ground to think that no violent interference would be resorted to should they reopen a further section. They may have underestimated the position, but if the Company were not doing an unlawful act it can scarcely be said that they were responsible for a disturbance which was not of their seeking.

(3) The responsibility for the origin of the disturbance rests entirely with the strikers.

In this finding the Governor in Council concurs. The evidence shows that the occurrence originated in the interference with the working of the cars, and in the attacks on them and on the staff by some of the employees of the Company who were on strike, on the arrival of the cars at the Kalighat terminus.

(4) On account of their high-handed proceedings in the course of which they attacked the Muhammadans and the outsiders, the Anglo-Indian drivers and conductors are responsible for the development of the disturbance.

It is not altogether easy to adjudge the various incidents of the affray. The cardinal fact is that the Anglo-Indians were the subject of attack by the strikers, and under the provocation of showers of stones, they endeavoured to protect themselves against their assailants and to retaliate. It was clearly not to their interest to make a deliberate attack on the Muhammadans, or on the passers-by, and there is some evidence that the motor driver who was seized had thrown a stone. It is clear that considerable excitement prevailed, but to the extent that innocent passers-by were wantonly assaulted by the Anglo-Indians, the latter were certainly in the wrong.

(5) The Tramway Company is indirectly responsible as it did not send any officer to keep the temporary hands under control.

The Governor in Council is unable to appreciate this conclusion. The Tramway Company did not send these men out as a combatant body ready to meet opposition or with the belief that the men were likely to misbehave themselves. They were being conveyed to the terminus at Kalighat and Tollyganj with a view to the exercise of a lawful right, and the trouble was brought about by the attack made upon them.

4. The main issues in connection with the incident have reference, however, to the conduct of the police generally, and in particular, with regard to the fatal occurrence near the junction of the Haldarpara and Russa Roads. On these points the Additional District Magistrate has arrived at the following conclusions :—

(a) The further development of the disturbance was due to the ineffectiveness of police action owing to the absence of a leader. If sub-Inspector Iswar Singh had not left the place, he would have been of great use. The interference of the Anglo-Indians also increased irritation and impeded the work of the police.

(b) Mr. Hannah should have made proper enquiries on his arrival at the scene, and he should not have allowed the cars to start when the crowd remained in possession of the field.

(c) The firing became absolutely necessary in the emergency which arose.

(d) The firing was lawful in the circumstances of the situation.

(e) The fatal shot was fired by one of the sergeants sitting in front of the prison van when the van was passing the Haldarpara crossing.

(f) The identification is not satisfactory, and therefore no recommendation is made for putting any of the sergeants on his trial.

The criticism in the first point is that if the police had acted properly, it should not have been possible for an affray to have gone on unchecked on a main thoroughfare for over an hour. At the time when the cars arrived at the Kalighat terminus, there were two constables on special duty at the terminus in connection with the strike. These men seem to have been content to look on, but they were of course hopelessly outnumbered and could have done nothing. Sergeant Kirbey, who had accompanied the Anglo-Indians in the cars, retreated into the depôt when the brickbats began to fly and did nothing ; he failed in his duty in forsaking the scene of action.

The next police arrivals on the scene were six European sergeants sent on from police headquarters on receipt of news of the disturbance, and some constables. It is intelligible that on arrival these officers, finding two parties in conflict, should at once, without any concerted action and independently of one another, rush in and endeavour to quell the disturbance, and in fact it was for the latter purpose that they had been sent. Their action did in effect succeed in quieting the crowd, since there was undoubtedly a lull when the Deputy Commissioner arrived, and the further development of the disturbance occurred subsequently. The Governor in Council agrees with the Additional District Magistrate, that sub-inspector Iswar Singh, of Tollyganj, who arrived shortly after the sergeants, should have taken charge as senior officer present, and should not have left the place and proceeded to Alipore to report the situation to the Deputy Commissioner, which he could have done by telephone.

It has been stated in evidence that during this early part of the occurrence, prior to the arrival of Mr. Hannah, one of the sergeants, named Emile, fired two shots when the crowd rushed on him. The incident is spoken to by certain sergeants, but it is unsupported by independent witnesses, and the Governor in Council is exceedingly doubtful whether these shots were actually fired, and the statement looks like an invention intended to obscure the incident arising out of the fatal shot at a later stage. Had shots been then fired they must have attracted general attention and Mr. Hannah would almost certainly have been informed of the fact, whereas he received no such report.

The next stage of the occurrence began with the arrival of the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Hannah. As has been said, there was then a lull in the fighting, although the crowd of strikers and others was still in evidence on the west side of the road. He gave the cars permission to move towards Tollyganj. It is the conclusion of the Additional District Magistrate that the Deputy Commissioner should not have allowed the cars to start while the elements of danger still remained, but the issue is rather whether one party should be debarred from carrying on his usual lawful avocations merely because another party present is prepared by unlawful means to endeavour to prevent him from doing so.

With the starting of the cars there was an immediate rush by the crowd, while brickbats were thrown on the drivers, the police and the tramway officials. The attempts of the police to drive off the crowd failed, and eventually, when in danger of being overpowered, the Deputy Commissioner gave the order to fire in the air. This had the effect of compelling the crowd to withdraw to the west side of the crowd, whence they continued to throw brickbats. The Additional District Magistrate has discussed fully the necessity and legality of the firing, and the Governor in Council agrees with his conclusions that the Deputy Commissioner was justified in his action.

In connection with this part of the disturbance it may be noted that the number of men left to deal with this disturbance, when at its height, was very small, and practically restricted to the few European sergeants. The Assistant Commissioner of Police, who had accompanied the Deputy Commissioner to the scene of occurrence, sub-inspector Iswar Singh and several constables had all taken refuge in the depôt, where they remained until the firing was over. For the subordinate members of the force there is this to be said that if they were not ordered to charge they could do little, but it was certainly the duty of the superior officers to have remained in the open.

The most important and the most serious incident in the occurrence was the shooting of a private servant at the Haldarpara Road crossing. Admittedly a man was fatally shot at this place, and the Governor in Council agrees with the Additional District Magistrate that he was shot by a sergeant sitting in front of the motor van when it was being driven off to fetch reinforcements. There is evidence that brickbats were being thrown at the van, but the plea of justification was not put up. The evidence as to the shooting is hopelessly conflicting, and in fact the incident is denied by the sergeants in toto. It is clear to the Governor in Council that the sergeants, evidently with a view to screening one of their number, have failed to tell the truth, and this fact, together with the discrepancies as to identification which have been set out in the report of the Additional District Magistrate, renders it impossible to determine who fired the fatal shot. The evidence has been re-examined with great care by the Governor in Council, in consultation with his legal advisers, but in the face of the definite opinion of the latter, that there is not sufficient evidence to support a criminal charge against any individual, it is impossible to institute proceedings. The Governor in Council regrets that this should be so, and can only unreservedly condemn the attitude of the sergeants concerned. He has given instructions that a full departmental enquiry should be made into their conduct with a view to the infliction of suitable punishment. The question of the compensation of the family of the man who was killed will also be taken up. Departmental proceedings will also be taken against all officers whose conduct has been held above to be worthy of blame, and the results of all such action will in due course be made public.

5. In conclusion, while the Governor in Council greatly regrets that one man lost his life and three persons were injured as a result of this disturbance, and that he is unable to place on his trial the man who fired the fatal shot, it is undeniable that the responsibility for the happenings on the 18th February rested on the employees of the Tramway Company on strike who interfered with the lawful working of the trams.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and forwarded to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division and to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and necessary action which should be reported in due course.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,

to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

DISTURBANCE AT KALIGHAT TRAM DEPOT.

JUDICIAL INQUIRY.

In the forenoon of the 18th February last a disturbance occurred near the Calcutta Tramway Company's depôt at Kalighat. Some European sergeants of the Calcutta Police fired their revolvers for the suppression of the disturbance, and it was found that a man had received gunshot wounds at the fringe of the locality where the disturbance had occurred. The wounded man having succumbed to his injuries very shortly after his removal to Sambhunath Pundit Hospital, I have, in my capacity of Additional District Magistrate of the 24-Parganas, held the present inquiry under section 176 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code, as the locality lies within my jurisdiction.

I.—Scope and method of the inquiry.

2. Place.—The inquiry was commenced within a couple of hours after the occurrence and the court sat throughout the proceedings at the Tramway Company's depôt at Kalighat, where all the witnesses (except witnesses Nos. 10, 11, 161, 163 and 164) were examined and, whenever necessary, witnesses were taken to the spots referred to in their depositions. Witnesses Nos. 10, 11 and 161 were examined at the hospital and the first two of them were subsequently recalled and questioned further in the tram depôt, after their discharge from the hospital. Witnesses Nos. 163 and 164, who are merely formal witnesses, were examined in my court-room before the proceedings were brought to a close.

3. Parties represented.—The Public Prosecutor, Babu Hemendra Nath Mitter, with vakils Babus Ramani Mohan Banerjee and Jatindranath Ray Choudhury, appeared for the Crown. Messrs. S. N. Haldar, J. N. Roy, N. C. Sen and other counsel, instructed by Babu S. B. Das Gupta, pleader, watched the case for the public, and Mr. Haldar was most constant in his attendance. I have much pleasure in recognising the unwearied industry and helpfulness shown by him and by the learned Public Prosecutor and his two capable assistants throughout these proceedings. The Tramway Company was represented for a part of the time by Babu Narendranath Bose, vakil, and by Babu Charu Chandra Bose, mukhtear. Inspector Hem Chandra Lahiri, who remained in charge of the case, and Inspector R. P. Varma, the Court Inspector, have also given material assistance.

4. Witnesses.—164 witnesses have been examined in the case. The witnesses were put forward by or were called at the suggestion of the lawyers representing the different sides mentioned above. The proceedings were brought to a close only after they had put in petitions stating that no other witnesses were available. I then gave them an opportunity to address me on the case. Mr. Haldar and the Public Prosecutor addressed me on the case. But no one came forward to say anything at the close of the proceedings on behalf of the Tramway Company, although I had told Mr. Harcourt, an official who looks after the legal matters of the Company, that I would hear pleaders on the 24th instant.

5. Although, on a strict interpretation of section 176 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code, matters other than those immediately connected with the suspicious death would hardly come under the purview of a judicial inquiry, evidence relating to the origin, progress and successive stages of the disturbance has been offered in order to make the inquiry as complete and comprehensive as possible.

Many of the facts brought out by the evidence relate to matters administrative and therefore they belong more properly to a departmental inquiry. But as evidence about these facts was tendered by the parties and the facts have more or less connection with the circumstances of the death, so instead of limiting my examination of the evidence to the narrow issues, viz., the circumstances that immediately led to the man's death, I would review the occurrence in its entirety and in its different features.

II.—Events preceding the disturbance.

6. The strike and its immediate sequel.—The evidence given by Mr. Stanmore, Assistant Traffic Manager of the Company, and by Mr. N. C. Sen, President, and by Mr. Gyatri Prosad Chaubey, Secretary to the Tramway Employees' Union, has brought out matters that have a significance on the subsequent development of affairs. It appears that, after the declaration of the strike on the 27th January last, the Company's depôts still continued to be the meeting places of the strikers. They used to gather there on the pretext that the Company had not refunded their deposit money nor paid them wages they had earned before they went on strike. The Company had to obtain police help for the dispersion of the men from these places, presumably because the gatherings meant a menace to the Company's property, as the rolling stock is kept in the depôts. Mr. Sen, too, advised the men not to go to these places. Under his direction the Secretary to the Union used to visit the depôts frequently with the object of preventing such gatherings.

7. Interference by strikers.—On the 11th February last the Company tried to run the cars by the agency of its Indian servants of the rank of inspectors. On that day there was a gathering of strikers and others at the Nonapukur depôt, and Mr. Sen had to go to the depôt and speak to the men, so that they might not go beyond the legal bounds. Mr. Stanmore has said that on that day there was a mixed gathering of 300 men consisting of strikers and outsiders and that, by shouting and gesticulating, they tried to induce the inspectors to leave the cars. These efforts were not barren of result as, after running the cars for only one trip, the inspectors refused to run them any more, saying that they were afraid of being assaulted by the strikers, if they continued their work. Although the Nonapukur depôt is close to the Company's workshop and therefore the Company can command other assistance for the protection of its property, yet, as a measure of safety, a police force of 24 constables had to be kept at the depôt throughout the day.

8. Company should have taken precaution.—The Company next attempted to resume the service by employing Anglo-Indians on a salary of Rs. 3 per diem. I gather from Mr. Sen's evidence that even on the day when this system was brought into operation there was a gathering of strikers opposite to the Nonapukur depôt and Mr. Sen had to intervene in order to induce them to disperse. He also saw a large body of police force present on the day in order to maintain peace and order.

The past conduct of the strikers was therefore one of hostility towards any new agency, and there must have been distinct apprehension of its outbreak in an active form. It remains to be seen how far the working of only two sections by the Anglo-Indian agency for one week had allayed these apprehensions.

9 Continuance of apprehension.—Whatever sense of security might have been present in the minds of the Tramway Company, the evidence of the President and Secretary of the Union shows that they at any rate were fully conscious of the dangers of an outbreak of disturbance with which the situation was fraught. They used therefore to call a meeting of strikers every evening at Wellington Square, Calcutta, and at these meetings they earnestly impressed upon the men the necessity for complete abstinence from violence and breach of the peace. It further appears from the evidence of these two Union officials that the Secretary used to pay frequent visits to the Tramway depôts in order to persuade the men not to gather there. When the system of running cars by Anglo-Indians on Rs. 3 per diem was introduced, the President pointed out to the men that the very costliness of this scheme would help the cause of the Indian hands, who were cheap. He therefore counselled patient waiting. Notwithstanding the assent given by the men to these admonitions, the apprehension of a rupture became acute in his mind when on the 17th February he got news that cars would run in the Kalighat section. He therefore proposed to warn them again to be peaceful, as will appear presently.

10. Apprehension even immediately before disturbance.—Although the temporary agency of Anglo-Indians was running the service in only two of the sections for a week without any disturbance, I have it from the depositions of Mr. Sen, the President, and of Mr. Gyatri Prosad Chaubey, the Secretary to the Union, that the men used to meet every evening at Wellington Square to discuss the situation and that at these meetings they were earnestly enjoined to wait patiently and not to break the peace. Even on the day before the disturbance, that is to say, the 17th February last, the Secretary told them at the meeting that the Kalighat cars would run from the next day and, after impressing on them the necessity of peaceful behaviour, he asked them to come next morning at 7 o'clock to Mr. Sen's house in Beltola Road, Bhawanipore—a place within very easy reach of the scene of the disturbance. A very large number (estimated by Mr Sen at 500 and by the Secretary at 2,000) of men came to Mr. Sen's house. The meeting was held. The men began to disperse after 8-30 A.M. and this disturbance took place an hour later at the Kalighat depôt, which is about a mile from the place of the meeting.

11. Conclusion.—It is clear, from the foregoing recapitulation of the incidents prior to the present occurrence, that the strikers were not certainly in a peaceful frame of mind. It was for this reason that the responsible heads of the Union (viz., the President and the Secretary) were repeatedly enjoining the necessity for peace and patience. If the admonition had made any lasting impression, there would be no necessity for calling a fresh meeting to repeat it again to the strikers barely an hour before the present disturbance commenced. The Tramway Company should have taken due note of the situation as disclosed by these events and taken precaution beforehand and sought police help betimes.

III.—Origin of the disturbance.

12. The Tramway men's version.—The version of the employees of the Tramway Company appears from the statement of Mr. Harcourt (witness No. 37), who is the Assistant Claims and Inquiry Officer of the Company and who came with the party of Anglo-Indian drivers and conductors. He also lodged the first information of the offence at Tollyganj police-station, where he went immediately afterwards to obtain police assistance.

The Company decided to run cars in the Kalighat section by Anglo-Indian drivers with effect from the 18th February last. This was decided on the 17th idem and a time-table (Ex. A) was drawn up by Mr. Stanmore (witness No. 51), Assistant Traffic Superintendent. A list (Ex. B) was also prepared of 48 men who were to go from Nonapukur depôt to Tollyganj for purpose of the work. The party started from Nonapukur at 8 A.M. and, when they were coming out, a watering car came ahead of them. There were a few men in this car and the rest of the party were accommodated in the passenger car with its trailer which was coming close behind the watering car. The journey was uneventful till the Kalighat depôt was reached at about 9-15 A.M. The cars pulled up near the tree at the north gate. Mr. Harcourt, who was standing in front of the watering car, saw a crowd of about 70 men on the east as well as the west side of the cars. They appeared to be strikers. Conductor No. 853, accompanied by six men, came in front of the watering car and sternly called upon Mr. Harcourt and his companion to get down immediately as they proposed to begin at once their work of chastisement of the party. The request to get down and be out of the disturbance was apparently made to Mr. Harcourt and his companion in consideration of their position. But, notwithstanding the request, they were not spared. It is alleged that Mr. Harcourt and his two companions were immediately assaulted and a group of 10 excited strikers began to throw stones on the rest of the party who were seated on the other cars. This is the origin of the disturbance according to Mr. Harcourt's version and it is substantially corroborated by the testimony of many of his companions. nions. There are differences in details, but the men were mostly seated in the passenger car in the rear and the solid framework of the watering car obstructed the view of many of the men.

13. Its inaccuracy.—The above occurrence took place at 9-15 A.M. and 15 minutes later Mr. Harcourt lodged information at Tollyganj police-station. The statement he made at the time was immediately recorded in the police diary and an extract from the document has been filed in the case (Ex. C.). I find from this paper that Mr. Harcourt only mentioned that a crowd of strikers had assembled and that they were "likely to commit breach of the peace." This is a much milder version of the case than the one recited above from his deposition.

The correctness of the mild version is materially substantiated by two high officials of the Company, Messrs. Gomery and Pepper (witnesses Nos. 58 and 59), who arrived at the depôt soon after the disturbance had begun. Mr. Gomery is Overhead and Cable Superintendent of the Company. He states in his evidence that, when he spoke to Mr. Harcourt on his arrival at the depôt, that officer complained only of obstruction and insolence of the strikers but not of any assault on himself. Mr. Pepper, who is the Company's Executive Engineer and who arrived in company with Mr. Gomery and took Mr. Harcourt to the police-station, heard from the party of Anglo-Indian drivers specific cases of assault, but in his deposition he did not say that Mr. Harcourt said to him that he had himself been assaulted. Mr. Harcourt occupies a decent position in the Company's service and it is hardly likely that an assault on him would escape Mr. Pepper's attention.

14 Outside evidence.—Though outside evidence available on this part of the case is very meagre, there are two important witnesses, viz., Babu Adharnath Mookerjee (witness No. 13), Manager, Eastern Japan Trading Company, and Mr. Helme (witness No. 67), Chief Surveyor of the Calcutta Improvement Trust. From the evidence of these gentlemen it appears that an angry and insolent body of strikers used threats and show of violence to prevent the Anglo-Indians from going to Tollyganj. Witness No. 13 speaks of one of the Anglo-Indians having kicked one of the strikers. But, in the position in which the parties stood at the time, a kick was impracticable. Witness No. 67 saw a striker raise his stick and hit a blow and, when the blow fell, the witness heard a thump. But he did not see whether the blow really struck the man or hit merely the rim of the front plate of the car. Anyhow, the show of force made by this act was as bad as actual assault and, if the stick missed the intended victim, there was hardly any difference in the outrageous nature of the act. There is also ample evidence that the strikers threw brickbats. Mr. Helme's evidence also leaves no doubt that a considerable number of strikers was present and many of them were in uniform. The sticks they carried in their hands indicate the purpose for which they gathered at the depôt.

15. Responsibility for the origin.—In view of the evidence noticed above, I am convinced that the responsibility for the origin of the disturbance rests entirely on the strikers who were present at the depôt. Witness No. 13 saw that many men came from the northern side. These were perhaps men who came after the meeting in Mr. Sen's house was over or who, after the meeting, were loitering in the neighbourhood in expectation of some stirring opportunity. As shown in my remarks on the preceding events, the men were ripe for disorder and it is clear that the admonitions of the President and Secretary of the Union failed to restrain at least a considerable section of the strikers who created this disorder.

IV.—Development of the disturbance.

16 Nature of evidence.—The evidence bearing on this stage is fragmentary and somewhat confusing as, in the quick succession of events, some of the witnesses failed to observe occurrences in their due sequence or they have failed to narrate them in the order in which they saw them. Again, some of the witnesses came to the scene in different points of time or witnessed occurrences from different points of the locality or centralised their attention on certain localities, so that although, for instance, stone-throwing may have been going on in a part of the disturbed area and scuffle or chasing occurring elsewhere, certain witnesses saw only one or other of these incidents and not all of them. There is superabundance of evidence of stone-throwing between the parties, as that was the most prominent feature of the struggle. But, by joining together different pieces of evidence after testing their correctness by comparison of the statements of different men, it is possible to compile, with some measure of correctness, a narrative of the successive stages of the struggle. I shall attempt it as far as possible in the following remarks.

17. The scuffle.—I have stated in paragraph 12 of my remarks on the origin of the disturbance, that when the cars arrived the strikers threw stones on the Anglo-Indians. This was begun by a group of 10 men who had come near Mr. Harcourt. It would appear from Mr. Harcourt's evidence that this took place on the footpath near the tree at the north gate of the depôt where the cars were standing. Mr. Harcourt passed inside the depôt to send a telephone message to the Company's head office and after that he went to the police-station at Tollyganj to bring help.

When Mr. Harcourt went inside the depôt many Anglo-Indians remained near the tree and many of the strikers too (whose number had been reinforced, as is clear from the evidence) remained within their easy reach. Some of the men of the two sides interchanged stones, but it is perfectly clear that a hand-to-hand scuffle went on at the same time. Of course, different members of the two sides were engaged in these two modes of retaliation. This was the state of "confusion" mentioned in Mr. Helme's evidence. Many of the witnesses have only spoken of stone-throwing and a few of a hand-to-hand fight. The discrepancy does not materially depreciate the value of the evidence, as each man has spoken of the phase of the struggle on which his own attention happened to have been centralised (as a spectator or as a participator) in the midst of the confusion.

There can, however, be no doubt that there was a hand-to-hand struggle between some of the men. Mr. Helme remained at the place for only three minutes after the outbreak. He saw one of the Anglo-Indians down in the field lying east of the tree at the north gate and at a distance of 100 feet and he saw some 40 or 50 men run away in the easterly direction and throw brickbats while retreating. This fallen man was probably Mr. Bampton. There is some evidence that in the struggle he was thrown down at the foot of the tree and badly beaten by the strikers. He showed me also a red mark on his back. The attack mentioned by Mr. Helme may have been a second attack. In any case, on perusal of the statements of witnesses Nos. 77, 78, 87 and 66, there remains no doubt in one's minds that there was a scuffle, in the course of which the Anglo-Indians drove the strikers far into the eastern field. Mr. Chase (witness No. 77) said that men of his party fought with their hands first and drove the men eastwards. Mr. Cramer said that the Anglo-Indians dashed among the strikers and hit them with their fists.

I am mentioning this scuffle as it accentuated the bitterness between the parties and therefore inflamed both sides into a more vindictive mood than mere stone-throwing would have done. It should also be remembered that when the pursuit continued further eastward, stone-throwing was continued. I am particularly referring to this incident, as it afterwards led to grave developments.

18. After-effect of the scuffle.—At the eastern border of the field where the strikers fled there is a bustee called the Shahebbagan. It is tenanted by a turbulent class of Muhammadans A police officer (witness No. 160), who has long experience of the locality, has stated that 400 or 500 able-bodied Muhammadans may be had from the bustee for the purpose of a riot. When the Anglo-Indians running after the strikers threw brickbats after them, it is possible that some of the brickbats fell in the bustee or its immediate neighbourhood. At any rate, there is reliable evidence that the Muhammadans came out in a body and forbade the Anglo-Indians. Their angry remonstrance was not listened to. The Anglo-Indians armed themselves with bamboos and chased people both in the east side as well as in the west side of the road. The Muhammadans standing in the eastern field must have been attacked by them in these sallies. It is therefore, very probable that they joined with the strikers for the retaliation of the Anglo-Indians. So a very mischievous element was introduced into the situation owing to the conduct of the Anglo-Indians.

19. Injudicious proceedings.—The remarks made in the preceding paragraph have shown how the conduct of the Anglo-Indians led the fighting Muhammadans to join the ranks of the strikers for the common object of retaliation. The conduct of these young men set many other people too against them. Mr. Helme has stated in his evidence that the people who were standing on the west side of the road were of the higher classes and inoffensive. This gentleman had so much confidence in their harmlessness that, when the disturbance had begun, he left his little daughter near these Indians and came to help the Anglo-Indian young man who had been injured (vide paragraph 17). There is a considerable volume of evidence, both from outside witnesses as well as some of the Anglo-Indian, that the Anglo-Indians threw brickbats without discrimination, that after arming themselves with fairly large pieces of bamboo which they took from a scaffolding in the depôt, they rushed at strikers and non-strikers alike. Witness No. 20 was passing by the Russa Road. He was chased and had to fly away. Another man (witness No. 14) was seized and kept confined in the depôt, though he was only a motor car driver and had no concern with strikers. His employer (witness No. 34) came and asked for his servant's release, but he was insulted. When, after his arrival, Mr. N. C. Sen was moving among the crowd to pacify them, he was informed as follows:—"The Eurasian boys were insulting passers-by, that people walking along the road by the side of the tram lines were told to walk over the rough surface where the road was being built and not to come near the tram cars, that people who insisted on going along the road were hustled and assaulted." The Russa Road is a very important road and the above proceedings must have irritated many persons who have occasion to use the road.

20. Serious alteration of the situation.—The Company sent the Anglo-Indians on a peaceful journey and to serve the public. By their conduct they gave the trip the character of a punitive expedition for the chastisement not only of the strikers, but of the people using the Russa Road and of those who were standing by and had not molested them. By their own conduct they brought the turbulent Muhammadans into the case. There was a chance of the matter ending when the strikers fled eastwards, shortly after the disturbance began But by their sallies and stone-throwing the Anglo-Indians kept on the irritation and brought in other people into the case. The Company did not send with the party any official to guide these raw young men in emergencies, although recent experience of the strikers at Nonapukur pointed to the possibility of trouble. Two high officials of the Tramway Company were then at the depôt (except for the few minutes when Mr. Pepper went to the police-station to bring police help), but they did not restrain the Anglo-Indians. I questioned these officers why they did not ask the Anglo-Indians to wait inside the depôt till help came from the police and to abstain from stone-throwing. I gathered from their answers that they did not interfere, as the men did not belong to their departments and they were not sure of their amenability to discipline. The idea also did not occur to Mr. Pepper at first. This was a matter where the routine of departmentalism should have yielded to the duties of citizenship. I think that, if these high officers of the Company had made an earnest effort to keep these young men from further mischief, these efforts would have restrained some of the men at least.

In brief, the disturbance began as a squabble between two sections of the Company's servants. But it now became quite a racial contest between the Indians and the Anglo-Indians. This was undoubtedly a serious alteration.

21. Responsibility.—The responsibility for this phase of development must rest on the Anglo-Indians

V.—Further development of the disturbance.

22. Different stages.—The disturbance began immediately after the arrival of the cars at 9-15 in the morning. Mr. Harcourt went to the police-station, where he arrived at 9-30. Sub-Inspector Issur Singh, the officer in charge of the police-station, arrived at the scene of occurrence shortly before 10 o'clock, but he left immediately and returned nearly after an hour, with the Deputy Commissioner. Six European sergants too arrived about the same time as the Sub-Inspector. Some police constables also arrived. Mr. Hannah, Deputy Commissioner of Police, with Assistant Commissioner, arrived shortly before 11 o'clock. Two more sergeants and some constables also came about the same time. When Mr. Hannah arrived no brickbats were falling, but the crowd was standing. A little time, approximately 10 or 15 minutes after his arrival, the Deputy Commissioner permitted the tram cars to go to Tollyganj. As soon as the cars moved there was a tremendous fall of brickbats and the crowd, rushed towards the tram cars. The Anglo-Indians left the cars and fled into or near the depôt. Some efforts were made to keep back the rush of the crowd, and, it is stated that when these efforts failed and the crowd was about to overwhelm the police force and the Anglo-Indians, Mr. Hannah ordered the sergeants to fire. He also sent the prison van to bring armed police. The allegation is that when the van was proceeding and had come near Haldarpara junction, which lies at the fringe of the disturbed area, one of the sergeants fired a shot from the van, which proved fatal. It was not necessary to make use of the armed police force, as the firing already made had its effect and the pacific efforts made by the police officers and others, after the firing, were helpful in dispersing the crowd. I shall consider—(1) the occurrences previous to the crisis, (2) the crisis itself when firing had to be resorted to, and (3) the matters connected with the death of the man. In course of my review of these matters I shall make my observations on the responsibility of the parties concerned.

23. Further irritation.—In my remarks on the development of the disturbance I have said that the Muhammadans and many passers-by and members of the general public who had remained neutral were drawn into the conflict with the Anglo-Indians. The events narrated in those remarks occurred from 9-15 to about 10 o'clock, till the Sub-Inspector in charge of the Tollyganj thana and six European sergeants arrived at the scene. Before their arrival the contest was going on near about the north gate and the crowd was collected on the field both on the east as well as the west side of the tree at the gate.

From 10 to the time of the Deputy Commissioner's arrival shortly before 11 o'clock, the disturbance went on in spite of the presence of the police force. Only the eastern field near the gate was vacated, apparently because the Muhammadans thought that a fight with brickbats was inadvisable so near their houses at the border of the field. The exclusion of this field at this stage of the contest confirms my impression that the Muhammadans took part in the proceedings at this stage.

Although police had arrived, they failed to question either the Anglo-Indians or the Indians. There is evidence, from the sergeants as well as from many of the Anglo-Indians, that the sergeants told the Anglo-Indians to abstain from brick-throwing. They stopped only for a few minutes but again resumed. It may be that they did so because bricks came from the opposite party. The new building in the depôt would have given the Anglo-Indians perfect safety, but it did not occur to anybody to insist upon their going there. The officer in charge of the police-station at Tollyganj could have used compulsion under section 128, C.P.C., but he was not present. He came shortly before 10 o'clock and went away.

The outstanding feature of this stage is that the irritation which had commenced at the earlier stage increased. Larger bodies of men gathered. There were repeated sallies and brickbat-throwing between the opposing parties, and, as the Indians saw that the Anglo-Indians were running with or behind the police (when the sergeants and constables ran towards them) they thought that the Anglo-Indians were acting under police protection This impression only increased the bitterness of the Indians.

24. Reason for the ineffectiveness of police action.—The ineffectiveness of police action at this stage was, in my opinion, due to two causes, viz.:—(i) the absence of a leader and (ii) the meddlesome interference of the Anglo-Indians with the action of the police and their disobedience of the police orders

(i) ABSENCE OF A LEADER.—Although 6 sergeants and 12 constables were on the spot, there is no evidence of concerted action among them. Sergeant Emile fired two shots when the crowd rushed on him, but his senior sergeant Anker has said in his evidence (when recalled), that he was not informed at all, much less asked for permission. Another sergeant (Chilstone recalled) has told the court that until Mr. Hannah's arrival, he was not under sergeant Anker's order, but he was free to act as he thought best. Turning to a later stage, I find from this sergeant's admission that at the time of crisis he took away two sergeants from the spot without Mr. Hannah's order. He said he had Mr Hannah's order for taking away the men But Mr. Hannah said that he did not give any order on this point, and that he only asked Chilstone to go. There is also evidence that at the critical stage sergeants (according to their own statements) left their posts (or, if their statements be true, even deserted Mr. Hannah) without orders Although I have discarded this story of wholesale desertion as a concoction to save the man who fired the fatal shot, still there is no doubt that at least two sergeants (Emile and Stirling) left the place without Mr. Hannah's order. This, taken with Emile's firing without the order of sergeant Anker and suppressing the fact from his knowledge, and, Chilstone's presumption of independence, shows that there was no discipline among these men when they were left at the place without a leader. When there is no discipline among the force in such situation, ineffectiveness is bound to follow The same remark in its essence holds good with regard to the Indian staff, who too had no leaders beyond the head constables. I do not think that either the constables or the sergeants sided themselves with either of the contending parties, but if Sub-Inspector Issur Singh remained at the scene he could have been of great use

(ii) MEDDLESOMENESS.—In spite of the absence of a leader, the desultory efforts of the police would not have been so ineffectual if the Anglo-Indians had not produced counter-irritation by throwing stones and rushing towards the crowd when the police were trying to pacify or disperse them.

25. Responsibility of the Tramway Company.—I must say that a considerable measure of indirect responsibility for the occurrence must rest upon the Executive of the Calcutta Tramway Company Only a week before the occurrence they saw that the strikers attempted to create a disturbance. News of the daily meetings and of the speeches and happenings in those meetings must have reached the ears of the management of the Company. The loitering at the depôts, the inquiry which the Secretary made from the Company's officials at the Esplanade on the 17th February and above all, the calling of a meeting of the men for the very morning of the occurrence, are all elements that should have had a vital significance to the local Manager of the Company, and they should have demonstrated to him the necessity for taking measures so that no outbreak might occur through any faults on the part of the Company's own servants.

But the Company took no precautions against the emergency. They sent a large body of able-bodied young men who had nothing but Rs. 3 to lose for misbehaviour. No one was sent to control them in case of opposition from strikers and, I have it from the evidence of the Company's officials, even no special instructions were issued to them as to how they should behave in case of a collision with the strikers. The disturbance occurred simply because after the first flight of the strikers these young men ran about assaulting the passers-by and others. This would not have occurred if the Company had sent a responsible officer in charge of the party Two of the high officials of the Company happened to be on the spot. But they did nothing.

Previous occurrences had shown the contingency of a breach of the peace. For this reason the Company should also have sent sufficiently previous intimation to the Police headquarters that the cars would run in the Kalighat section from the 18th February. If this were done, a sufficient number of policemen could be posted beforehand at the depôt, which was a well-known meeting-place of the strikers, and the disturbance could be prevented.

The Crisis.

26. The starting of the cars and its result.—Mr. Hannah, the Deputy Commissioner, accompanied by the Assistant Commissioner, Rai Saheb K B Mookerjee and Issur Singh the Sub-Inspector of Tollyganj, arrived shortly before 11 o'clock. There was then a lull in stone-throwing. But the crowd was in possession of the field. Mr. Hannah made no inquiries as to the cause of the quarrel nor moved among the crowd to find out what mood they were in, but as the tramway men wanted the cars to be taken to Tollyganj he gave permission for the cars to start. As soon as the cars moved there was a tremendous outburst of brickbat-throwing and the crowd began to rush forward. The Anglo-Indians left the cars. Many of them fled inside the depot, but some remained near the yard. Repeated attempts were made by the police to stem back the advancing rush, but these attempts were not successful and, finally, when Mr. Hannah found that the police force and the Anglo-Indians were about to be overwhelmed and the lives of these men and the property of the Tramway Company were in danger, he gave the sergeants order to fire.

The attempt to run the cars before dispersing the crowd was a mistake. In his deposition Mr. Hannah has explained that he was not aware of the state of irritation which existed at the time. The version of the case given him by the Sub-Inspector did not show that the situation was really so serious. Nevertheless, as a very large crowd remained facing the depôt, it was certainly the duty of the Deputy Commissioner to have made careful inquiries as to the cause of the quarrel, and, by moving among the crowd, he should have ascertained the state of their feeling and the possibility of trouble. Without doing this or assuring himself of the security of the position he should not have started the cars. In fact the very presence of the big crowd was a menacing element in the situation and the Deputy Commissioner should have given his first attention to its dispersion. It is unfortunate that Mr. Hannah made no inquiries himself, consulted nobody who could be of use to him, and acted merely on his belief that the crowd would do no serious mischief If this belief had been based on any inquiry made by him after his arrival one might understand it. I have no doubt that he acted upon his honest conviction. But it was none the less his duty to have made inquiries to ascertain the real nature of the situation and not to have started the cars till all elements of danger were removed.

27. The order to fire.—After giving my best consideration to the evidence available, I am convinced that the firing order was not given a moment too soon. Mr. Hannah's omission to make previous inquiries, as noticed in the last paragraph, does not affect his obligation to take measure for safety when the emergency arose Nor does it affect his legal liability. The crowd was infuriated and the efforts to arrest, its advance failed. There was no possibility of retreat without abandoning to disaster the people who had taken shelter in the depôt. Sergeant Emile having fired two shots before Mr. Hannah's arrival and the men having seen revolvers with the sergeants they knew very well that firing might come about in the extreme stage. When the crowd had all but overcome the small party, against whom they rushed, they should be presumed to have apprehended that the extreme stage was at hand. Having persisted, as they actually did, in still pushing forward with what seems to be a murderous intention, they compelled Mr. Hannah to take the extreme measure in order to avert a much more serious disaster than actually occurred in consequence of the firing. It has been found that only three men have been injured by the firing If this step had not been taken the disaster to the other side would have been much more serious. No other alternative was open, as a retreat would have meant the abandonment of the fugitives and the property of the Company to the fury of the mob. Nor was there any shelter at hand, because the protection afforded by the depôt (though it might have been useful to the Anglo-Indians at the earlier stage when the crowd was smaller and their fury had not been raised to the highest pitch) would have been of little avail against this tremendous crowd. The position became so serious that Mr. Hannah was deserted by many of his Indian subordinates, and although the European sergeants stood by him at the moment of firing, yet some of them even deserted him immediately afterwards. The imminence of the danger and the elements of the situation, therefore, made firing a matter of inevitable necessity.

28. Legal aspects of the firing order.—I now proceed to consider the legal aspects of the order in the light of the circumstances of this case. The law on the subject is to be found in sections 127 and 128 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Section 127 gives authority to—(i) any Magistrate, or (ii) officer in charge of a police-station to command—((i) any unlawful assembly, or (ii) any assembly of five or more persons likely to cause a disturbance of the public peace to disperse and, upon such authority being used, it shall be duty of the members of such assembly to disperse. Section 128 then lays down that—(i) if, upon being so commanded, any such assembly does not disperse, or (ii) if, without being so commanded, it conducts itself in such a manner as to show a determination not to disperse—(i) any Magistrate, or (ii) any officer in charge of a police-station may proceed to disperse such assembly by force and, for that purpose as also for the purpose of arresting and confining the persons who form part of it, may requisition certain other persons specified in the section It will, therefore, have to be seen firstly as to whether Mr. Hannah was authorised to use the powers vested by sections 127 and 128, and secondly if he exercised those powers as required by the law.

With regard to the first question, there is no doubt that Mr. Hannah is vested with magisterial powers, and moreover being a Deputy Commissioner of Police, under section 551, C.P.C., he had all the powers exercised by an officer in charge of a police-station (vide I. L R., 7 Bom 42).

With regard to the second question, it will have to be seen firstly, as to whether there had been an unlawful assembly or an assembly of five or more persons likely to cause a disturbance of the public peace. There can be no question that the assembly in question in the present case was an unlawful assembly or became one when they started throwing brickbats. In any case, it was an assembly of five or more persons likely to cause a disturbance of the public peace, as contemplated in section 127. C.P.C. It was, therefore, within the powers of Mr Hannah as also of Issur Singh, the officer in charge of the Tollyganj thana, to command the assembly to disperse. This appears to have been done by signs, as it was not possible for any person to proclaim it by voice to a crowd of 2,000 persons extending along such a large area as the crowd in the present instance occupied. In any event there can be no question that the crowd so conducted itself as to show a determination not to disperse, within the meaning of section 128, C.P.C. The necessary conditions being there, the police was justified in proceeding to disperse the assembly by force.

The next point to be considered is, what amount of force the Magistrate or officer in charge of a police-station can use for the purpose of dispersing the assembly. The section does not lay down any hard-and-fast rule on the point. But it is obvious from the wording of the section that the force used must be such as is necessary for the purpose of dispersing the crowd. And it is a question of fact in each case as to what amount of force is necessary in any particular case for this purpose, at any particular point of time.

Now, in measuring with the aid of subsequent evidence the exact necessities of the case as they existed at the time when Mr. Hannah ordered the firing, it seems perfectly clear that the police then were in a position of great embarrassment The crowd had swelled to over 2,000, the total number of policemen, including officers present, amounted only to 49—a number so small as to render it difficult for them to defend themselves and the Tramway depôt premises and the men inside the same The crowd for some time had been familiarized with their presence and had grown defiant. The appeals by the constables, head constables and Sub-Inspectors to the crowd had proved infructuous. Charges had been made, but without avail. Some of the men, including the Assistant Commissioner, the officer in charge of Tollyganj and constables had rushed inside the depôt and shut themselves up and the very small number of men, assisted by some of the Anglo-Indian boys, were keeping at bay a mob, some of whom were armed with sticks and sending forth volleys of missiles. They advanced very near the gate of the Tramway depôt and were pressing closer and closer. To prevent the depôt being overrun and themselves surrounded, it was essential for them to remain as close as possible to the western gate, otherwise the rioters could have been able to enter in force To withdraw from their position was to abandon the depôt and the men inside to violence and mischief. To hold the position was not possible, except at the risk of the men being seriously hurt. Assaulted by numbers on all sides, I think that in the events which had happened Mr. Hannah had no alternative left but to order firing In the circumstances of the case, I am of opinion that he did not use more force than was absolutely necessary I therefore think that his action was quite lawful

VII.—The fatal shot.

29 Place and circumstances of the shooting.—Immediately after the firing by the sergeants at Kalighat depôt, Mr. Hannah ordered sergeant Chilstone to go to Alipore with the prison-van and to bring armed police. Immediately after the van had passed the junction of the Haldarpara Road with Russa Road (where a tree stands), a man was found rolling at a short distance from the tree. He was found also to have been injured by gunshot. A bullet also was picked up near the place where the man lay. He died immediately after his removal to hospital. A large number of witnesses have come forward and said that one of the sergeants sitting in front of the van fired the shot and many of them saw the man to be injured. Two of the witnesses (Nos. 22 and 23) have said that the shot was fired when the van had passed a little to the north of the tree and others say that the firing occurred when the van was a little to the south or had come just opposite to the tree There is also some discrepancy as to the exact spot where the man was standing when he was struck. This discrepancy is about a few feet of space. I have travelled in the van and observed that it takes only 10 seconds to move from the spot in the south to the spot in the north of the tree pointed out by the different witnesses Allowance must be made for confusion in observing the exact situation of a moving object at a time of disturbance I consider the discrepancies immaterial. Taking this evidence along with the medical evidence and the very material fact that two singeing marks existed in the cloth of the deceased, I think that it has been established that the man was killed by a shot fired at close quarters by one of the sergeants sitting at the front of the van, when the van was passing the junction of the Haldarpara Road with Russa Road.

30. Identification of the sergeant.—Considerable difficulty is experienced on this point. Sergeant Naylor was driver of the van. About him there is no dispute, The evidence from the sergeants is that, in addition to the driver, sergeants Emile, Chilstone and Vanzeebrouck sat in front of the van. Sergeants Anker, Rigby, Wadey and Wilson say that they also went to Alipore and remained inside the van. This, if believed, would only leave sergeant Stirling to account for, Stirling's statement is that he remained in the Kalighat depôt with Mr. Hannah. In brief, if what these sergeants say is correct, it would seem that all the sergeants, except Stirling, went away from the depôt, leaving only one sergeant, with Mr. Hannah before the crisis was over. It is incredible that so many of these men deserted Mr. Hannah when the danger remained yet serious. What then could be the object of this story? Just after the disturbance, Mr. Hannah pointed out a pool of blood near Haldarpara junction, and inquired of the sergeants, who had fired. There is evidence that, at the time, some of the people were saying that sergeant No. 23 (i.e., sergeant Stirling) had fired. Sergeant Wadey, when recalled, said that, on hearing this, some of the sergeants told sergeant Stirling in joke that he would be put on his trial. It may be that in consequence of the report current about No. 23, the sergeants have combined and got up the story that all of them, except Stirling, went away. The falsehood of this story of the sergeants, as also of Stirling's own version that he remained with Mr. Hannah, is apparent from (Ex. J.). This is the paper on which, on return of the van from Alipore to Hazra junction, Inspector Mellings called up the sergeants who were in the van and made notes of how many rounds they had fired. Stirling's name is in the paper. It is therefore clear that he was in the van and that his story that he remained with Mr. Hannah is false. Sergeant Anker's name is not in this paper, and therefore his story that he went inside the van with three other sergeants is also false. This paper (Ex. J.) contains four names and shows that Chilstone and Stirling fired six rounds each, Emile fired eight rounds and Naylor three rounds. It therefore follows that one of these four men (who sat in front of the van) must have fired. Now the point is, who can that man be? There is no question about Naylor, as he was driving the car and no one has implicated him. Chilstone may also be eliminated, as no one has identified him either.

So there remain only two sergeants; viz., Stirling and Emile. Witness No. 22 identified Stirling. Witness No. 23 first pointed out sergeants Stirling and Vanzeebrouck and said that one of them fired. He then said that he obtained only a side view of the sergeant's face and wanted to take such a view. He went behind the line and, after examining the sergeants, pointed out sergeant Stirling. The identification by these two witnesses was made on the 20th February last. Witness No. 110, who in his deposition did not say that he saw any sergeant to fire, but only said that he saw a sergeant look round, was also called up to identify the sergeant. He first pointed out sergeants Stirling and Vanzeebrouck, and then said that the sergeant who looked out was more like Stirling.

The net result of the identification is this. Only one witness, viz., witness No. 22, has clearly identified Stirling. I do not attach much value on the identification of witness No. 23, as he pointed out two men at first, and it is hard to understand how looking from behind can be helpful in identification. Besides, this witness was not near the place but saw from his room, which is at some distance, and that even through the bars of a window Correct view of persons sitting on a moving car can hardly be had by an elderly man (as the witness is) under such conditions.

So there remains only the identification by witness No. 22. Against this I must consider the statement made by Assistant Commissioner, Mr Mukerji. On the afternoon of the day of shooting, sergeant Emile, in the presence of some other sergeants, confessed to have fired the shot himself. He does not stick to his statement now. But if it was baseless, why should he make this confession at a time when none was implicated? Learned counsel, who was watching the case for the public and who addressed me on the case, remarked that Emile made the above statement from mere bravado. I cannot dismiss it so lightly, particularly because some of the witnesses have also deposed that two shots were fired when the van was at the spot. When shots are fired in quick succession it is hard to distinguish the effect of each shot. If we assume that the witnesses who have spoken about two shots are correct in their statement, the identification of witness No. 22 would not make out a case against Stirling.

In any case the confession of Emile weakens the force of the identification of witness No. 22. This identification by itself would not appear to be particularly strong, if we bear in mind that the witness made his observation in the midst of the turmoil and excitement prevailing around, and, that, as the van was then in motion, he could at the best have obtained only a flitting glimpse of the sergeant's face. Having this fact in view, and considering at the same time the admission of sergeant Emile and the evidence that two shots were fired, and the possibilities involved in this evidence, the uncertainty of the identification is greatly intensified. I therefore find it impossible to come to any definite finding as to who was responsible for the fatal shot, and, therefore, I abstain from recommending the putting of any of the sergeants on his trial upon this charge.

VIII.—Conclusion.

31. Summary.—To sum up. My conclusions are as follows:-

(a) The incidents prior to the occurrence gave good reasons for apprehension, and the Tramway Company should have taken precaution beforehand (paragraphs 8, 11).

(b) The responsibility for the origin of the disturbance rests entirely with the strikers (paragraph 15).

(c) On account of their high-handed proceedings, in the course of which they attacked the Muhammadans and the outsiders, the Anglo-Indian drivers and conductors are responsible for the development of the disturbance (paragraph 21).

(d) Further development of the disturbance was due to the ineffectiveness of police action, owing to the absence of a leader. If Sub-Inspector Issur Singh, had not left the place he would have been of great use. The interference of the Anglo-Indians also increased irritation and impeded the work of the police (paragraph 24).

(e) The Tramway Company is indirectly responsible, as it did not send any officer to keep the temporary hands under control and as the Company did not inform the police headquarters beforehand that service would be opened in the Kalighat section (paragraph 25).

(f) Mr. Hannah should have made proper inquiries on his arrival at the scene, and he should not have allowed the cars to start when the crowd remained in possession of the field (paragraph 26).

(g) The firing became absolutely necessary in the emergency which arose (paragraph 27).

(h) The firing was lawful in the circumstances of the situation (paragraph 28).

(i) The fatal shot was fired by one of the sergeants sitting in front of the prison-van when the van was passing the Haldarpara junction (paragraph 29).

(j) The identification is not satisfactory, and therefore no recommendation is made for putting any of the sergeants on his trial (paragraph 30).

The Reports for the years 1919 and 1918 and the resolutions of Government recorded thereon.

ALTHOUGH there was some decrease in the number of prisoners in the year 1920, the average daily excess of population over accommodation was more than 1,700. The prevention of overcrowding is the most difficult problem to be faced in the administration of jails in Bengal, and the conclusions set forth in the Report of the Indian Jails Committee show that the problem is not likely to be solved without much expenditure. Special jails for habitual offenders, the division of other convicts into two classes with separate accommodation, a new reformatory school for Bengal and Assam, special institutions for adolescent offenders in addition to juvenile jails, and the abolition of the penal settlement in the Andamans, are all proposals which cannot be carried out without new buildings and increased staff. The cost of all these reforms has not yet been estimated, but it may be noted that the last item alone would involve an expenditure of over Rs. 22,00,000 on building a new jail.

2. It may on the other hand be hoped that some of the recommendations of the Committee, such as the extension of the probation system and the prohibition of petty sentences of imprisonment, will reduce the number of some classes of prisoners. The Inspector-General in his report has drawn attention to the fact that no less than 8,826 convicts were sentenced to imprisonment for less than one month. He has stigmatized this as a blot on the administration of the law, and has also commented strongly on the fact that as many as 300 boys and 10 girls under 16 years of age were sent to jail. The Governor in Council agrees with the principle of these criticisms and hopes that, although under the present law the probation system recommended by the Committee cannot be fully applied, more use will be made by Magistrates of section 562 of the Criminal Procedure Code in the spirit of the recommendations of the Committee, especially in the case of juvenile offenders.

3. The lack of religious and moral teaching in most of the jails in Bengal is a matter to which attention is drawn in the report under review. The policy of Government in the past has been to rely on voluntary workers in preference to paid professional teachers, but there are at present only 5 Muhammadan and two Hindu voluntary teachers for about 15,000 prisoners. An endeavour has recently been made to secure more help of this kind, but the question is one which will have to be further examined in the light of the Committee's recommendations.

4. The Calcutta Prisoners' Aid Society besides helping adult prisoners on their leaving jail is reported to have rendered very material assistance in finding employment for homeless boys on the r release from the juvenile jail. The "Refuge" also gave shelter to several boys who for various causes were not eligible for assistance by the Prisoners' Aid Society. His Excellency in Council takes this opportunity of acknowledging the good work done by these societies and hopes that similar societies will be formed for jails in other parts of Bengal.

5. The fact that in 1920 no less than 104 warders resigned out of a total strength of 1,358, supports the view of the Indian Jails Committee that the conditions of the service should be improved. A substantial increment of pay was granted to the warders in October 1920, but the Inspector-General reports that the men are still dissatisfied. His proposal that they should be given pay equal to that of police constables, as well as the proposals made by the Committee regarding other establishment, are now under consideration.

6. Whilst much remains to be done to bring the administration of jails in Bengal up to the standard set by the Committee's report, there is no reason to be dissatisfied with the progress which has been made in the past. The thanks of Government are due to Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson for his efficient control of the Jails Department. His Excellency in Council has also read with pleasure the list of officers whose good work has been commended by the Inspector-General.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Prisons, Bengal, for information.

Ordered that a copy of this resolution and a copy of the report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered also that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

W. S. HOPKYNS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR MAY 1921.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review the rainfall throughout the Province was defective except in Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling and Cooch-Behar, where the fall was much in excess of the normal. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Harvesting of summer rice was finished. Sowings of jute and autumn paddy were completed in East and Northern Bengal, while in West Bengal the operation was retarded for want of sufficient rain. Weeding continued in the Northern and Eastern districts. Sowings of winter paddy seedlings have commenced. Preparatory tillage for winter paddy was proceeding, but more rain was needed for the operation especially on high lands.

III. State of standing crops.—The condition of sugarcane, deep-water paddy and other standing crops was reported to be fair in East and North Bengal, whereas in West Bengal the state of standing crops was not favourable.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects, on the whole, are at present fairly favourable though more rain is urgently needed especially in West Bengal. The summer rice crop yielded a good harvest.

V. Damage to standing crops.—During the second half of the month excessive rainfall caused a considerable amount of damage to the low land crops in parts of North Bengal.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of live-stock was, on the whole, fair. Sporadic cases of cattle-disease were, however, reported from 12 districts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Scarcity of fodder and water was reported from parts of the Burdwan Division.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second half of the month the price of common rice of the cheapest quality fell in six districts, rose in nine and remained stationary in the rest of the Province. It ranged from 5 seers per rupee at Rangpur to 8 seers at Khulna.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of the agricultural population was fair.

G. EVANS,
Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 15th June 1921.

Summary.—During the week rainfall was general throughout the province. The fall was heavy in parts of North Bengal and generally light to moderate elsewhere. Preparatory tillage for winter paddy is progressing favourably. Transplantation has commenced in low lands of North and East Bengal. The rise of river level in certain tracts of North and East Bengal is causing damage to the standing crops; prospects otherwise are generally reported to be fair. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·10 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.
